SOME MORE EXPERIENCE.

No claim is made that Cox and Burton selected Granville W. Mooney as their candidate for secretary of state because of his "experience" in that office.

It was Mooney who brought the "Taft program" from Washington to Columbus at the opening of the session this year.

As dictator to the house Republican majority it was Mooney's "experience" that forced through an "elastic" tax limit in defiance of Governor Harmon's insistence upon a specific 10-mill limit.

After such "experiences" by Mr. Mooney as speaker of the house can the voters of Ohio expect any better "experiences" from him in any other position?

Charles H. Graves of Ottawa county has had just as much experience in the duties of secretary of state as Mr. Mooney has had because Mooney hasn't had any.

SHAM INSURGENCY.

Cannon says he will be a candidate before the caucus for speaker no matter how many oppose him.

A Business Luxury

A CHECKING ACCOUNT is a business necessity; and he who tries to get along without one is at great disadvantage.

It is not required that a person should have a large bulk of business in order to open an account.

Professional men, farmers, and many women, are running checking-accounts. If you have never done business in this way, come to us and we will get you started.

The New Knox National Bank MT. VERNON, OHIO.

"Uncle Joe" next time. Why? Because, he says, "I am absolutely convinced that Mr. Cannon cannot be elected Speaker."

So! If Nick were absolutely convinced that Cannon could be elected speaker he would not desert, for he says further, "had it remained doubtful whether he would be a candidate or not, it was my intention not to commit myself before election as to whom I should or should not support for Speaker."

No doubt there is more "insurgency" of this same kind. It is the kind that will be "against Cannon" before election and for "the caucus nominee," whether it be Cannon or some other exponent of Cannonism, after election.

How often the voters have been fooled by just such chicanery. There is but one sure way to beat it, President Taft and Son-in-law Longworth may think they are smart enough to fool you, but you can fool them by electing 21 Democrats to congress from Ohio this year.

ON HIS OWN MERITS. It was not necessary for Governor Harmon to make any trips to Beverly, or Oyster Bay to get anybody's consent to his candidacy or to get a campaign boost.

AUTO PRICES

Expected To Take A Drop Before Very Long

"Lookout for some genuine surprises this fall in the prices of motor cars," remarked a local auto enthusiast to a Banner man Monday. "The prices on all the standard make cars are going to be considerably less than this past year and every car is going to be a better car than it ever has been before."

OPENING

Of The Knox County Teachers' Institute

At High School Auditorium Monday Morning

Monday morning's session of the annual institute of the Knox County Teachers' association, which is being held in the high school auditorium, was opened with devotional exercises conducted by President R. A. Knox of Fredericktown.

He said that, although it would seem from his subject as if teaching had fallen into a passive state, there never was a time when so much good teaching was done as at the present time. But the public mind now centers more on the organizer than on the individual teacher and looks upon the school as an organization.

After a short intermission, Prof. F. A. Barbour of Ypsilanti, Mich., gave a talk on "Qualifications Necessary for Success in Teaching." He said that there are certain personal qualifications necessary for success apart from knowledge of books.

Tuesday a. m. Primary Reading—Mr. Barbour. School Discipline—Mr. Coughlin. Tuesday p. m. The Problem in Teaching English Composition—Mr. Barbour. The Pedagogy of Arithmetic—Mr. Coughlin.

The most deceitful thing about a woman is how soft she can purr just before she scratches.

IN THE REALM OF FASHION

A Picture Gown. A picture poem of a gown for a young girl is of batiste embroidered in pompadour wreaths in pale green and pink. The scalloped eyelot worked edge of the overdress is relieved by blue messaline, which also heads the embroidered skirt ruffle.

A Cozy, Dainty Outing Coat. Of course the truly athletic girl will merely sniff at the very idea of an outing coat being dainty. And it is rather more for the maiden who strolls or drives in lingerie frocks than for the sister in trotteur skirts and high laced boots.

It is a new coat, with all the novelty and charm of extreme daintiness to make it popular. It is made of white Japanese silk both inside and out and carefully interlined with soft cotton, then generously quilted just as any dressing gown would be. Without the bulkiness, however, of the bedroom gown and far more shapely in its lines is this smart little coat made to wear instead of the regulation sweater. It is claimed for it that it will wash beautifully, which would obviate its one possible drawback. White is always lovely, but somewhat delicate for strenuous wear. Patch pockets give it a jaunty air, and the neck is much like that of the V shaped sweater coat. Surely no one will feel that $6 is an unreasonable sum to give for so attractive a garment.

TIPS FOR HOME DRESSMAKERS.

If Patterns Bother You Cut One For Yourself.

Although there are many good patterns to be had nowadays and they come pretty close to actual measurements, still there are some who continue to have difficulty in getting their clothes to fit. If you find after cutting out your waist from the paper pattern you have purchased that you must cut here, take up there and shave out the armholes the best plan to adopt is to cut out a waist from some cheap material or some old stuff that you may have around the house.

DON'T KILL SNAKES

(Century) The French town authorities post village bulletin boards for public instruction. One of these reads, "Hedgehog: live upon mice, snails and wireworms—do not kill a hedgehog. Toad: helps agriculture, killing 20 or 30 insects every hour—do not kill a toad. Cockchafer: deadly enemy to the farmer; lays 100 eggs at a time—kill the cockchafer." It would be a good idea for our government to post bulletins of this sort. Instead of printing so many for circulation.

In the South most of the snakes are of great value, and that is relatively true everywhere. The blue racer, a handsome fellow, is estimated to be worth $10 a year to destroy mice and gophers. The bull snake and the garter snake destroy insects and rodents, without themselves hurting the garden. In my Clinton ground we have so long protected the little garter snake that he suns himself on the composite piles without fearing us at all. Why not? Why carry a spite, because a serpent is said to have tempted Eve? Was it not a fair match? Poisonous snakes are nearly as rare as those that talk.

HIS ADVANTAGE.

A witty lawyer, whose ability brought him to the front rank in his profession, ultimately became a member of parliament. In the course of a debate on one occasion he considerably angered a member of the opposite party.

The latter jumped to his feet and exclaimed angrily: "The honorable member for X—as every one knows, has rooms to let in his upper story."

The lawyer merely smiled as he replied: "True, I have rooms to let, but there lies the difference between the honorable member for Z—and myself. Mine are furnished."—Tid-Bits.

HORSE PALACE—OHIO STATE FAIR.

WITH the advent of the automobile it was freely predicted that the days of the horse were numbered. The fallacy of this is clearly shown by a visit to the Ohio State Fair and an inspection of the magnificent stock there shown. The cut above is a reproduction of the building devoted to housing the animals. The structure is 232 feet square with stall capacity of 700. At the coming exhibition, to be held in Columbus Sept. 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, the finest horse show in the world is promised. All breeds will be represented from the diminutive Shetland to the heavy Percheron.

EAGLES AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 22—All day long delegates and visitors have been arriving in large numbers to participate in the eleventh annual national convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which will begin its business sessions tomorrow morning in this city. At the convention headquarters it is estimated that 20,000 members and visitors are already on hand, while large additions are expected during the late hours tonight and early tomorrow morning.

The public buildings, hotels and business houses are lavishly decorated with bunting and fluttering signs of welcome for the visitors. The program of entertainment has been mapped out on an elaborate scale and nothing is left undone that will contribute to the pleasure of the Eagles, their families and friends, during their stay in the city.

During the day the various officers and committees have been hard at work completing their reports and putting the finishing touches to the convention arrangements. Frank E. Hering of Indiana, Grand Worthy President of the order, will call the gathering to order and respond to the welcoming addresses. Mr. Hering will be succeeded in the presidency this year by Thomas F. Grady, the well-known lawyer and politician of New York.

The annual reports of the officers will show the Eagles to be in a most flourishing condition, both numerically and financially. There are now nearly 2,000 subordinate aeries in the United States and Canada, and the total membership exceeds 300,000. During the past ten years the subordinate bodies have invested $6,000,000 in fraternal temples and clubrooms. Six million dollars have been disbursed to members as sick benefits during the period, and over $1,000,000 has been paid in funeral benefits.

HOT CONTEST IN GEORGIA

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22—Democrats of Georgia in a primary election tomorrow will nominate a state ticket and members of the legislature and ten representatives in Congress. Nominations are equivalent to election.

The primaries will determine whether former Governor Hoke Smith or present Governor Joseph M. Brown shall be the next governor. The contest has been an extremely bitter one with former Congressman Thomas S. Watson, the erstwhile Populist leader, looming up as one of the dominant factors. It is generally conceded that the result of the primaries will mean the political annihilation of Watson or his elevation to greater power than he has yet wielded in the Georgia Democracy.

Watson has refrained from taking any active or prominent part in the bitter fight between Smith and Brown for the governorship. He has contented himself with waging a fierce warfare against some of the Democratic candidates for Congress. All of the ten members of the Georgia delegation in Georgia are candidates for renomination. Watson is endeavoring to prevent the return of five members of the delegation. They are Congressman Hardwicke of the Tenth district, Howard of the Eighth, Edwards of the First, Livingston of the Fifth, and Bartlett of the Sixth district. In his contest against the five congressmen Watson has been speaking for the other candidates and in several instances he has met Hardwicke and other candidates in joint debate.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Little Elsie was very fond of dressing up in her big brother's clothes and pretending to be different people. One morning she appeared before the mother wearing a long overcoat and cap. She looked so quaint her mother grabbed and kissed her, at which the little miss indignantly exclaimed, "Why, mama, you've mustn't tuss me, I've the grocer, and you don't tuss him."—Delineator for September.
