Egyptian Wheat.—James Young, of Madison Tp., brought into our sanctum on Thursday last, a very fine specimen of what he calls Egyptian Wheat.

He delivers his last lecture to-night on the subject of marriage compatibility, showing what temperaments ought, and what temperaments ought not to be united in wedlock. Go early to secure a seat.

Off for Logan.—The Lancaster "Wide Awakes" numbering some 66, started for Logan last night about 11 o'clock, on board the steamer "Irene," Capt. Johnson, where the citizens of Hocking and adjoining counties are to be addressed by the Hon. John Sherman and Hon. V. S. Horton to-day, after which they will join the Hocking "Wide Awakes" this evening in a grand torch light procession.

NEW STORE.—Andrew Reid, late of Zanesville, Ohio, opened out this morning, in the Tallmadge Block, a new, large and splendid assortment of Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes &c.—Mr. Reid comes to us well recommended not only as a business man, but as a gentleman. Special inducements are offered to the ladies both of the city and country. We bespeak for him a liberal share of public patronage.

PIANO-FORTE AND MELODEONS.—As may be seen by reference to his advertisement in to-day's paper, Mr. S. S. Faser has opened in the Giesey Building, at the Parker Sewing Machine Office, a very choice variety of Pianos and Melodeons, to which we invite the attention of the public. Persons wishing to purchase either of the above instruments will do well to call on Mr. F. as they will be sure to get a good bargain. His instruments are all warranted.

MISS BLODIN ON THE ROCK.—This distinguished gentleman will make one of his grand ascensions at Circleville, next Wednesday, (5th,) this being his last appearance west of Niagara this season.

We are informed by Mr. Cassel, the agent at this place, that an excursion train will be run over the C. W. & Z. Railroad, every day passengers there and back the same day. Those who desire to see his wonderful performance have now a good opportunity afforded them. Let it be encouraged.

Pole Raisings.—The Republicans of "old Fairfield" are waking up. Even in benighted Bern, the darkest spot in this political "Egypt" of Ohio, they are "wide awake," active and determined. Two Republican poles have been raised—one in front of the residence of W. S. Crook, gotten up by himself, the other in East Lancaster, gotten up by Samuel Hennick and G. H. Denton. These meetings were well attended by the Republicans of the neighborhood, and the utmost enthusiasm, determination and good feeling prevailed. Messrs. Crook, Denton, and Hennick are live Republicans and deserve much praise. Two of these gentlemen were once members of the Democratic party, but when that time honored organization abandoned its ancient principles, when it at last bowed in complete servility to the capitalists—the slave oligarchy of the South; when it sought to fasten upon the free territories of this land, an institution that degraded them, and theirs—when it sought to bring slave labor in competition with their labor, these honest "reemans of the land" stood by their principles, and attached themselves to that party that seeks to promote their true interest—that favors labor rather than capital—freedom rather than slavery.

For the Gazette and Democrat. Fatal Accident.

Jesse Stout, son of Benjamin Stout, of Stoutsville, Fairfield county, Ohio, was on the 22d inst., accidentally shot dead on the spot, while engaged in cutting bushes in a field adjoining said town. He was at work near a fence about a hundred and twenty yards from the blacksmith shop of Jacob Smith, who was exhibiting a short gun to HENRY GARNER, jr., and JACOB TAXMAN, all shooting by turns from within the said shop toward a paper mark on the rail of a fence close by. Jesse S., who was at work near a fence on the other side of the small field lying between, could easily have been seen from the shop; but, inattention, it appears, to anything else, but the paper mark on the rail, sent the bullet through the heart of a good, industrious and respected young man, killing him almost instantly, without a moment's warning, and overthrowing his parents, brothers and sisters with sorrow and anguish, and the community with the gloom of sadness and painful regrets.

The victim was discovered shortly after the accident had occurred, by a younger brother, who was engaged in the same kind of work, but had suspected no manner of harm. He gave the alarm, and a post mortem examination was held before a jury, whose verdict, I understand, was in accordance with the above facts.

The funeral on the day following was attended by a large concourse of people, who manifested the deepest sympathy in behalf of the afflicted family. The occasion was improved by remarks on Eccles., 9, 12, "Man also, knoweth not his time," both in the German and English language.

Jesse Stout was born Jan. 12th, 1842, and was received by baptism as an infant member of the German Reformed Church on March ensuing the 23th, by the Rev. H. King.

Thus suddenly in the flower of his manhood he was he cut off, at the age of 18 years, 7 months and 10 days.

Leaves here their time to fall, And flowers to wither in the North wind's breath; The last of seasons for them, O Death."

P. D. SCHORY, Lancaster, Aug. 27, 1860.

Enter on Pike's Peak.—Sr. Joseph, August 27.—The Pike's Peak Express with Denver City dates to the 21st inst., arrived to day.

A subscription was being raised for extending the telegraph line from Fort Kearney to Denver City, with a good prospect of obtaining the requisite sum. The excitement in regard to the recently discovered silver leads near Tarryall, was increasing. The ore assays from $200 to $1,600 to the ton.

Business at Denver City was reviving. Many substantial brick buildings are going up.

LOST! LOST!! On Friday last, a pocket book containing valuable papers, the property of Jas. Taylor, of New Lexington, Perry Co., O. These papers are valuable to the owner, and a liberal reward will be paid to the finder on his returning the same to the owner or leaving them at this office.

Putnam Female Seminary.

We are happy to call attention to an advertisement of this Institution in another column. The Zanesville Courier speaks as follows of the Institution under the management of its new proprietor:

"We have such information before us as enables us to say, with assurance, that the new Principal, Mr. Franklin Wood, and also Mrs. Wood, are as well qualified as they are recommended; being vouched for by many who have been acquainted with them for years; and as we are assured from a proper source, they will be sustained by a strong corps of assistants, we are persuaded that the next term of this old established Seminary will open under the most favorable auspices. The arrangements made for the accommodation of Boarding Pupils is complete, and we do not hesitate to commend the Institution as in every way worthy the confidence and support of those who have daughters or wards to educate."

With this recommendation before us, we feel safe in commending the above Seminary to the public. For health, beauty of location, ease of access, &c., certainly no place can be more favorably situated, and we are greatly mistaken if in the present permanent arrangements for the management of this Institution will not give it the preference, and the confidence of the public, not only at home, but in other parts of the State.

Lincoln and Fillmore.

The following comparison of the views of ABRAHAM LINCOLN and MILLARD FILLMORE, in regard to slavery, we find in the Philadelphia North American. It is worthy the attention of those who claim for the latter of those statesman a degree of "conservatism" which they deny to the former. Mr. LINCOLN was a member of the Illinois Legislature in 1837, and Mr. FILLMORE was a candidate for Congress from the Buffalo District, in 1838. And it so happened that they both took position in regard to this question of Slavery at that time. Resolutions were introduced and carried through the Illinois Legislature which Mr. LINCOLN did not approve, and he and his colleague entered a protest on the journals in the words below. Mr. FILLMORE was formally interrogated by a Committee of the Anti Slavery Society, and gave the following answer, which we place in contrast with Mr. LINCOLN's protest:

MR. LINCOLN. MR. FILLMORE. MARCH 3, 1837. BUFFALO, Oct. 17, 38.

The following protest was presented to the House, which was 15th in a t a, as read and ordered to Chairman of a committee spread on the journals, to wit:

"Resolutions upon the subject of domestic slavery, having been presented to the General Assembly, and the undersigned having signed hereby protest to Congress on the subject of slavery and the slave trade, sought to be received by the institution of the undersigned, and respectfully considered by the representatives of the both injustice and bad policy; but that the promulgation of abolition doctrines tendent rather to increase than to diminish its evils.

"They believe that the Congress of the United States has no power, under the Constitution, to interfere with the institution of slavery in the District of Columbia; but that that power ought not to be exercised unless at the request of the people of said District.

"The difference between these two opinions, therefore, content and those contained in the said resolutions, and in answer to their reasons for enacting the same, is as follows:

DAN STONE, A. LINCOLN, Representatives in a session of the Sangamon.

MILLARD FILLMORE, W. Mills, Esq.

The North American goes on to say: At that early day Mr. Lincoln opposed "Abolition doctrines," while Mr. Fillmore not only favored them, but was among their most radical champions. He and the men who acted with him are morally responsible for most of the agitation which has since followed, because they were not only in advance of any rational and practical sentiment, but his letter proclaims opinions wholly inconsistent with all correct ideas of constitutional obligation, and which if enforced, would lead to the worst form of sectionalism, and result in a disruption of the Union. Mr. Seward's "irrepressible conflict" is the essence of moderation compared with Mr. Fillmore's letter and neither Garrison nor Wendell Phillips has ever uttered more thorough Abolitionism than is embodied in his brief but pointed response to the Anti-Slavery committee, whose votes and favor he desired to secure. Contrast it with the manly and voluntary protest of Mr. Lincoln, and the effect will be still more striking.

St. Louis, Aug. 27.—Much excitement exists in Hancock county, Illinois, relative to a rumor that the Mormons intend returning and settling at Nauvoo, under the head of Jos. Smith, Jr. A mass meeting of citizens was held on the 21st at Carthage, who protested against, and declared that they would not allow them to return.

ONE DAY LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE NOVA SCOTIAN.

FATHER TIME, Aug. 27.—The steamer Nova Scotian, from Liverpool on the 16th inst., via London, on the 17th, passed this point this evening, bound to Quebec.

The steamer Bremen, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 17th inst. London, August 17th.—The Paris correspondent of the Allgemeine Zeitung of the 10th inst., says that the Pope has written a very melancholy letter to the Cardinals in France. He looks upon all as lost, and although convinced that he will die by the bullet of an assassin, he declares that he will quit Rome under no conditions and for no price.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 17.—Advices from Damascus of the 15th inst., state that Feud Pascha had surrounded Lebanon with troops, and threatened with the sword the Druzes and Shiaks if they did not surrender in two days. Twenty Shiaks had already been taken, and a thousand other arrests made. A nearly 8000 armed also loaded with plundered property had also been discovered.

The Sultan visited the Porte on Thursday, and delivered his speech to the Ministers, expressing a resolution to punish the Syrian offenders most severely, and also an intention of reducing the list of high functionaries, and of effecting economy generally. Paper money is so much in circulation until July next.

The Sultan is about to address an autograph letter to Queen Victoria, and the Emperor Napoleon, on the subject of Syria, in which he will express a desire to have the sole punishment of the offenders. The massacre at Babee is confirmed. No details are given as yet.
