DETAILS

Of The Accident Which Caused The Death

Of Wiley Elliott Near City Of Newark

(Newark American Tribune) Wiley Elliott, aged 46 years, for many years employed in the bridge construction crew of the B. & O. R. R. company, fell from the top of a new bridge spanning Dry creek Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, and struck on his head, crushing the back part of his skull. He was hurried on a passenger train to St. Louisville, where he was viewed by Dr. Marriott, who ordered him brought to the hospital here as quickly as possible. He was placed aboard a passing freight train and brought to Newark.

The injured man was met at the train by the Bowers ambulance and conveyed to the Sanitorium, but he died shortly after reaching there. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Elliott, came down on the noon train.

Information from the scene of the accident, where Mr. Waltham was killed by a falling pile driver several months ago, is according to the statement made to the American Tribune, that Mr. Elliott was standing on top of the bridge, when for some unexplainable reason he lost his balance and fell a distance of 25 feet to the creek bed below.

His fellow-workmen ran to his aid; and discovered that he was desperately injured and that something would have to be done quickly if his life was saved. Fortunately the north-bound passenger train came along shortly after the accident, and he was placed on board and taken to his home town, St. Louisville. Dr. Marriott, the B. & O. surgeon at that point, met the train and after viewing the injured man, ordered that he be taken to the hospital in Newark immediately. A south-bound freight train arrived a few minutes later and Mr. Elliott was placed aboard.

A telephone message to the Bowers undertaking rooms caused the ambulance to be at the depot, and the injured man was taken to the Sanitorium, but died within a few moments, and the remains were taken to the establishment on Fourth street, where they were prepared for burial.

The deceased had been a lifelong resident of St. Louisville. His wife, who preceded him to the grave fifteen years ago, was the sister of O. C. Martin, formerly in the probate judge's office here. Since her death he had been making his home with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Elliott, whose husband died several years ago. He leaves besides his mother a daughter, Margaret, aged 16, and two sisters, Mrs. Chas. D. Fleming, of High street, this city, and Mrs. Perry Athey, on North Sixth street.

The remains of Mr. Elliott were taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Perry Athey, on North Sixth street. The body will be taken to St. Louisville on the evening train, and the funeral services will be held at his home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There will be Sunday school at the Mt. Zion church, Sunday, April 3, at 2:30 p. m. Let everybody come and lend a helping hand.

Costing The Sum Of $40,000--Carnegie To Give

$5000 Towards Construction Of The Building

Columbus O. March 31.—Plans for the building of a $40,000 library for Kenyon College, at Gambier, were completed yesterday afternoon by the trustees of the college, who met in the Clittenden hotel. When completed, it will be one of the finest college libraries in the state.

The old library was destroyed by fire last year. The new structure probably will be ready for dedication during commencement week, 1911.

Andrew Carnegie has notified the board of trustees that he will give $5,000 towards the building, as soon as a certain percentage of the required sum is raised.

CHICAGO GLEE CLUB

The Closing Attraction On The High School Course

The high school lecture course committee wish to call special attention to the final number on the course, the Chicago Glee Club, which plays at the high school auditorium next Tuesday night, April 5. In selecting the talent for the season the committee asked for the very best glee club on the road and was assured that there is none better than this one. Besides the regular quartet work the club has one of the finest trombone quartets in the country and one of the young men is an impersonator of high rank. Other than the regular reserved seats there will be no reservations for this number, the price being for any of the seats that are not held by season patrons 50c.

Special effort is being made to get a packed house both for the reason that the number is worthy the attendance and also that the committee very much need the same.

EXCITING

Runaway Occurs On Streets Of Fredericktown

Walter LaFever, residing on the Columbus road, just south of Fredericktown, narrowly escaped serious injuries in a runaway which occurred Wednesday evening. He had driven to Fredericktown and was on the main street when for some reason the horse became frightened and started to run away. The buggy was upset and the harness became entangled in the horse's legs, throwing it to the ground. Mr. LaFever, partly by quick action and partly by good luck, jumped from the buggy just as it was turning over or he would undoubtedly have sustained severe injuries. The buggy was demolished and the horse was somewhat injured. Luckily, no other riders were on the street at the time or there would probably have been a general mix-up.

ROBBER

Makes Bold Attempt To Burglarize Home

Of Mr. W. L. Wolfe Near Village Of Gambier

Gambier, O., March 31.—A robber made a bold attempt to rob Mr. W. L. Wolfe, residing near this place Tuesday evening. Mr. Wolfe had conducted a sale during the day and had a large amount of money concealed in his bedroom. About 12 o'clock Mr. Wolfe was awakened from his slumbers to find someone standing in his bedroom. Mr. Wolfe got up immediately and as he did so the robber made a hasty retreat through the back door, which was left unlocked. It is the supposition that the robbery was attempted by some one in the vicinity who knew that Mr. Wolfe had a large sum of money in the house.

STRANGER

Who Was Begging Grabs Check And Tries Cash-ing It

(Mansfield News) Wednesday morning a stranger went into the office of the Herring Buggy Company on East Fourth street and tried to do some begging. The people at the buggy plant did not miss anything at the time, but shortly before the noon hour there were some startling developments.

The stranger who had been at the Herring plant went into the bank of Mansfield and asked to have a check for $569.50 cashed. When the cashier looked at the piece of paper he was considerably surprised not only at the amount of money represented by the check, but the further fact that the check was one which was made out in favor of the Herring Buggy company. He was told that the check was payable to the Herring Buggy company and he replied that he did not know that. When asked where he got the check the man stated that he found it on St. Clair street. The Herring Buggy company was notified by the bank and Mr. Herring, the head of the firm, offered to give the man $1 for finding the check, if he would come down to the plant again. The man started down, but in the meantime the police were put next to the matter and Officer Elmer Lurz chased down to the buggy works and nailed the fellow who tried to pass the check. As the check had no value no charge could be placed against the man, but he was locked up on the charge of begging. He gave the name of John Steve. He had $2.50 and a bottle of whiskey in his clothes.

PITTSBURG HEALTH OFFICER INDICTED

Dr. Walters Denies Selling Vote and Will Fight Charge.

Pittsburg, March 31.—Sixteen additional indictments were handed down against councilmen who, it is alleged, sold their votes and honor for money, by the grand jury investigators. Five of these indicted are members of the present city council. The sensation of these indictments, however, was the identification of the name of Dr. E. B. Walters, now head of the department of health and charities of Pittsburg and leading man in the cabinet of Mayor Magee. The grand jury in indicting Walters asserts it has proof that while he was president of high councils he solicited and accepted a bribe of $1,000 for his vote in council. The bribery alleged occurred in 1908.

Dr. Walters denies that he received the money. He declares he will not resign his position and he will fight in the courts. Investigation of the part played by the Farmers' Deposit National bank of Pittsburg in the bribing of councilmen was continued by the grand jury. Special detectives invaded the bank and took 15 clerks, bookkeepers, etc., before the grand jury without ceremony.

Resident Of Mt. Vernon Writes On "Boyish Memories"

And Tells Of This City During War Days

The Toledo, O., Journal of Sunday, March 27, contains a large page article written by Mr. Harvey Scribner, a former resident of this city, on "Boyish Memories" and the entire article is devoted to events which took place in Mt. Vernon during the war times. Mention is also made of the distinguished families of that early date—the Hurds, Delanoes, Ewing, Coopers, Shermans and others. The writer also tells in an interesting way some of the events in the early life of the late General George W. Morgan. The article is illustrated and contains cuts of Mr. Scribner's old home in Mt. Vernon, now the Home for the Aged, a cut of the late Hon. Frank Hurd and others.
