

WASHINGTON.

COMMISSIONER RAUM in his report recommends the repeal of the tax on matches.

THE National Grange (Patrons of Husbandry) met in annual session at Washington on the 17th.

SECRETARY SCHURZ recommends in his annual report an appropriation sufficient to pay the expenses for their lands, provided they return to the Indian Territory.

THE Director of the Mint estimated the amount of gold in this country on the 2d of November at $25,951,179.

POSTMASTER GENERAL MAYBARD has sent an order to the postmaster at Cincinnati to refuse payment of money orders and refuse to deliver registered letters addressed to Byron H. Robb and others, proprietors of the "Singapore Tobacco Co."

OF the $100,000,000 held by the Treasury on the 17th, about $5,000,000 was in coin, the remainder, $95,000,000, being in colored bonds.

BIGGARD GENERAL ZIEGLER, of the United States Marine Corps, died on the 19th.

THE total exports of domestic products from the United States during October were $25,711,458.

FIFTY-FIVE railroads, whose earnings have been added together, show a great increase over the earnings of the same lines upon a corresponding date in 1873.

IT is proposed to put electric lights in Government light houses. The experiment will be tried.

THE EAST.

J. C. BROWN, a Quaker of Philadelphia, who has just returned from Louisiana and Alabama, says thousands of colored people are leaving those States pell-mell.

THE census of the population of New York City, according to the last census, are foretellers.

MISS ELIZA McCORMICK CAMERON, eldest daughter of Senator Don Cameron, was married to William H. Bradley, son of Judge Bradley of the U. S. Supreme Court, on the 17th.

THE New York canal will be closed December 8.

THE official vote of New York City in the following: Hancock, 125,015; Garfield, 81,687; Weaver, 610; Dow, 20. Hancock over, 43,328.

A BILL has been introduced in the Vermont Legislature to forbid train running on Sunday.

GARFIELD'S official majority in New York is 50,585.

A LAD named Frederick Palmer, of Elmira, N. Y., has lost an eye from epidemic poisoning. The other eye is endangered.

CHARLES READE, the novelist, has sent some cuttings from a mulberry tree at the grave of Shakespeare to be planted in Central Park, New York City.

HOUSES in an omnibus at Fitchburg, Mass., becoming frightened by a railroad train on the 15th, the omnibus was overturned and twelve persons were injured more or less, none fatally.

THE Enterprise Gun Works of James Brown & Sons at Pittsburgh, were destroyed by fire on the 15th.

A FIREIGHT train ran into a company of workmen in a tunnel near Altoona, Pa., on the 15th, killing one and injuring three others, one of whom was probably fatally.

SERGEANT DREWYON W. B. HOKK has notified all subordinate lodges of the Knights of Honor not to forward any funds to Jamestown, N. Y., as he requests them to retain the same until his official successor is named.

THE official canvass of votes in Connecticut shows Garfield's plurality to be 2,606; majority over all, 1,382.

NEWS has reached New York of the loss of the schooner Abraham Lincoln on the Labrador coast in the latter part of September, with the sacrifice of thirty lives.

WEST AND SOUTH.

A DISPATCH from St. Peter, Minn., on the 19th, stated that, owing to the excitement, it was almost impossible to get a complete list of those killed and hurt by the burning of the Insane Asylum at that place at the night before.

THE Omaha Jury at Denver, Col., in the case of the Chinaman killed there October 31, by a mob, in their verdict, given on the 16th, condemn the city government for inefficiency and incompetency and state that the mob could have been suppressed by the regular police force who they fearlessly arrested the ringleaders.

TWO-thirds of the buildings in Newport, Ark., were destroyed by fire on the 15th. About two hundred families were rendered homeless.

JOSEPH E. BROWN has been elected to the United States Senate by the Georgia General Assembly.

FULL official returns of the California election show that Henry Edgerton, Republican Elector, received 97 votes more than Judge Terry, lowest on the Democratic ticket, and is elected.

GENERAL ROY, in his annual report of military affairs in the Department of Missouri, says the trouble with the State Indians has always been in relation to their food. He says the Indian agents have been in the habit of punishing the Sioux and Cheyenne tribes above suspicion when they were found guilty of unloading by the aid of a diver.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Cut off to Massachusetts' friends. CLEM CARROLL, the oldest negro in Virginia, died a few days ago at the home of his relatives, near Guilford, in Loudoun County, Va.

A CONSTRUCTION TRAIN on the Dallas and Wichita Railroad went through a temporary bridge on Hickory Creek, near Lewisville, Texas, on the 16th.

AT Denver, Col., on the morning of the 17th, the thermometer was frozen below zero.

EIGHT bodies were found among the ruins of the St. Peter (Minn.) Hospital on the 17th.

A SPECIAL train carrying four companies of the Sixteenth Infantry, struck a broken rail near Corvallis, Texas, on the 17th, derauling four coaches.

THE 17th while Corwin Call, a miner, residing at Logan, Ohio, was supplying a quantity of blasting powder into a sack which his wife was holding, the powder exploded.

A FIRE at Goshen, Ind., on the 17th, destroyed a saw-mill, two business blocks, six stables and a number of warehouses.

A DIFFICULTY occurred at Moreland's Station, Ky., on the 17th, between Cave Rowley and a Union on one side, and M. Canal and Houston on the other.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

THE following statement of the condition of corn, tobacco and other crops, issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

THE crop of corn shows no increase over that of last year, but rather a slight decline for the year.

Report of General Sherman.

WASHINGTON, November 15. The annual report of General Sherman to the Secretary of War is given to the public to-day.

"I agree with General Sherman that the army is too small in enlisted men to fulfill the heavy duties now imposed on it, and is overworked. I, therefore, renew my recommendation of an increase of the regular army to 100,000 men."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

"The progress of the war has shown the necessity of a more efficient organization of the army, and I have endeavored to make a separate provision for detachments of 'advance men,' 'scouts,' 'light battalions,' 'hospital stewards,' 'ambulance companies,' 'wagon detachments,' 'detailed clerks,' etc., in the same manner as has already been done for the Signal Corps."

THE INSANE ASYLUM HORROR.

Particulars of the Burning of a Portion of the Minnesota Insane Asylum at St. Peter.

A bulletin to the Pioneer-Press, from St. Peter, says: The number of lives lost by burning and freezing in the Insane Asylum are variously estimated from twenty to fifty.

"The scenes at the burning of the south wing of the hospital were heartrending in the extreme. So appalling a sight has rarely been witnessed, and I trust in God, may never be again. The patients in the annex wing were males. Many of them refused to leave the building at all. They ran up and down the halls screaming and crying and acting like the Bedlamites they were. Of course those who could not be coaxed nor forced out of the building because the unhappy victims of the flames and suffered a horrible death in the pit of their own hearts, were left to rot, and some by leaping from the windows; some were nearly nude, some shoeless and hatless, and all were exposed to the exceeding cold of the night. Many of the poor, demented and crazed inmates fled as if their lives depended on it, and were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

"The poor, dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped from the flames were at large half-dressed, and some were taken or confined. Their suffering in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate, and one impossible to describe.

The Legal Meaning of Some Common Words.

"TO RESORT" means to go on or more. In State against Ah Sam the Nevada Supreme Court, under a statute forbidding any one "to resort" to any place to smoke opium.

"EGGS" are not "meat" nor "poultry" within a statute prohibiting the sale of such articles when unbound. Boring through the floor with an auger constitutes burglary, says the Alabama Supreme Court. In Walker against State.

A farm overseer is not a "laborer," within the lien law. "No bills, etc., representing money loaned on interest by a corporation, are "property" liable to taxation. A railroad depot is a "warehouse," within the statute of burglary.

A Sunday-school is not "Divine worship," but a building for the sessions of a Sunday-school and religious lectures is for a religious purpose, although occasionally used for fairs and other benevolent purposes. The Court said [in a Pennsylvania case]: "The Sunday-school rooms and the lecture-room of a modern church are as essentially used for religious purposes as the body of the church building itself."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not the "head of a family."

A supervising architect is a person performing a laborer's service, and not a "laborer," within the meaning of the mechanics' lien law. A widow keeping boarding-house, with a female servant residing with her, and female servants, besides the boarders, is the "head of a family." But a single man who keeps house and has no other persons living with him, though he has a wife, and a child, is not