WHY RESURRECTION

The Resurrection Doctrine Peculiar to Christianity, but Known to No Other.

What If the Dead Should Not Rise, Would This Affect Christian Faith and Doctrines and Prove Them All False?

PASTOR RUSSELL PROVES IT SO

London, April 16. The London Tabernacle was crowded to hear Pastor Russell's Easter sermon on "The Resurrection Hope the Only One." His text was from 1 Corinthians xv, 12-18.

"How say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? ... If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain and your faith is vain. ... Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished."

For years God's people have had excellent Bibles, and this has been blessed far in advance of our brethren who lived during the Dark Ages. But we have read our Bibles too carefully and often have most of us wondered at the great stress St. Paul laid upon the resurrection.

Our Catholic neighbors tell us that the majority immediately go to Purgatory, there to be tried by various sufferings and tortures, and later, enter heaven. Our Protestant teachings have been to the effect that the unsaintly masses, unfit for the presence of God and the holy, will be consigned to an eternity of awful torture and made very much more alive to suffering than before.

Now What Do We Find? With the clearing of the mists of ignorance and superstition, with a better light reflected from one page to another of the Bible, the resurrection subject clarifies and the statements of Jesus and the Apostles and Prophets, which we thought so strange, become luminous and soul-satisfying.

When once we see that "the wages of sin is death" and not eternal torment; and that the Bible hell is the tomb and not a fiery furnace; and that all mankind go to sheol, to hades, just as did our Savior; then we begin to see that what we all need is to be saved from sheol, from hades, as was the Savior. A resurrection-salvation is thus the salvation hope of the Church and of the world. What a relief this gives us as respects parents, children, neighbors, friends and the heathen, who have died out of Christ, unsaintly! What comfort it brings to know that they are sleeping in the great prison-house of death, unconscious of the lapse of time, waiting for the Redeemer.

All Souls Go to Sheol. Some one may say, "Pastor Russell, what about the soul? If the body goes to sheol, hades, the tomb, where goes the soul?" I reply that it is the soul that goes to sheol, to hades, the grave, the tomb, the state of death.

Let none avoid the question! Let all decide at once! Either we believe in a resurrection from the dead, or we do not believe in it. If the resurrection be a myth, then, says the Apostle, all those who fell asleep with faith in Christ are perished—they are not in heaven, Purgatory nor eternal torment.

David, in the Old Testament, used the word sheol. St. Peter, in the New Testament, used the word hades. There is no dispute amongst scholars as to what is signified. The words sheol and hades are well known to refer, not to a place of suffering or torture or annihilation of any kind, but to the unconsciousness of the death state.

As Jesus descended into hades, so do all mankind. As the Father raised Him from the dead on the third day, so it is promised that He will raise us, the Church, from the dead. More than this, the unjust also, those who have not been approved of God in the present life, shall all be awakened from the sleep of death. They will come forth informed respecting sin, having lived under the reign of Sin and Death.

Burst the Bars of Death. In the poetic language of the hymn, Christ Jesus "burst the bars of death" in His resurrection. It was not possible for Him to be holden of death, writes the Apostle (Acts ii, 24). The Divine verdict went forth that He had been faithful and that to Him should come the reward of life upon the highest plane—the divine nature (Ephesians i, 20, 21).

Our fancies may legitimately picture that the holy angels marveled at the Redeemer's experiences from the time that He left the heavenly glory and was made flesh and dwelt amongst us until, by His resurrection change, He returned again from the earthly nature to the heavenly plane, "far above angels." As they sang at His nativity a rapturous song of glad tidings of great joy to all people, so they were filled with amazement, surely, at how the Father permitted Him to be tempted and tried and poured for Him His cup of suffering, which He drained to the dregs. They marveled when "He died, the Just for the unjust." They looked and wondered, as hour after hour He remained in the tomb-dead. Their loyalty to the Heavenly Father was tested during that period, but was rewarded when they beheld that Divine power raised Him up even to a more excellent glory than that which He had before.

With what alacrity the angels must have acknowledged the risen One, in harmony with the Father's declaration, "Let all the angels of God worship Him." "Worthy is the Lamb to receive glory and honor, dominion, might and power." The point to be specially noticed is the change of nature which our Redeemer experienced in His resurrection. That change did not take place during the three days of Jesus' burial, but during the three and a half years of His ministry, which ended with His resurrection. When thirty years of age He gave Himself—He surrendered His earthly privileges and rights and hopes into the Father's hands, to be obedient to everything which Divine providence might permit. At that moment His sacrifice of His flesh was accepted. The evidence of His acceptance was the impartation of the Holy Spirit, which as a dove rested upon Him and exercised a quickening and illuminating influence upon His mind, enabling Him to understand more than human things and to perform more than human acts.

It was Jesus, a New Creature, begotten of the Spirit at Jordan, that did the mighty works of the Father. His flesh, His humanity, was gradually laid down sacrificially, in harmony with the Divine providence. He drank "the cup" which the Father poured for Him. Divine Power "Brought From the Dead the Great Shepherd."

This Easter Sunday celebrates the momentous event of our Lord's resurrection from the dead. His resurrection is either a truth or a falsehood. In our text St. Paul assures us that if it is untrue, our faith, our hopes, our preaching and teachings are of no avail—useless. If the resurrection of the dead is impossible, then the resurrection of Jesus was impossible. If the resurrection of Jesus did not take place, then we have no proof, and no ground for believing that Divine power could resurrect the Church. If Divine Power "brought again from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep," it is Jehovah also who will bring us from the dead by Jesus, in God's due time.

Let none avoid the question! Let all decide at once! Either we believe in a resurrection from the dead, or we do not believe in it. If the resurrection be a myth, then, says the Apostle, all those who fell asleep with faith in Christ are perished—they are not in heaven, Purgatory nor eternal torment. If we believe in the resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust, then, logically, we must believe that they are dead, except in the Divine promise, purpose, arrangement. The decision of this resurrection question is a most momentous one, as it affects practically every doctrine of the Christian Church. If we get straight the doctrine of the Resurrection effected through the Redeemer, and the doctrine of the Resurrection of the dead, all of our doctrines will fall into line, and all of our absurdities, which have troubled us so long, will fall out of the way, and all of the Scriptures will be found harmonious in teaching Divine Justice, Wisdom, Love and Power.

Christ the First-Fruits. "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first-fruits of them that slept" (verse 20). Ah, thank God, the Apostle did not mean to insinuate the possibility of our Lord's not having risen. Merely, he would put the question that we might see how weighty is the subject—how much depends on the answer. He exultantly answers, "Christ is risen!" We rejoice in this for several reasons. First, how and it would be if He who laid aside His glory and was made flesh and tasted death on our behalf should have lost by His loyal endeavor to serve us and to do the Father's will! How glad we are that He is risen, and that He was not raised again in the flesh, with the loss of His heavenly glory, but raised as the King of all, far above all others, and partaker of the divine nature!

Secondly, we are glad on our own account, and on account of all mankind; for if our Lord Jesus had not been raised from the dead it would have proven one of two things—either He had not been faithful—up to the Divine standard, and therefore that His life could not be a satisfaction for the human life lost in Adam, or else it would have proved that God, who had promised to raise Him from the dead if He would be obedient unto death, had been unable to do so; and if unable to raise Him from the dead, we likewise, would be without hope, even if our sins were canceled by virtue of His sacrifice.

The Apostle's words give a further suggestion: Our Lord in His resurrection became "the first-fruits of them that slept." This signifies that none was ever raised from the dead before Him. As another Scripture declares, "He was the first that should arise from the dead." There were indeed others awakened from the tomb, by Jesus Himself and also previous to His Advent. But they were merely awakened, not lifted fully up out of death conditions to perfect life. The Redeemer was the first to have such an experience. But the Apostle's words mean more. If Jesus was the first-fruits of them that slept, then this the Apostle proceeds to prove, declaring that "as all in Adam died, even so all in Christ shall be made alive" (I Corinthians xv, 22). Glorious resurrection hope! Precious Bible! The one Book alone which testifies a resurrection of the dead, or that the dead are dead.

The Apostle proceeds to tell us that the dead will not all be resurrected together—at once—but every man in his own order" (I Corinthians xv, 23). The first order or rank will be the Church. Blessed and holy are all they that have part in the First Resurrection; * * * they shall be priests of God and of Christ and shall reign with Him a thousand years (Revelation xx, 6).

This work of raising the dead will be the work of the entire reign of Messiah, as explained in our context: Christ must reign until He shall have put all enemies under His feet—the last enemy will be death. As during the Mediatorial reign mankind shall rise up out of their ignorance, weakness, sin, depravity, they will be coming out of death conditions into life conditions; they will be in process of rising up—resurrection. This does not prove, however, that all of Adam's race will receive the gift of God, eternal life, but it does prove that all will be blessed with the opportunity of attaining that glorious reward. Whoever, after buying the release from death put within his grasp, shall decline eternal life on the Divine

Young Stenographer Took Employers' Funds to Help Sweetheart. Latter Skips and Money is Borrowed From Her Father—While Playing Cards She Has Winning Streak and When Prospect of Getting Square Comes She Drops Dead.

Chicago, April 17.—Laura Cotton, while employed as a stenographer by the Equity Finance company, became engaged to a young man. One day he told her he was in a serious predicament and needed money. Miss Cotton took $100 or more from the company's safe. A day or two later her fiancé disappeared, and Miss Cotton borrowed money from her father to make good the shortage.

Miss Cotton worried over the matter, her health failed and she was compelled to resign. From time to time she gave her father, who alone knew her secret, sums of money in repayment of the loan.

Miss Cotton, her father and mother and J. Mann, a friend of the family, played poker, and she was a steady winner. Finally Miss Cotton whispered to her father that if she could not be enabled to wipe out her indebtedness to him, she drew a royal flush, and as she put out her hand for her winnings she fell off the chair dead.

Near a Fire. Boston, Mass., April 17.—What might have been a repetition of the Albany capital building fire a few weeks ago, was narrowly averted at the Massachusetts state house when a fire broke out in "Trask's" lunch room on the first floor. Night Watchman Nyman discovered the fire but could not put it out and called the department. A chemical compound and quenched the blaze after slight damages.
