LOOP THE LOOP DIAVOLO, WHO YEARNS TO BE UP TO DATE BIRD MAN

New York, Dec. 31.—The successful aviator must have nerve as well as skill and the records of aviation meet for the past year show that many of the men birds are brave to the degree that they are reckless daredevils. Each time they leave the ground they take their lives in their hands, and yet after a fatal accident to one of their comrades they unhesitatingly brave the dangers of the upper air.
One of the newest aviators to tempt fate is Charles Frank Moray, known to visitors to various circuses as "Diavolo," while riding a bicycle and in an auto. He has plunged heading down long flights of stairs which mounted on a bicycle and has looped the loop on a bicycle as well as in an auto. This method of earning a living fitted him, he thought and a few months ago he began experimenting with aeroplanes at Belmont park. He made several short but successful flights.
A few days ago he announced that he would fly from old Guttenberg race track across the Hudson to New York. He promised to perform a few evolutions up and down Broadway and then make a landing in Central park. He made the start all right at Guttenberg Monday afternoon. He flew half a mile, reaching a height of about thirty feet. He narrowly missed striking one house, went across the street and smashed into the second story of a residence.
The machine was demolished, and Moray was thrown twenty feet or so to the ground. He was so badly hurt that he was sent to a hospital, where he will remain a few days while he recovers from his injuries.

or four times at an elevation of perhaps 200 feet.
Suddenly something went wrong with the machine. It bucked and pitched forward, Moisant meantime was fighting valiantly to regain its balance. At a height of perhaps 100 feet the strap which held Moisant in his seat broke and the winner of the statue of Liberty flight was precipitated from his machine.
He fell like led, outdistancing the machine to the ground. Horrified spectators rushed to the wounded man and picked him up. He was still breathing. He was hurried to a flat car and a special train started back to the city. Before its arrival here Moisant died without regaining consciousness.
How the accident occurred will never be known as the machine was completely wrecked.

REV. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS
Is Author of the Eloquent Toast to the New Year.
By United Press Wire.
New York, Dec. 31.—The following toast to the coming year, filled with optimism and the prophecy of greater things, was written for the United Press by the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, the famous Brooklyn divine.
By the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.
The year that is passing will rank as one of the great years of history. Other years gave man a mastery of fire, steam and electricity; this year gives man the aeroplane and his mastery of the air.
It has been a great year for medicine and surgery and has brought the cures of two of the most malignant diseases of all time.
It has been a wonderful year for peace for the war against war has never won so many victories. Libraries, colleges and hospitals will remember the year for the millions upon millions of bounty.
It has been a great year for liberty, overthrowing monarchy in Portugal, bringing democracy to Turkey and to the beginning of constitutional government in China. To England it has brought the passing of the

LOUIS FRANZ LIKELY TO ACCEPT CHALLENGE MADE BY JIMMY SMITH

Buffalo, Dec. 31.—Jimmy Smith, who has a backer willing to bet from $1,000 to $5,000 that he can beat any bowler alive, is likely to be matched again with Louis Franz, of Cleveland, Smith, who came here recently from Brooklyn, where he won the Greater New York individual tournament for three successive years, means business and will meet Franz if the money is put up.
Franz, who was defeated by Smith in a thirty game match for $500 a side nearly a year ago, is anxious to try again and believes that he can turn the tables. He has held the Cleveland championship for some years and is regarded as one of the best bowlers in the middle west.
Should these two champions meet again the match would attract wide attention. If the match is arranged an effort will be made to have the contest take place during the national bowling tournament which is to be held here in March.
hereditary house of lords, with plans for an elective chamber.
The old year gave us a wonderful advance of intellect, the emancipation of womanhood, a movement that is making the common people as powerful as kings and the laity to be as influential as priests. Never have the reasons for optimism been so numerous or so weighty.
But the achievements of yesterday are only prophecies of good things to come. For all patriots and Christians it is "better farther on." The great word of the old country was democracy; the great word of the new year should be co-operation and service. The motto, "All for each and each for all," would bring in the golden age.
The old year with its social wrongs, its abuses and its sins is going. Let it go. The new year with its opportunity to push back the rim of night and to flood the world with light and progress is coming.
Yesterday for memory, today for work, tomorrow for hope and aspiration.
