OHIO IDEA IS WELL RECEIVED

Anti-Meat Crusade Spreads Like Wildfire.

MILLION PERSONS INVOLVED

Cities Throughout Country Fall Into Line and Sign Pledges to Refrain From Eating Meat Until Such Time as Prices Drop -- In Wilmington, Del., City Officials Circulate Petitions and in Baltimore Vegetarians Wear Buttons to Proclaim Fact.

New York, Jan. 21.--Like with the boycott on high food prices, started in Cleveland a week ago, is spreading over the country.

Ohio, however, is still the stronghold of the movement. The Cleveland boycott has extended to Canton, where the Central Labor union has adopted a no-meat resolution, and petitions are being circulated with surprising results.

It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 persons have in a brief week become actively interested in the boycott.

The idea of depriving ourselves of meat simply to get lower prices does not appeal to federation people, said Secretary Charles Nockels.

Kansas City Experiments. A dispatch from Kansas City says that the experiment of the bricklayers' union in pledging itself to abstain from meat for 30 days was received so favorably on the first days that other labor organizations of that city will follow its example.

Omaha reported progress with the list, which the union leaders say will number 8,000 by the end of the week.

Down in Wilmington, Del., City Judge E. R. Cochran is circulating a petition pledging the signers to give up meat for 30 days, or until the price strikes a reasonable level.

Baltimore is a new convert to the anti-meat eating campaign. The fight there is being led by the Federation of Labor and its 103 affiliated unions.

THIS AND THAT

Three men were killed when a freight train on the Moffat road jumped the track on a steep grade near Denver, Colo.

Three thousand spectators at Ocala, Fla., witnessed the public execution of Will and Charles Muldins, negro murderers.

Arthur Shibley, shot by a lunatic in a New York park, died of his wounds, transfusion of blood from his mother having proved futile.

Joseph Bishop, secretary of the Ohio state board of arbitration, has been made secretary of the International association of governmental agencies.

Trainmen Will Not Strike. New York, Jan. 21.--The New York Central has refused to grant the advance in wages of the conductors and trainmen as had been requested.

LEADERS SLEEP AT THE SWITCH

Democrats Give Tawney the Scare of his Life.

Republican Members of House Leave Chamber Under Impression That Minority Intended to Caucus, When Without Warning Lloyd Tenders Resignation as Member of Ballinger Commission and Suggestion is Made That House Can Fill Vacancy.

Washington, Jan. 21.--Republican members of the house were nearly caught asleep at the switch when the Democrats, by what Representative Tawney of Minnesota calls a "shabby trick," came within an ace of putting one over the plate on them.

Early in the session Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, the minority leader, strolled over to where Representative Tawney was steering the urgent deficiency bill on a somewhat troublous passage through the house.

Tawney Suggests Adjournment. Along about 4:30 Mr. Tawney moved that the committee of the whole rise, and when this had been accomplished he got ready to suggest an immediate adjournment.

Here is a story from Philadelphia that ought to send thrills of joy to the hearts of bashful men who haven't been able to muster up nerve enough to "pop the question" to the girl of their choice.

Here is a story from Philadelphia that ought to send thrills of joy to the hearts of bashful men who haven't been able to muster up nerve enough to "pop the question" to the girl of their choice.

Representative Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic whip, argued savagely that it was the custom of the house to permit members of its committees to retire for good and sufficient reasons, and that in this case the house could fill the vacancy.

Representative Underwood of Alabama got up and poured oil on the troubled waters. He explained that Mr. Lloyd had acted on his individual responsibility without consulting anybody.

Before going into the details of how this "phthymograph" works out in actual practice some idea ought to be given of the mechanical construction. In the first place, there is a small metal cylinder on the inside of which is a rubber lining which fits the hand like a glove.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

It now looks as though there would be a much larger delegation from Mount Vernon and Knox county at the great convention to be held at Dayton the 25-27 than attended at the Cleveland convention.

Chicago, Jan. 21.--Paul O. Stensland, wrecker of the Milwaukee Avenue bank, and Henry W. Hering, his cashier, were late yesterday paroled from the Illinois Northern penitentiary, despite the bitter protests of hundreds of victims and of Polish societies representing other hundreds who had suffered directly or indirectly by the sensational crash.

Stensland and Hering had been sent down under the intermediate sentence law, which provided for from one to 14 years, with a possible commutation for good conduct to six years and three months. The men have been in prison since Sept. 26, 1906.

Oran, Algeria, Jan. 21.--Olie Slagers, a French aviator, had the most spectacular escape from death today in the annals of aeroplaning, when he was forced to jump from his blazing machine while making a flight near La Senia.

Slagers was painfully burned and badly jarred by his jump of about 30 feet, but his injuries are not believed to be serious. While at a great height, Slagers' aeroplane suddenly caught fire from the motor and the canvas planes began burning fiercely.

Miss Roxie Lutter, who is employed at the Fultz hotel, received a badly burned hand Friday morning while at her work.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 21.--Roasted to a crisp, the bodies of Mrs. J. A. Mullis and her three-weeks-old infant were discovered in the fireplace of the woman's home in the Daniel Mill settlement near Lincoln, yesterday.

We have discontinued to run our Huckleberry Wagon at Monroe Mills and will pay within 2c of the selling price for all produce at Monroe Mills or Mt. Vernon stores.

may recover. Mrs. Mullis was subject to fainting spells and it is presumed that while nursing her baby she fell over against the grate.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 21.--After poisoning and robbing W. S. Cash of his watch and $150, two unidentified men took their victim to his home in a taxicab here early today, summoned a member of the household to take charge of him, and then hurried away.

When he recovered consciousness, he said he had met the men in a saloon and later accompanied them to a restaurant. After eating he became ill, after which he remembered no more. Cash will recover.

A. C. Hartman, who has been a resident of this city for a number of years, has disappeared, leaving behind a host of creditors whose bills will foot up something like $500.

NOTES

Of General Interest From The Gas Field

The Helsey company has got started on the McCreary farm southeast of Granville.

Contractor Pearsall brought in Solon Ackley No. 4 Saturday, with volume of 1 1/2 millions. Mohican.

A line of Columbus Gas and Fuel company, south of town, was broken by the ice in the flood Tuesday.

The David Hankinson well of the Ohio Fuel northeast of Granville in the direction of the oil well, came in with a volume of one million.

The affairs of the New Guilford Oil & Gas Co. have been settled up. The company has sold its wells and leases some time ago to the Upham Gas Co.

This company has been one of the most successful of an yet the smaller in the field. After sinking a couple of wells in the edge of Coshocton county some years ago and failing to get results the stockholders decided to try their luck in Knox and were rewarded. The company has paid large dividends for several years each of the stockholders getting back his original investment and a neat amount in dividends besides.--Ex.

Mrs. S. H. Knight left for her home in Columbus Saturday after a several days' visit with relatives in Mt. Vernon.
