WHY THEY BROKE THE WINDOWS.

We have been trying to find out why the suffragettes broke the windows of Premier Asquith's mansion in London and smashed those of the stores also. It seemed as though it was done to wake up the British people to the wrongs the women suffered or at least what they thought they suffered.

It is not the first time I have come before you in connection with this agitation. The last time I was here I laid before you certain reasons for my taking part in the agitation, with which I do not propose to trouble you this morning.

In Bristol, Mr. Hobhouse said women had not proved their desire for the vote because they had done nothing like that which characterized the men's agitation that led to the burning of Nottingham Castle, has provided us during the last few days with evidence that only the most stupid people could fail to understand.

What we have done, sir, is a flea bite as compared with what the miners in this country are doing today. They are paralyzing the whole life of the community. They have votes, they have a constitutional means of redressing their grievances, but they are not content to rely upon the constitutional means.

You are going to send me to prison. I am quite ready to go, and to pay the price, however high that price may be. Like those who went before us, we think it quite worth while.

BUSINESS CONTROL OF POLITICS.

Anyone who has studied closely the aggregation of interests that is now controlling the machinery of the Republican party, and that is using every means to capture the convention, has no difficulty in coming to the conclusion that the most potent of these forces working for a common end are not of a partisan or political character.

Thus a rearrangement was made of corporate forms; and the different companies are nominally independent of one another while belonging to the same owners. These owners are wealthier and more prosperous than ever; and their aggregate holdings are worth a great many millions of dollars more in the market than before the government won its heralded victory.

Reports say the Democratic revision of Schedule K cuts the tariff 50 per cent, and the Republican bill reduces the tariff 40 per cent. But the danger is that the interests will so manage affairs that neither of them will get through.

There is too much bitterness in some of the political cartoons. If the campaign continues to increase in intensity until election time it will reach a condition of civil war.

Chairman Lovett of the Union Pacific Railroad says that "there is a general feeling of prosperity in the air." Most of us, however, would rather it was of the earth earthy.

"However great the demand for Colonel Roosevelt may become, it will never be greater than the supply," observes the Washington Star. Very, very true.

In the matter of putting train robbers out of commission Express Messenger Trousdale is expressly the most conspicuous success of the day.

Mexico's attitude towards American citizens is evidently to be the means of that country losing its most valuable and energetic residents.

"Widows rush in where young girls fear to tread," observes the Chicago News. Quite the contrary!

Chicago reports the marriage of Miss Annie Rooney. Now, boys, don't start whistling at once.

THAT 'NIGGER' IN THE ALLEY.

It is strange there should be heated discussion about the paving of an alley—whether it was the duty of the officials of the city to order it paved or whether it would be improper, unjust, an outrage and unworthy of honest men.

A man who is determined to do his duty and who stands out against all jobs regardless of fear or favor is the one who impresses himself on the citizenship as absolutely and vitally honest and worthy of his position.

These matters are not as some think to be determined by party spirit or service to a clique bent on intrigue but they are to be determined by honesty and fidelity to a public trust. The city's money doesn't belong to the city officials to give away in largesses and spoils, to manipulators and plunderers and crooks, because of fear or favor but that money is theirs held in trust for legal use and only for such purposes.

WHOSE FAIRTY IS IT?

It is of vastly more importance to the Republican party, and to the country, that every voter should have an equal voice in the party councils, than that the nomination should be accorded to one candidate or another.

Doollittle as a successor to Dr. Wiley doesn't sound good to us if there is anything in a name. That is exactly what the adulterators and food poisoners want and what the food eaters don't want.

"The Kentucky Legislature has fooled a lot of persons by selecting blue grass as the official flower of the state, instead of eye," opines the Pittsburg Gazette-Times. Or mint?

Those long-haired reform Governors who got the Colonel in this fix are in danger of going down in history as the seven Sutherland brothers.

It makes a girl awfully ashamed to let a man kiss her without first putting up some sort of a bluff.

It takes a man of originality to pose as a successful liar.

A Pathetic Picture. Cleveland will make all men bathers wear skirts. Lucretia Laughed. Lucretia Borgia came into the palace smiling broadly. "You are in a rare good humor, my lady," remarked her dining maid. "Yes, Cleopatra, I am," replied the famous poisoner. "I won't have to fuss and worry any more over the fatal ingredients of my little food preparations."

"Why, what has happened, my lady?" said the maid. "Haven't you heard?" Lucretia demanded. "Dr. Wiley has resigned."

Difference in Icebergs. No two icebergs appear to be exactly alike in size and shape. Some look, for all the world, like Arab's tents as they glide along, and others like cliffs, castles, cathedrals, and such like things.

Then the colors are almost beyond description. The stately pinnacles glisten in the sun like powdered glass. At times the berg is pure white, at others it looks greenish.—St. Nicholas.

Gospel Preached First to Jews. That every Israelite indeed might be found the Gospel message at first was exclusively theirs, and the first gentle convert, Cornelius, was not admitted to Divine favor in this respect until three and a half years after the cross. Yes, still later, when the Apostles preached the Gospel to every creature, to people of every country and nationality, as well as to the Jew to whom it was originally confined, they still gave the Jew the preference up to the year A. D. 70, when the Jewish polity perished.

We see, then, that the nucleus of the elect Church which should become the Bride of Christ at His second coming was Jewish, and that God's favor to the Gentiles was His permitting of them to come in and fill up the foreordained number of the elect Church, though only after all worthy Jews had been called and accepted.

Heirs of the Promise. We must never lose sight of the kernel of this Gospel message, the ultimate blessings of the Messianic Kingdom, through the Seed of Abraham, will be to all the families of the earth, but, previously, the Divine work is the calling of the Seed of Abraham, which is to do that work of blessing. The promise was not made to all the families of the earth but to Abraham and his Seed. Hence the heirs of the promise are not all the families of the earth, but the Seed of Abraham.

To the saints of Galatia, who had been Gentiles but had accepted Jesus and were trusting to become joint-heirs with God's dear Son in His Messianic Kingdom as members of His Bride Elect, Saint Paul writes, "If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs according to the promise." (Galatians III, 29.) How strange that we should have lost sight of this great inheritance! With our Lord, as Abraham's Seed, we shall inherit the earth; as it is written, "I will give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession."

No wonder the Apostles frequently reminded the brethren of this great inheritance which God has in reservation for the faithful. "All things are yours, for ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's!" Adam and his entire race are to be turned over to Christ Jesus the Redeemer—purchased by His precious blood. Then was as His Bride Consort, are to share with Him that great inheritance, and to exult with Him in bringing order out of present confusion. Satan is to be bound; the forces of darkness are to be overthrown and restrained. The light of the knowledge of God, as a glorious Sun of Righteousness, is to arise; and His healing beams are to flood the earth, carrying with them life, peace, joy, rest—to the Jew first, but eventually to every nation, people, kindred and tongue.

DISAGREEMENT LIKELY. Cleveland, March 27.—With small chance of reaching a compromise agreement today, the joint committee of bituminous coal operators and miners resumed their struggle over the workers' wage scale.

Some of the conferees predicted that the negotiations would be terminated before night, leaving the wage controversy unchanged after more than a week of argument.

The fact that neither side will yield a point caused President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America, to say: "There is no need of further deliberation. We are making no progress. The miners have no more nor less to demand and they will not renew the present contract. A continuance of the existing contract is the only offer from the operators, and that seems to be their last word."

White further predicted a final disagreement at today's conference. Charles E. Murray of Cleveland, and J. C. Kosen of Perry, Pa., spokesmen for the operators, also agreed that the prospect was hopeless.

The axman is being put out of business in the forests of Germany by the introduction of a new method of felling trees by the friction of a steel wire, which is able to work its way through a 20-inch tree in about six minutes. The wire is drawn rapidly about the tree and the heat generated by the friction is sufficient to burn a thin carbonized kerf, which is both smoother and cleaner than the cut of a saw.

CAREFULNESS

In making mortgage loans has characterized The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company from its beginning. This accounts for this large company owning no real estate. It has also loaned its money to the small home builder. Hence it has rendered a great service to the people of Central Ohio. Its assets are now $5,400,000 and it pays 5 per cent on time deposits.
