MARIETTA COLLEGE JUBILEE IS OPENED

President Taft to Be Speaker Wednesday.

Marietta, O., June 13.—Marietta is today a mass of gay colors in honor of the greatest event in her history—the diamond jubilee celebration of Marietta college and homecoming week.

Today is being given over mostly to social affairs. Tomorrow is alumni day. The fiftieth anniversary of Marietta chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will be celebrated, and Professor Edwin A. Grosvenor of Amherst college, national president, will deliver two addresses.

DIES DEFENDING SON

Woman Shot Down by Husband, Who Then Ends Own Life.

Richmond, Va., June 13.—Allen B. Paul, treasurer of the Pine Street Baptist church, shot and instantly killed his wife and later blew out his brains, at the Paul home. The shooting followed an all-night quarrel. Mrs. Paul was killed in defending her son Leslie, 8, as the father, who had retired shortly before the deed was committed, entered the boy's room soon after, armed with a .32-caliber revolver. His wife rushed in between him and the boy just as he pulled the trigger, the bullet taking effect in her left arm and penetrating her left lung. Crying for the lad to run "for his life," the mother fell to the floor. Standing over her body the man fired another bullet into her left breast, resulting in death in a few minutes. It is thought that he was afflicted with an attack of temporary insanity.

WHAT A WONDERFUL CHANGE

The Howard Roller Mills have been compelled to run almost night and day to accommodate the rush of farmers and orders from merchants for the Pride of the Valley flour.

Under the management of Mr. E. I. Brown of the Brown Milling Co. in spite of the open houses kept all over the country by the Minnesota flour people who give free lunch and a sack of flour to everybody while they are soliciting orders.

Why is This So Because the grocers of Howard and adjoining towns, cities, farmers and consumers believe in standing by their home wheat growers and the farm laborers instead of the north-west people. No! don't let us stand still and see one of the best enterprises we have shrink, dwindle and die by the sting of a great monopoly with its millions, giving away thousands by gifts and premiums to suppress the greatest enterprises of this country, known as the winter wheat growers and the mills.

We want to say just here that we have the first time ever to blend one pound of spring wheat flour in our flour. We have always believed in standing by our home wheat growers. And, anyhow, the flour made by the Brown Milling Co. out of the pure winter wheat is the richest and whitest, needing no alum or other bleaches to make delicious white bread and cakes.

Don't forget to call for the "Pride of the Valley" flour and be convinced. BROWN MILLING CO., Howard, Ohio.

BANK Started By Solomon At Walthoning Closes Doors

The Walthoning Bank, which was started at Walthoning last December by A. J. Solomon, closed its doors Saturday and it is likely that the business will be closed up and the bank discontinued. Joe L. McDowell and Warren Hay of Coshocton have been appointed receivers. The closing of this bank follows similar action taken by Solomon and his associates two or three days ago at Marshallfield, Wayne county. It is said that a major portion of the assets of the bank are invested in paper of the Butler Mfg. Co. of Butler, O., of which Mr. Solomon is at the head, and that it cannot be realized upon at present.

Asked. "If you really want to be smart and up to date," said a young woman, "there is one word you must drop from your vocabulary, and that is the word 'invited.' No person of any claims to standing uses it any more. You must not say that you have been invited to Mrs. Spardier's dinner party. You mention simply that you have been 'asked.' You have been 'asked' to attend Miss Spink's wedding, and you have 'asked' a few people for dinner on Thursday. I am not informed as to what smart noun replaces 'invitation,' but I do not hold those persons who use 'bid' or 'invite.' It is best, I think, to avoid the use of any substantive whatever in such a connection and to bring in the verb 'ask' as often as one can. If you cling to 'invited' you must expect to be considered as hopeless, just as if you played pingpong or collected souvenir spoons."—New York Press.

Airships and Air Currents. Germany's greatest achievement is not the technical perfection of the air going craft; she has learned how to use the air currents as the birds do in traveling. This is a science; the ship is only its instrument. Airships will double and triple their speed by acting in harmony with the forces of nature, the primal speed maker. There is a working force only lately reckoned with even by builders of air craft, and that is the wind. Airships will use the trade wind to reach this continent because it always blows one way. That is as simple a proposition as that a low powered steamer should use the gulf stream. Air traffic to compete with rail or water must maintain as sure a schedule of travel. Germany has already mapped her airship routes to and from America.—Century
