THE A. Y. & P. Co. have had a force of Sweeds steadily at work since the giving way of the dock, removing that heap of or—probably not less than three or four thousand tons, and have at length got it out of the way for repairs.

The work of repairing will, however, be no child's play, as the piles that have been driven into the clay will all have to be pulled up, and will require to be removed—sunk out—will require to be removed—a formidable job.

STRENGTH HART died suddenly, at Jefferson on Thursday morning last. His disease was that of the heart, with which he has for a considerable time been suffering. The funeral will take place at 2 P. M. 24. We believe the CORPSE should be buried in the office of the A. Y. & P. Co. The man, and since the above was written he informed us that he had entered upon the duties of his office.

The duties of the collector at the Harbor have become such, as to require that he should be a resident of the port. Collector Watson gave the writer, who has been collector of the port for some two years, the chief of the reasons which have caused among those outside factors, down there, or of having a successor in office. Not caring to make a change of residence, the alternative was accepted, and after availing himself of the advice of some of the leading vessel owners of the port, the name of Mr. M. L. RICE, was sent in, and passed upon favorably by the Collector, and his application sent to the Secretary of the Treasury for his approval.

The appointment was received on Saturday last, and the appointee was duly qualified on Monday and entered upon the duties of office of Deputy on Tuesday. Thus leaves the editor of the Telegraph to devote his entire attention again to the duties of a private citizen.

Mr. Rice is favorably situated to give ready attention to the increasing duties of the Collectorship, and we doubt not he will show ample efficiency and business taste in the discharge of them.

Ashtabula Harbor never presented such a sight as on Sunday and Monday last. The number of vessels lying at the docks on Sunday was not so great as on Monday, but the sight was more attractive and gay, from the numerous flags, both British and American, pennants, union jacks, etc., that were flying from their main masts. Monday, however, presented the largest number of vessels, there having been several arrivals during the night of Sunday, and Monday morning. The number of schooners, two and three masted, all told, was eighteen; the majority of these were laden with ore, and 6 or 8 of the number with Canada ore. Besides these, there were two tugs, belonging to the harbor, and the large propeller W. H. Barnum. This vessel was the arrival of the sailing vessels were among the larger sized craft—some of them carrying over 1,000 tons of ore, while others ranged from 800 tons down to some three or four. The Canada vessels, coming as they do through the canal locks, are necessarily small. These vessels are engaged in the ore trade between this harbor and Marquette, Escanaba, L'Anse, etc., of the American ports, and Kingston, Cobourg, of Canada. While the vessels from Canada come loaded with ore, generally, they return with coal to Port Colborne, Toronto, Hamilton, and other points, thus exchanging the products of the British mines for those of the States, and mainly of our own State. This amount of shipping begins to crowd matters a little, and shows to our A. Y. & P. Co. the necessity for more room for the growing business, that even in these sluggish times, is seeking accommodation at this port. It is also a forcible argument for putting forth the utmost energy by the L. S. & M. S. Co., in the building and completion of their docks, and the furnishing of facilities for the amount of commerce that it has become evident will make this port its point of destination. The first officer of the Morey, who left Cleveland on Monday morning, assures us that he found on his arrival at Ashtabula harbor, a larger amount of shipping than was to be seen in the port of Cleveland. It will thus be seen in this our first whole season of business, we have already eclipsed the port of Erie, and are crowding the port of Cleveland. That which is needed, then, is the facilities for business, and the question of its finding its way and centering here, may be safely left to the future. The importance of Ashtabula harbor as a lake port is not among the coincidences of this world—it is a sure thing.

REV. DR. W. H. GOODRICH whose death at Lausanne, Switzerland, has been announced by cable, was one of the foremost clergymen in Cleveland, Ohio, where he was highly esteemed. He has been abroad nearly two years, in a vain pursuit of health, but the news of his death came with unexpected suddenness to his friends. He was a native of New Haven, Conn., and graduated at Yale College and the New-Haven Theological School. At one time he was a tutor in Yale, and while engaged in endeavoring to quiet a riot among the students, he received a blow upon the head, from the effect of which his life was put in peril for a long time and all mental labor interrupted. He was abroad for a portion of the time, but returned, and in 1850, he acted as Pastor of the Congregational Church of Bristol, Conn., where he remained four years. He then accepted a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, and remained there until 1853, when he accepted the call to his late charge, the Presbyterian Church of Cleveland. His father was the late Rev. Chauncey Goodrich, D. D., a distinguished Professor of Yale College. His grandfather was Hon. Elizer Goodrich, who was for twenty years Mayor of New Haven, and who also represented his State in Congress, and his great grandfather was distinguished both as a divine and astronomer. His grandfather on his mother's side was Noah Webster, the lexicographer.

Since our notice of the dying of the young Elm in front of the Congregational Church, as was supposed, either from the ants or the gas, much larger sized Maple, has since been found to be recovering—left with J. S. Blyth, at the Ashtabula bank.

Two million acres of corn have been planted this year in excess of last year's acreage. The increase is six per cent. of the whole crop. It is largest in the South in percentage, and in the West in acreage. The condition of the crop is good in the West, and elsewhere variable. These facts are furnished by the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

"Lake Side House" is the nomenclature adopted for the old, but revered edifice at the harbor. The name stands upon the outer wall, in rather tasteful display. There is some prospect of the house being taken by LANDFORD BROWN of the Thompson House, Jefferson. He is, we understand, disposed to do so, if he can get clear of his present lease.

The Cleveland Herald of Monday morning thus alludes to business of a maritime and commercial nature.

Matters along the docks have not been so dull for years as they were yesterday. If "Cope" deferred making the heart sick, our vessel owners must be quite unwell about this time.

SAYBROOK.

EL 74.—The weather with us is delightful—not too warm for comfort, and yet warm enough for all kinds of vegetation to keep on the move. The hay and wheat crops are mostly secured.

The Saybrook Bible Society held their annual meeting at the M. E. church on Sunday evening, July 19. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved. From the treasurer's report, we learn that the society received, for the year, $47 00; from sale of books, 9 45; value of books on hand at the beginning of the year, $26 35; received from Co. Depository $23 40; books donated $7 40; value of books sold, $9 45; on hand, $23 45. For two years the society has requested the district agents to gather circular statistics of a moral and religious character, and that request has been complied with by a majority of the agents while pursuing their course, and received from them to be nearly correct. In the eight districts heard from, we learn there are 177 families, numbering 670 persons, 370 of whom are under 21 years; 231 of this class in the Sabbath school; 338 out of the 670 are regular attendants at public worship and only 43 out of 177 families have daily family worship. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year—President, Rev. S. W. Street; Vice-President, Rev. Alden Walker; Secretary, W. S. Harris, Treasurer and Depositor, W. J. Sims. Appropriate pieces were sung by the choir, and short speeches on the Bible in connection with the family, the Sunday school, and kindred topics, were read by Revs. M. Williams, S. W. Street and Allen Potts. Adjourned to meet at the Congregational church the second Sabbath in July, 1873.

Quarterly meeting for the Saybrook charge will be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 25 and 26. It will be held at the church on Saturday at 9 P. M., and meet the quarterly conference afterwards.

I noticed the other day, in the course of my travels about town, a field of about two acres of rich land, belonging to one of our best farmers, which had been planted to potatoes, that was covered with a heavy growth of barn grass and weeds and not much else in sight. On inquiry, I learned the bugs had injured the potatoes to such an extent that he had given up the idea of going any further in the potato line and should try some other crop. We have both the long and the short striped varieties to contend with; of the two, the Colorado bug is the easiest managed, for they will keep still and be killed like gentlemen, and not dodge around like the Long Johns.

Mr. E. C. Parks has bought of Mrs. Patience Hozer, a acre of land, with buildings, including the shoe shop of L. Curtis, for $450.

Prof. S. Hamilton is the happy father of a fine specimen of a buckeye boy, which he had just one once of 11 pounds when first we met. The lad was born July 13, 1874.

Saybrook, July 22, 1874.

KINGSVILLE.

EL 74.—The Band Festival on the 17th inst., was one of the gay and pleasant events of the season. The advertising that the Ashtabula and Coney Island bands and our own, were to give a musical treat, will "rasberry and ice cream accompaniments, called out a crowd. The park was thoroughly lighted with torches and Chinese lanterns, a feature that had been suggested and carried out by Mr. A. B. Luce. That new band stand made its first known on this occasion. The streets were literally jammed with vehicles. We were all disappointed in not seeing the Ashtabula band present. The absence of some of their members naturally led them to shrink from competition with the other bands. At another time we trust before summer is over, the arrangement of meeting our Ashtabula friends may be carried out. The playing by the respective bands present was highly creditable and agreeable. There was some disparity between them in equipment and in this respect our Kingsville boys were at a disadvantage. The Kingsville band stand in need of a couple of hundred dollars for the purchase of instruments.

The refreshment tables were spread in the Town Hall, at the north end of the ground, and were sufficient for the accommodation 160 at a sitting. At about 10 o'clock the first sitting was made. The abundance of the delicacies provided, was due to the energy and foresight of the ladies. A disturbing element was visible, but it was restrained until after the entertainment, when there was some evidence of disorder about the streets. For this, however, the members of the band were not responsible. After refreshments there was an hour of alternate playing—winding up with "Hail Columbia" by the two bands. The receipts were something over $80, which, with the merely nominal expenses out, pass out very well.

Mr. Riggs from Bloomfield, supplied the desk of the Presbyterian church, by way of exchange, last Sabbath. Mr. R. is a Yale theological student of considerable promise. The desk of the Baptist church was occupied by Prof. Judson Barrett, of Rochester, N. Y., who is visiting home and friends. His ability and the large friendship felt for him, brought out strong audiences to hear him.

Our people have, as yet, taken no action with reference to the license question so soon to be passed upon at the ballot box. The hopes of the friends of temperance are, however, that we may have an overwhelming vote against license—but we shall see.

When any one asks in this day and age of the world, if we are in favor of Hon. J. A. Garfield, as successor to himself for another term of Congress, we are apt to be puzzled in the most of us. He is certainly a noble and noble man, and a noble man. His ability, fidelity and integrity have long since settled our mind, that in this part of the district, at least, his services can hardly be spared. Who, like him, could use the influence for establishing the growth and prosperity of Ashtabula county, that he is enabled to do? No new man could expect to fill his place, and his constituency too well understand their own interests and honor to think of a change.

HEALTH FOR THE NATION.—An astonishing discovery was accidentally made at Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1873, by Mr. George Hunter, of a great national remedy for many of the ills and diseases to which humanity is subject. While sinking an artesian well at an unusual depth of 187 feet, he discovered a sufficient flow of water for manufacturing purposes, as the water struck, which has since proven to be highly charged with magnetic and medicinal qualities, and many suffering from diseases of long standing, especially rheumatism, nervous, paralytic and kidney diseases, have found entire relief from the use of these waters, when all other remedies have failed. The restorative and healing virtues of these waters we feel safe in recommending to the afflicted, as they have recently received letters from friends setting forth many cases which have been benefited by their use.

There seems to be no end to the wealth of California. The Territorial Enterprise says that according to present indications the State will harvest wheat enough to load a thousand ships, each of a thousand tons burden, and have enough left for home consumption.
