Pastor Announces Two More Cholera Deaths.

AUBURN BECOMES EXCITED

Inmates of Italian Boarding House Where Newly-Arrived Foreigner Died of Dread Disease Removed to Quarantine Hospital, but Belief Prevails That Several Men Exposed to Contagion Have Scattered Over Country.

Auburn, N. Y., July 3.—While the authorities here have the cholera situation well in hand, the anxiety of residents has been increased by wild rumors of a spread of the disease, and a sensation was caused when the Rev. Dr. A. W. Bourne of the First Baptist church, in concluding a prayer for the persons who had been exposed to the malady, stated that two additional victims had died.

The congregation stopped to discuss the alarming news outside the church and it spread with surprising rapidity. At the Osborne House, where both Drs. Thomas G. Sawyer and A. P. Hodgman of the local health department and Dr. W. S. McGill of Albany, representing the state board of health, and Dr. Edward Francis of Washington, of the United States marine hospital service, were holding a conference, the rumor was received. The physicians made full investigation and declared emphatically that there was absolutely no truth in it.

Removed to Pesthouse.

All of the inmates of the two Italian boarding houses were removed to the new municipal hospital for tuberculosis. The institution has just been completed and was not yet in use. The state department of health advised isolation of all of the suspects and they were transported to the new hospital.

Court Interpreter James Ray, the Italian leader here, after an investigation stated that he feared there were a number of exposed persons who were able to evade quarantine. When the cholera victim, Tomaso Girardi, reached Auburn he was greeted by his two brothers, Vito and Frank, and a party of friends who had known him in Italy. They embraced and kissed each other in the manner of Italians, and after stopping in the business section for a few hours returned to the colony, where they ate and drank together in a happy reunion. When the cholera victim became ill he remained with him and offered him their crude ministrations. Several of these young men are said to have come from Auburn. The local and out-of-town officials, however, predict that no further cases will result.

In one of these demonstrations just made here the men engaged in the meat business in this city and scores of others gathered at the Independence Monument plaza, pinned on their hats signs reading "Abajo El Monopolio," "Down with the monopoly," and marched to the government palace to register a formal protest against the Pacific Docking company and an American concern which, in January last, inaugurated here the most modern meat packing plant in Mexico. KAISER'S ACTION WORRIES FRANCE

Sudden Move, at Agadir Is Incomprehensible.

ADmits MOVE IS TIMELY

Country at Large Ill at Ease Because England, Friend of France, is Facing Constitutional Crisis and is Hampered With Seamen's Strike. Press Blames Government For Permitting Spain to Act at Larache and Elksar Without Protest.

Paris, July 3.—France is asking itself whether Germany's sudden move against Agadir is not comparable to the visit made by the kaiser to Tangier which preceded the Algeiras treaty. She recognizes the acumen shown by Germany in making the move at the time when a new ministry has come into power and President Fallieres is on the eve of visiting Holland. Should Foreign Minister De Seld accompany the president, as did M. Pichon when Fallieres went to Belgium, it will be meant as a reply to the Germanization of northern Europe.

People Ill at Ease.

The parliamentary government is suffering a paralysis because of the statement made by ex-Minister of War Gouran, which brought about the downfall of the Monis ministry. The country at large is ill at ease because England, her friend, is occupied with a constitutional crisis and hampered by the seamen's strike. "It is now recalled that two months ago a German news agency reported that Germany was to send three warships to Morocco. Herr Kiderlin von Wachtler, the German foreign minister, protested vehemently that the rumor was not true.

The Temps blames the French government for allowing Spain to act at Larache and Elksar without noticing the fact, thereby appearing to be an accomplice and giving the German press an opportunity to allege that France and Spain had come to a secret agreement to share Morocco. Now France is accusing Germany of instigating Spain's policy. The Temps, the Liberte and the Garce declare that France's first step should be to send a warship to Agadir.

London is Credulous.

London, July 3.—If the whole German high seas fleet had bombarded Tangier and blown it in the air it could hardly have excited the London press more than has the arrival of the little Panther and her crew of 125 at Agadir. Such adjectives as dramatic, startling, serious, grave, are applied to Germany's action and the situation created thereby. Even the few nonant-German newspapers are shocked into garblings and loaded type. There is, however, no outbreak of abuse, although German's plot that her interests are endangered is frankly not believed.

WEST IN GRIP OF HOT WEATHER WAVE

Crops and Pastures Reported Burning Up.

St. Louis, July 3.—In the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio river valleys crops and pastures are reported burning up, and the weather bureau forecasts but little relief. The maximum temperature was 97 degrees from 3 to 5 at the top of the weather bureau observatory, but the government Klok thermometer on the street registered 104. One death and four prostrations were officially reported in St. Louis. The heat drove the wife of William Miller, a prominent farmer near Evansville, Ind., to suicide. The drought was broken in parts of the northwest and southwest, Central and South Dakota were swept by tornadoes, accompanied by heavy rains, which greatly benefited the withering crops. The damage to farm buildings was heavy. The two month drought in central and southern Texas was partly broken by good showers which fell in many localities. The rain in Texas came too late to benefit the corn crop, but proved beneficial to cotton. More rain is indicated in that section. For three days the temperature in Nebraska has ranged from 100 to 108, and there is no indication of a change in the weather.

RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

Weather Man Promises Cooler Temperature by Wednesday. Washington, July 3.—The coming week will be one of moderate temperatures in the South Atlantic and gulf states and generally over the region west of the Mississippi river. High temperature will prevail the first part of the week in the northern and middle states east of the Mississippi river, followed by a change to lower temperature in these districts about Wednesday.

Fourteen Die at Chicago.

Chicago, July 3.—All Chicago sweltered in the hottest day of the year. Fourteen deaths were recorded and there were hundreds of prostrations. The official weather thermometer in the tower registered 98 degrees, while thermometers at the street level registered 107.

Eight Prostrations at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., July 3.—Cincinnati passed through one of the hottest days of the past several years when the thermometer registered 103. Eight prostrations were reported.

Agreement Predicted.

Columbus, O., July 3.—An agreement is said to be in sight by the jury in the case of Rodney J. Diegel, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, charged with aiding and abetting Senator LaForest of Andrews of Lawrence county in the solicitation and acceptance of $200 for his influence on the Cetone-Whittemore mutual fire insurance bill.

Back to Horse Collections.

Columbus, O., July 3.—Being unable to find a new contractor to collect the mail by auto, the local post-office department was compelled to return to the old horse and wagon method used prior to the advent of the automobile deliver. It now requires 11 men, horses and wagons to do the work done by seven men and four autos, and more time is required to do it.

Dunbar, N. Y., July 3.—An automobile accident occurred at Angok, in which Dr. Samuel Siler of Greenville, Pa., was killed and three others seriously but not fatally injured.

Mrs. Will A. Leonard of the Treasury Department is the official counterfeit detector. For the past 10 years she has been connected with this department and has been considered an expert in the unusual occupation. Mrs. Leonard it is said, has counted more than a million dollars of government notes. In a single day she has counted $12,000,000. Handling 13,000 notes is considered a good day's work, but Mrs. Leonard has handled 29,000 in one day. Counterfeit money is detected from the feel by its coloring, size, engraving and feel. No perfectly engraved counterfeit note ever has been produced, Mrs. Leonard says.
