LOCAL NEWS.
The County Fair closes at Jefferson today.

The Wallace Sisters failed to fill their appointment.

Orwell public schools are closed on account of the prevalence of diphtheria in town.

Dr. James Heady, the physiologist, will appear in Ashtabula early in November next.

Blakely & Moore, the artists, display a fine, large photograph of Newberry's fine book.

Mr. R. F. Couch has been admitted as a partner in the firm of Strong & Manning, coal and lumber dealers.

The Erie Store in dry goods, and Chamberlin in boots and shoes, make displays at the county fair.

Mr. J. H. Baggett the clothier, will occupy the store No. 123 Main street, next to Hall & Stevenson's, October 1st.

Works at Hitchcock's shops was shut down yesterday to give to the eighty employees an opportunity to attend the fair.

Prof. Webster's Commercial School at Rock Creek, has been closed, and the Prof. has taken a position in a school at Cleveland.

The assessor's returns of the dogs in the county are $885—enough, certainly, to make some havoc among the sheep in the county.

A new lodge of Odd Fellows is to be instituted at Austburg on Wednesday next, and Ashtabula lodge has voted to attend en masse.

The opinion of Treasurer Cook's name in the county ticket was an oversight of course, for we are coming to think him one of the most valuable public servants of the county.

That new bearse of Sanders & Harvey was out at the funeral of Mr. Wm. Humphrey, and attracted much attention. It is of Havana build from the shops of Menz & Middle.

The twenty-seventh annual fair of the Crawford County Agricultural Society will be held at Conneautville, Pa., on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 1st, 2d and 3d, 1879.

Personal.
Mr. H. H. Hall returned from his eastern trip last Monday.

Wm. S. King has entered Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa.

Miss Geneva, of Geneva, the spiritualist, is "speaking" at the county.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. A. Ellis is recovering from his attack of typhoid fever.

James A. Davidson, formerly editor of the Conquest Express, is now on the Warren Tribune.

W. B. Burnham and family are enjoying the society of his parents, now on a visit from Vermont.

Miss Minnie McKnight has gone to Boston, where she is to study music at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

The health of Rev. Dr. Moore was so far restored that he was able last Sunday to resume his duties in St. Peter's church.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parsons expect to sail next week Saturday on steamer Britannie, of the White Star Line for Europe. They will be gone one year.

Rev. Mr. Yingling of the Methodist church, is off in attendance upon conference. The pastoral labors of this gentleman have been so generally acceptable, that the expectation and hope is indulged that his labors with this people may be continued.

Mr. George Harris, formerly superintendent of the Ashtabula rolling mill, has temporarily given up the farming business in Kansas and has returned to Cleveland where he has the position of superintendent in one of the sheet and plate mills in that city. Mrs. Harris and their son Henry are also with him.

The Whistle Nuisance.
At the next meeting of the Council a petition will be presented, praying the Council to take steps to abate the excessive use of steam whistles on the Franklin Division of the L. S. & M. S. R. Our citizens have borne this unreasonably din for years, and as it is constantly growing worse they now ask for its abatement. There seems to be a strife among all the engineers on this division to see who can make the most noise from the round house to the overhead bridge, and their whistles are toned from the sharp, shrill note of the peevish to the deep tone of a fog-horn. Some of the engineers on the incoming freight have a system of signals by which their wives and families may know they are coming. The signal business is a complete success, for not only do the wives and families know of their return, but every person within the radius of five miles, by the sound of the whistle. It is hoped the boys will let up on this infernal business without action of the Council.

$1,000 Haul.
Last Tuesday night Mr. W. J. Keen, of Andover, and proprietor of the hotel after his name, was robbed about nine o'clock of $1,000 in cash. The money was kept in a cigar box in his bedroom; having occasion to enter that apartment at the hour above named he discovered the thieves making off with the money through a window. His loss was immediately discovered, and the alarm given, but notwithstanding nearly all the neighbors joined in pursuit the thieves escaped. It is said suspicion points to two well appearing men, who for two days previous were stopping at the Morley House in that town, one of whom had a scar on his neck. It is surprising that men will keep such an amount of money in the house when there are so many safe places for it.

Ma. Wm. Humphrey.—The attack of apoplexy, noticed last week, resulted in the death of Mr. Humphrey on Monday last, in the 65th year of his age. He was born in Saybrook, and belonged to a family of pioneers. His life has been spent here. He began business as a Hatter in the days of steamboats, when that was a point for the stopping of passing boats. He was extensively known as a man of sound judgment and successful in his business transactions, which were somewhat extensive. He has been identified with the enterprises and business interests of the place. Though eccentric in manner he was always on the side of right and justice, and his honesty and integrity were never questioned. He had a kind heart, and was not known to turn away from appeals to his sympathy and assistance. The poor seldom failed to find in him a generous friend. His departure will be a loss to the community. The funeral was largely attended, and a feeling of true respect seemed to be prominent in every mind. The services were performed by the Rev. Mr. Sanford, of the Congregational Church, of which the deceased was a member.

Ashtabula County Medical Society held its September 10th, in Temperance Hall, Ashtabula, at 11 a. m. After an inaugural by the president—Dr. Merriam of Conneaut—and the transaction of the usual business the society adjourned till afternoon. The afternoon session was occupied with reports of cases, and discussions under the following topics—typhoid fever, typhoid tumors and diphtheria—after which the minutes were read and approved, and the society adjourned to meet at the same place on the second Wednesday in December. L. B. TUCKERMAN, Secy.

Scraper for October.
Among the noticeable features of this month's issue are the following:
"Ups and downs in Leadville." A fresh and important contribution by Ernest Ingerson, who has recently visited the carbonate mines in the interests of Scribner. The paper is of rare anecdotal and picturesque interest as a description of mining life, while its graphic character is enhanced by illustrations made at the mines.
"Edison's Telegraph." A description of the late automatic telegraph which for a year is in operation, and attained the marvelous speed of several thousand words per minute; accompanying is a portrait of Mr. Edison, which is pronounced faithful.
"Arthur Sullivan"—A biographical sketch by Kate Field, with a portrait of the famous English composer. An engraving of great softness and delicacy, accompanying a possibly Charles de Kay, is Thomas Cole's beautiful oil of Fortunio's "Tipping Shepherd."
"Henry James, Jr.'s Story"—This, the first installment of "Confidence," will be found of increasing interest and sprightliness.
"Haworths," by Mrs. Burnett, is concluded in this number, and a shorter novel by the same author, entitled "Louisiana," will begin soon.

Among the other papers of note in this number are: "Rio de Janeiro," the fifth article on Brazil; the second paper by Prof. Lounsbury on "English Spelling Reform"; "Field Sports in Minnesota," an other of the richly illustrated accounts of outdoor life which Scribner's has given prominent place; "Journalism as exemplified by the late Mr. Baggett," capital short stories, poems, editorial departments, etc.

Sixth cavalry will hold its reunion at Orwell, Oct. 17th. Gen. Kilpatrick will be in attendance.

The Grand Jury closed its labors on Wednesday afternoon of last week, after session of about two days.

THE SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.
Pleasant Weather and a Grand Time—Fine Shooting by Skillful Marksmen.
The first public shooting match given by the Ashtabula Shooting Club took place on the flat east of the dam last Monday afternoon and Tuesday, and drew out a large number of interested spectators from this and adjoining towns. Besides members of the home club, there were marksmen from Erie, New Castle, Jamestown, Kinsman, Geneva and Erie. The following is the
