So Asserts James Eymon the Attorney.

Mayor Seiter will Rule on the Question to Dismiss Fetter—Kalkbrenner's Case will be Appealed to the Common Pleas Court.

Herman Kalkbrenner, proprietor of the hotel Nordica of west Center street was fined $200 and costs by Mayor J. G. Seiter, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The court pronounced him guilty of violating the Rose option law and sentenced was immediately announced.

A motion by the defendant's attorney for a new trial, was overruled. Execution of sentence was ordered, pending the filing of exceptions in the common pleas court. The defendant furnished a bond of $200 for his appearance in the higher court.

Attorney James Eymon, who has been one of the leading attorneys in the prosecution of local bootleggers, demonstrated Monday morning that he is just as strong when placed on the other side of the fence.

Attorney Eymon defended William P. Fetter in mayor's court Saturday. Fetter was charged with violating the temperance laws, in an affidavit filed by Detective Edward Rist. The trial passed without any special features, the defendant placing no witnesses on the stand.

A WOMAN'S BUSY MINUTE.

Only a Glimpse of Another Woman, but That Was Enough.

"WILL you please tell us how the lady was dressed?" said the attorney for the defense to a woman who was testifying in a police court proceeding.

"Well, of course I didn't see her for longer than a minute as she got up and walked out of the street car we were both riding in, but she had on a wide gray fur hat turned up at one side and fastened with a rhinestone buckle, and she had a long white feather and a gray bird's wing on the hat and a narrow band of gold galloon around it and two large scarlet red velvet roses, and she had the hat fastened on with three hatpins, one of them with a red glass stone set around with California brilliants, and another was in the shape of a four leafed clover, and the third was a big gilt ball, and the hat drooped away over on the right side, and she had a black veil with white dots on it, and it was fastened with a gold arrow run through a rhinestone buckle at the back of the hat. Then she had on a tailored suit of mauve cloth, with the jacket and front width of the dress all braided in silk braid the same shade of the dress, and the other widths of the dress had three bias folds laid on one right above the other and the six buttons covered with goods like the dress, and the jacket had a bias fold all around it and three buttons down the front and four on the pockets, and it had a wide rolling collar lined with satin a shade or two lighter than the dress, and there was a narrow silk cord of white silk edging the collar and coming all down the front of the jacket, which was a little more than half fitting, and it suggested just a trifle on the left side and—
