JUVENILE CASE SETTLED TODAY

Delinquency Charge Against Little Howard Fetter Dismissed.

Son Will Spend a Part of Each Week With Each Parent.

Sitting between his estranged parents before Judge Spencer in the juvenile court room this morning with a charge of delinquency against him, little eight-year-old Howard Fetter alternated glances at his mother, Mrs. Minnie Fetter, of North State street, and his father, William P. Fetter, saloonist, of Pearl street. He didn't quite comprehend why he had been brought into court but realized that it had something to do with the home in which he was to live in the future.

As was stated yesterday, the charge came as the result of parental clashes, which occurred at the Central school building, over the possession of the boy. Both parents desired the custody of their son and greatly interfered with his school work.

After hearing both sides of the story, Judge Spencer, at the suggestion of the mother, ordered that the boy spend Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with his father and Friday, Saturday and Sunday with his mother until further notice from the court.

Mr. Fetter was represented in court by Attorney J. H. Eymon. Mrs. Fetter told her story herself. She made several allegations which were denied by her husband. One of these was that the boy had been threatened and influenced by the father and his attorney to remain at his father's home.

Judge Spencer called on the little fellow to tell his side of the story, placing him in an unpleasant predicament as he did not wish to hurt the feelings of either parent for, he said, he loved them both dearly. In a childish way he acknowledged that he stretched the truth a little when he told his mother that his father had threatened to whip him if he did not remain at his father's home but the mother explained that the child was nervous and excited and did not know what to say in explanation.

SEVERAL CONVERTED TUESDAY EVENING

Meetings Grow Nightly in Power and Inspiration.

SEVERAL

"God's Love for the Sinner" was the subject at the Trinity Baptist church Tuesday evening, Evangelist Everts called it a "memory service." The songs were old favorites and were requested by the audience. As soon as a song was called for, Mr. Everts informed the pianist of the right key and then he started it. No books were used and all enjoyed the dear old songs of long ago. Mr. Everts did not even use his Bible in giving the scripture lesson but recited the 15th chapter of Luke and drew the lesson from the story of the lost sheep. Four splendid conversions were the result of the service. This noon the meeting was held at the Suber shops.

Tonight a meeting will be held at the church, at which time the pastor, Rev. W. A. King, will give the message. Mr. Everts will take charge of the praise service, also the after service. A number of candidates are to come before the church to be examined for baptism. At the service, last night, both Miss Meta Raymond and Mrs. W. N. Harder sang very impressive solos. Arrangements are being perfected for another big mass meeting for next Sunday afternoon.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO GIVE CONCERT

"Eljah" Will be Rendered at Epworth Church Tuesday Night.

The Marion Choral society, under the direction of E. E. Hipsher, of the School of Commerce, will render the third of their sacred concerts at Epworth Methodist church, next Tuesday evening. The oratorio "Eljah," by Mendelssohn will be given by the society who have spent several months on the preparation of the music.

The solos of the oratorio will be sung by Misses Mildred Moss, Verda Miles, Cecil Williams, and Sidney Warner, Edwin Dees, William Ackerman, and Mr. Hipsher; Miss Irene Nealey; Mrs. DeWitt Bender; Mrs. Charles Bender; T. E. Bolander; John Huffman and Asa Queen will take the quartette parts.

The accompaniments will be played by Paul Bertram Gaet of Prospect. The concert will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

By Professor A. F. Bacon of Pittsburg at the office of E. J. Cox, over Turner's grocery, room No. 1, Thursday evening, March 14, at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Bacon will lecture on the "Garden Spot of the World," the Mississippi delta reclaimed lands near New Orleans, Louisiana. The richest farm land in the United States. This opportunity is now at your door, so come and hear our Mr. Bacon. Ladies are specially invited.

OPERA HOUSE MATTER UP AGAIN

John A. Huber Appointed Receiver of Defunct Company.

MISMANAGEMENT IS ALLEGED

Stockholders Want an Equal Distribution of Sale Proceeds.

Appointment of Receiver Secured From Judge Babst at Upper Sandusky Yesterday Evening—Bond Approved—Other Proceedings in Common Pleas Court.

About eleven o'clock last night a new petition involving the affairs of the Grand Opera House company, was filed in the common pleas court by a number of stockholders against the Grand Opera House company, a corporation doing business under the laws of the state of Ohio. Michael J. Sullivan and W. E. Sullivan, asking for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver for the company.

Yesterday evening, Attorney F. E. Guthery, of the firm Crisinger & Guthery, the attorneys for the plaintiffs, secured the appointment of John A. Huber as receiver from Judge Babst at Upper Sandusky. He then returned to Marion and filed the petition.

This morning, Mr. Huber's bond of $20,000 was filed and received the approval of Clerk of Courts William Klimefetter. The object of the appointment of a receiver for the company is to secure the legal distribution of money secured from the sale of the opera house property by the sheriff. This money was paid over to Frank R. Salter, as president of the Grand Opera House company, by Sheriff John Stark last Monday.

By paying this amount to Mr. Salter, Sheriff Stark carried out an order of distribution of the proceeds of the sale, issued by the court.

In the petition the plaintiffs allege mismanagement of the affairs of the company for years past and review in detail the history of the company since formation. The plaintiffs in the case are as follows:

Frank R. Salter, Henry Sirelitz, Jacob G. Leffer, C. C. Stoltz, Elsie G. Allen, Julia Edmundson, George W. King, Richard Fahy, Catherine Kitchner, Mary O'Brien, Ella Fahy O'Hara, Charles W. Leffer, John F. Leffer, David L. Stouffer, Bertha W. Weber and Louise Gotschall, and Frank A. Huber, administrator of the estate of Nona F. Huber, deceased, and John A. Schuster and Frank A. Huber, executors of the estate of the last will and testament of Edward Huber, deceased, against The Grand Opera House company, a corporation, Michael J. Sullivan and W. E. Sullivan.

EQUITY SUIT

A petition to enforce the terms of a contract, was filed in the common pleas court this morning by F. J. Jacoby, through his attorneys, J. W. Weldy, against Edmund S. Killigan, and John A. Schuster in the contract and the plaintiff contends that they had not been carried with true intent out by the defendant.

The petition asks that the court compel the defendant to convey lots No. 193 and 194 in Prospect to the plaintiff by warrant a deed and also to convey to him certain personal property, which under the terms of the contract, he was to deliver and execute at the same time a promissory note, secured by mortgage.

The plaintiff also sets up that on or about February 27, 1911 he entered into agreement with the defendant, that he should sell and convey to the defendant 75 acres in Ashland county, in consideration of which the defendant was to pay $6,000. According to the petition this amount was to be paid as follows: A sum of $600, the agreed value of a certain house owned by the defendant in Prospect, subject to a mortgage of $400 which the plaintiff was to assume on pay; $2,000, the agreed value of Judge Broadwick's stallion, together with one road cart and two stallion bridles; a sum of $2,900 to be paid on or before March 13, 1912; $200 before the expiration of three years; $200 before the expiration of four years and $1,200 before the expiration of five years from the time the contract went into effect.

The plaintiff further states that he has performed all terms of the agreement but that the defendant has failed to do so. He also alleges that the defendant's name appears in the contract as E. D. Edmonds but that this is a mistake. However, he says that the contract was duly signed by both parties.

ANSWER IN PARTITION.

Fred L. Cabhart filed an answer and cross-petition in the common pleas court this morning in the suit of Melville Butler against Martha Underwood and others. The answer admits that all allegations in the plaintiff's petition are true.

In the cross-petition, Cabhart states that he was given judgment against Andrew J. Underwood, one of the defendants, during the January term of court to the sum of $116.75 and that that amount has been levied on the undivided one-eighth interest in real estate described in the plaintiff's petition. He asks the court that his interests be protected.

DYNAMITERS TO BE TRIED

Together in October and it Will be the Largest Single Criminal Trial in the History of the Country.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Indianapolis, Ind., March 13.—Approximately 50 labor leaders, accused by the federal government of having planned more than one hundred dynamite explosions in 17 states, will be placed on trial here on October 1 as a result of the decision of Federal Judge Anderson here today.

The court, after hearing the arguments on the question of consolidating all of the indictments for the purpose of having only one trial decided in favor of the plan over the objections of the attorneys for the accused men. The result will be the largest single criminal trial in the history of the United States courts.

Before the time of the trial it is expected that at least two more of the defendants will be arraigned and possibly five. Orin E. McManis, the confessed dynamiter, and John J. and James McManama, who already are serving prison sentences for dynamiting, will not be placed on trial here. John J. McCray of Wheeling, W. Va., has not yet been found and arrested.

The federal authorities have not yet decided whether Eugene A. Cliney and Olat A. Tveitmo, both of San Francisco, who also are under indictment in California for dynamiting, will be tried here first or on the Pacific coast.

Federal Judge Anderson told the 48 defendants in court today that they need have no fear as a result of the consolidation of the cases, as the court would carefully consider the evidence and peremptorily instruct the jury in favor of any of the accused whom the jury would not be warranted in finding guilty under any of the indictments.

Three-Cornered Conference.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 12.—All of the alleged dynamiting conspirators appeared in the federal court here today when arguments on a motion to consolidate all of the cases of the persons indicted were begun. W. N. Harding, chief counsel for the accused labor leaders, today expressed himself as well satisfied with the action of Federal Judge Anderson in setting the trials for October 1. The government officials desired an earlier date and told the court that it would be satisfactory to them if the trials were set some time in May. Attorneys for the dynamiters argued that this would not allow sufficient time for the defense to prepare for the trials.

Additional information alleged to have a bearing on the dynamiting trials here is said today to be in the possession of the government authorities in California, as the result of the dictagraph conversations. Walter J. Drew, general counsel for the National Erectors' association, asserted today that a dictagraph was placed in a room in the Hayworth hotel at Los Angeles occupied by John R. Harrington, attorney for Clarence S. Darrow, the McManama lawyer, under indictment for alleged jury bribing. Darrow is alleged to have visited Harrington and there are said to have been conversations bearing on the case pending here.

Aimed at Mexican Rebels.

Washington, March 12.—As a result of a conference at the White House today, at which the senate foreign relations committee, most of the Texas congressional delegation, Secretary Stimson and Attorney General Wickham participated, a law will be introduced and pushed through congress giving the president power to issue a proclamation declaring it a violation of the neutrality laws to ship arms into a friendly country through a port of entry when that country is in the throes of an internal revolution.

The act is directed at the rebels in Mexico who are now receiving arms and ammunition through the Juarez custom house. Today's conference is taken to mean that the administration will do its utmost to stop the Mexican revolution without intervention. The Texas delegation told the president that Mexican conditions have become intolerable, that fighting and marauding continued along the border.

The Warner Edwards Co.

Price vs. Quality in RUGS.

Many merchants believe that rug users think of price alone when buying. We take a different view. We place quality at the head of the list. Our Carpet business has grown wonderfully during the last 27 years, showing that our judgment is right on this question. Warner & Edwards rugs are high grade. We don't pretend to sell inferior goods at reduced prices, but sell the best goods we can for the least money. That's how we have built up our store.
