COURT NEWS

Attorney Fred L. Carhart has filed in common pleas court a petition for William E. Frye against Charles E. Sawyer. The petition recites that the case came into the common pleas court from the court of Justice C. E. Gompf that there is due the plaintiff the sum of $155.49 for labor performed and material furnished on a house belonging to the defendant and judgment for that amount with interest from August 29, 1906 is asked.

The case grew out of a fire which destroyed the house being built by Dr. Sawyer upon his farm, southwest of the city, before it was completed. Mr. Frye was doing plumbing work in the house at the time of the fire and it is claimed by the defendant that negligence upon the part of the employee was responsible for his loss. In Justice Gompf's court judgment was taken by default and an appeal was taken to the common pleas court. In his petition Carhart asks for damages because the fire caused by the negligence of an employee of Mr. Frye.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Miss Helena Mouser's attractively appointed dinner last evening at the Grant E. Mouser home, east Church street, complimented Miss Evangeline Jenkins, of Nobleville, Indiana, the house guest of Miss Francis Frye, and Miss Helen Jones, of Washington Court House, Miss Ruth McKinniss' house guest.

The table held a central cluster of rainbow shaded sweet peas in a crystal bowl, from which vinery trailed to the little Dolly Varden nosegays of sweet peas placed as favors and later fastened becomingly on the dainty summer frocks. The after-dinner hour was happily conversational.

Later the guests were driven to the Huber hall where an informal dancing party carried the pleasure past the midnight hour.

Covers at dinner were placed for seven. Mrs. J. G. Curren, of Jefferson street, was a delightful hostess of Thursday evening, her guests being members of the L. S. C. club.

Members mingled socially for a half hour after assembling. An original and highly entertaining contest was then inaugurated by Mrs. Curren, the first award, a handsome burnt pottery stein, going to Mrs. J. E. Thomas.

Miss Adelaide Held captured the guest prize, a miniature burnt pottery jardener. At 9 o'clock there was an invasion of the dining-room where a tempting buffet luncheon was spread.

The table adornment was a combination of clusters of vivid nasturtiums and ropes of leafy cinnamon vine.

Those who enjoyed the gracious hospitality aside from club members were Mrs. Roy Owens, of Los Angeles, California; Miss Clara Schuerle, of Toledo; Miss Adelaide Held, of Kenton, and Miss Eliza Thomas.

Mrs. Frank McMill, of David street, will entertain at the next meeting.

The Literature club was happily entertained by Miss Ethel Klingel, of Blaine avenue, last evening.

The organization is composed of a number of interesting young girls who have put aside the real purpose of their assembling, implied in their club name, to enjoy the lure of the summer vacation months. There was a brief business session Thursday at which arrangements were completed for the club picnic to be held in two weeks.

Various social pastimes including games and music occupied the attention until lunch time when dainty refreshments were served from a table beautified with a spray of crimson roses and their foliage. After the spread there was an exciting contest in which Miss Hazel Gompf captured the club prize, a hand-decorated plate, and the guest trophy, of pretty water-color picture, went to Miss Leah Ruth.

turned to her home today after an extended visit at the F. D. McKinniss home, east Center street. Miss Jones was complimented with a number of informal affairs during her Marion stay.

Routine business was transacted at the meeting of the L. C. B. A. held with Mrs. W. T. Moloney, of north Prospect street, last evening. After the business session an hour of sociability was enjoyed and dainty light refreshments were served.

There was an excellent attendance. Mr. Dayton Beckett, a young man of this city, claimed as his bride Wednesday Miss Lerma Chester, of Spring Hill, O. The ceremony was celebrated at the Presbyterian parsonage in Urbana and was characterized by impressive simplicity. Mr. and Mrs. Beckett will make their future home in Marion.

A merry hay rack party left the city 8 o'clock last evening for the Conley home near Meeker, to be the guests of Miss Mildred Conley.

What at first promised to be a serious accident developed into a part of the fun that characterizes an affair of this sort. A wheel separated from the wagon when the occupants at 8 o'clock last night for the Conley home. The scrambled off the rack just in time to miss a dire behind two thorough frightened horses. The remainder of the trip to the Conley home was accomplished on foot and the horses were stopped just beyond the house.

All sorts of jollity, including music and dancing, featured the hours. An elaborate picnic spread was enjoyed at the midnight hour and the party returned by the light of the crescent moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt H. Gunder entertained with a family dinner at their Columbia street home last evening for Mr. Gunder's brother, Mr. T. B. Gunder of Kansas City.

The table was prettily trimmed with flowers and after-dinner hours were reminiscent and conversational. Those gathered about the board in the happiness of family ties reunited were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gunder, Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Gunder, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stuber, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Gunder and Mr. Blaine Gunder, of Richwood, and Mr. Roy Hammond, of Richwood.

GOVERNOR HARMON STANDS UP

For The Enforcement of The Anti-Gambling Law at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 12—Governor Harmon today called Sheriff Hirstius by long distance telephone and ordered him to go forthwith to the North Randall race track and stop all violations of the law. This action is the result of a complaint from Rev. A. S. Gregg of this city that pool selling and bookmaking were being carried on without hindrance and that there had been no attempt to stop the sale of liquor during the Grand Circuit meeting. North Randall is in "dry" territory.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 12—Sheriff Hirstius this afternoon arrested H. K. Devereaux, president and principal owner of the Forest City Livestock and Fair company, for permitting pool selling bookmaking and the sale of liquor at the North Randall race track during the Grand Circuit harness meeting. Devereaux was arrested in the judge's stand but declared bookmaking and pool selling would continue until he had a trial to determine if the law had been broken. Horsesmen say there will be no more harness racing in Ohio if pool selling is stopped. The crowd in the betting ring appeared to be entirely ignorant of Devereaux's arrest. The bookmakers knew nothing of the order against gambling.

BAD LUCK DAY AT SHOPS

Two Men Narrowly Avert Losing Hands.

ITALIAN AMONG THE MARKED

Hot Sand Catches the Feet of a Busy Moulder.

The Hooloo Was Working Overtime Trying to Catch Someone Napping in the Work Rooms—Departs Chagrined.

James Munroe was the victim of a painful accident in one of the machine rooms of the Marion Steam Shovel shops Thursday afternoon. His hand was caught in the machine he was operating and the fingers badly crushed. He was removed to the office of Drs. A. and H. S. Rhu where the thumb was amputated at the first joint. The ring finger was also badly crushed, but it is thought amputation will not be necessary.

Early this morning, while employed in the moulding room of the Malleable shops, Walter Fox had his left foot badly burned by a fall of hot sand. He was assisted to the office of Drs. Lower and Smith where the burn was dressed.

W. J. Yochem narrowly averted losing a hand at the Steam Shovel shops this morning. His fingers were badly lacerated and required the attention of a physician.

An Italian, one of the Erie construction gang employed near the transfer came to the office of Drs. Smith and Lower in a great state of excitement and volubility this morning. After a piteous flow of loud vowels and much dramatic gesticulation he put forth a badly injured hand for examination. A mere matter of an iron splinter more than an inch long was found imbedded in the right hand. With the characteristic stoicism of his kind, the injured man submitted to the extraction of the iron and departed with the shadow of pain fleeing before the grim determination to work at any cost.

Charles McCluskey, a farm hand employed by the Ohio and Western Line and Stone company was thrown from a wagon by a runaway team this afternoon sustaining a fracture of the forearm.

The injured man was driving the wagon near a threshing machine in operation when it bolted, hurling him to the ground. He was removed to the Central Emergency hospital by the Hess and Markert ambulance where the fracture was reduced by Dr. Mattox. It will be several weeks before McCluskey can use the injured arm. He was able to be taken to his home on the Garden City pike late in the afternoon.

NELSON W. CALLED ON

President Taft Today, Warren G. Will be There Tomorrow.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 12—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich on board his steam yacht, the O-Wa-Ra, slipped into Beverly early today, interrupted the presidential breakfast and talked politics and "rubber" for thirty-five minutes with the chief executive.

The president arranged to see two cabinet officers today, secretary of the Treasury MacVaneugh and Postmaster Hitchcock. The former is to discuss finance and the president's policy of retrenchment in government expenditures.

The work of the tariff board will probably be discussed as well. Postmaster General Hitchcock has a number of postmasters to be appointed and also wants to talk over the postal savings bank situation. Tomorrow Senator Dick of Ohio is to introduce to the president Warren Harding, the recently chosen gubernatorial candidate of the Republican of the Buckeye state.

SOLID CONFESSION OF CATHERINE BOTTI

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12—The police are amazed at the stoical demeanor maintained by Catherine Botti, thirteen, who is now in jail here charged with the murder of Pasquale Volpe, forty, her godfather, because of his unwelcome attentions to her.

According to the postmortem examination, the girl not only hit Volpe with an ax but she struck him several blows later with a hatchet and then pierced his lifeless body with a red hot poker.

When confronted with this new evidence this morning she did not change one particle but said: "Yes, I forgot to tell you about that. After I had hit him several times with an ax, I grew tired so I picked up a hatchet and hit him two or three times. Then I heated a poker and pushed it into his body. He had broken my heart and I wanted to break his." Although unwilling to believe her confession, officials who have worked on the case today acknowledged that her story has been verified in every detail and have been unable to find proof for their theories that persons stronger than herself aided in the crime.

OVER ZEAL FOR THEIR CITY HAS Brought Trouble to Two Great Falls Census Takers—Counted Too Many People.

By United Press Wire. Helena, Mont., Aug. 12—"Over-zeal in seeking that nobody was missed," has brought Thomas Dalley and F. C. McDonald, two Great Falls census enumerators, to grief and today, after indictment by the federal grand jury, they were fined $150 apiece and sentenced to twenty-four hours in jail each.

Their indictment charged "making false and fictitious returns," said the grand jury in the fact that they turned in the names of a good many more people than lived in their districts. Their attorney pleading in court that his clients were "so anxious to get all the names that they actually turned in more than there existed," the court smiled and imposed the fine. Two more Great Falls enumerators have been indicted on a similar charge.

Mrs. Charles Schmidt is the guest of Bucyrus friends.

LANG DEAD WALZ DYING

And Three Others Hurt in the Usual Auto Calamity.

New York, Aug. 12—John Lang, twenty-four, a real estate dealer of West Brighton, was killed; Karl Walz, twenty-two, clerk, is dying and three other Staten Island residents were more or less seriously hurt today when Lang's automobile turned over just outside of West Brighton. A tire burst while Lang was running the car at a high rate of speed and the automobile swerved and toppled over into a ditch, panning the occupants underneath.

INDIAN LADIES ATTENDING THE

Hearings Yesterday at Sulphur, Oklahoma of the Noted Land Case.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 12—Long before the members of the committee had ventured forth after the trip from McAlester yesterday, the women had started for the court-room. A few more men beat them to it and secured the choice chairs, but United States Marshal Bryant Vector proved the hero of the occasion and ordered the men to give up their seats. Late comers were also ushered into the room by the marshal and the man with a choice leaning place against the wall, was spotted and made surrender it.

It was intensely hot, but the court-room was crowded. George Scott, son-in-law of Chief Green McCurtain, of the Choctaws, was the first witness called. He denied that McCurtain was to pay him for the services he rendered in the interest of the McMurray contracts. Scott has been mentioned prominently throughout the case as having been connected with McMurray, and telegrams were introduced in the evidence to show that Scott was back of the scheme with McMurray to have the Choctaws flood Washington with telegrams, asking that contracts be approved.

Scott said that when McMurray wired him, he went to Washington at his own expense. He also explained the telegrams sent to McMurray, in which he said: "Sherman and Curtis know what we want."

Scott said he meant that their long service in Indian matters gave them a thorough knowledge of what the Indians needed.

Chairman Burke examined Scott closely, endeavoring to bring out whether he had not sent a score of telegrams to Washington for others endorsing the McMurray contracts.

"I can explain what you are driving at," said Scott.

"I am not driving at anything," Burke retorted. "I am seeking information."
