

GREATEST

Sunday School Convention in County's History

Which Opens At M. P. Church On Friday Evening

Addresses To Be Given By Eminent Speakers

Sunday To Be A Day Of Profit And Delight

Closing With A Mass Meeting In The Afternoon

Everything is in readiness for the greatest Sunday school convention in the history of Knox county. The program excels anything ever before the people of the county both in scope of practical themes and in personnel of the specialties secured.

The opening session Friday evening sweeps the whole Sunday school movement. Wilson A. Holmes of Granville sketches the history and achievement of the movement, while Pres. S. D. Fess of Antioch college gives a vision of its future in its limitless possibility training for leadership in life.

Saturday's sessions are packed with vital interests. Demonstrations of opening and closing exercises, Rev. J. E. Turner's hours in the psychology of learning and teaching, which will be invaluable. The study of grading in its principles, and of social life in safeguarding intermediate pupils by W. I. Woodin of Columbus will be intensely helpful. Dr. Joseph Clark, state secretary, in conducting the opening conference and in giving his famous illustrated lecture on organized Sunday school work, will lead to vital things for successful Sunday school work.

The business session at 3:30 is important and should have the presence of workers from every school in the county.

Sunday will be a day of great profit and delights, opening at 8 o'clock with a demonstration parade of boys and men, illustrating all departments from the Junior to the Home Department and closing with a great mass meeting at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, with an address by Dr. Joseph Clark of Columbus.

All sessions will be held in the Methodist Protestant church, Mt. Vernon. Every school and worker in the county is invited. If any school has failed to receive direct communication it is only because of lack of information in hands of executive committee.

The schools of the city earnestly urge the workers of the county to share the blessings of the program, and the comforts of the homes of the city.

WHITE RIBBON COLUMN

Edited by Mrs. Thos. Weir

Motto—Do all the good you can to all the people you can, in all the ways you can.

Object—Mental, moral and social improvement.

Convention on hand Oct. 14 to 18. Don't forget the date. You who are delegates regulate your work accordingly. This is the closing session of the year. Here's hoping this year will be greater in every respect than last year. Let every president or superintendent of the departments try to make theirs the very best one. Do not take an office if you do not intend to do your best at that one particular branch.

Let us consider the young people. Are we sure in doing all the good we can to all we can? A happy childhood is a sure foundation for a happy maturity. Each of us knows it is easier to laugh than cry. Then why not laugh? Experiment with smiles and kind words and see what you get in return; as you sow so you reap. You are speaking evil when for sake of gossiping you talk of the sins of others. When you are thinking ugly thoughts, you are thinking wrong—change the habit; get the habit of sunshine and good cheer.

To speak words of cheer brings back words of cheer to you.

Fayette county, Iowa, has 23 weekly newspapers that do not admit liquor advertisements.

A proprietor of Canton, O., had difficulty in getting his men out of the city owing to their drinking. He says he will vote for prohibition if he gets a chance, he was so disgusted.

Woman as a wage earner is to have a square deal, says Florence Richards in her Lakeside speech. And "laboring man and laboring woman have one glory and one shame. Everything that's done inhuman figures both of the same."

We have a million or more women engaged in manufacturing, 500,000 in professions, 431,000 in agriculture, 980,000 in building and contractors, and officers' positions. Women are engaged in all but two gainful pursuits. Why should not these women vote? Woman suffrage is coming more rapidly than you think. The English situation has reached a crisis.

Mrs. Hattie B. Adams, W. C. T. U. State Superintendent of Fair Work, attended the Knox county fair Wednesday and Thursday and held an open air meeting each day at their fair W. C. T. U. tent with splendid results. Mrs. Adams referred to the progress made by the W. C. T. U. Ten years ago she had to go to the pastors and ask for a place to speak, but now she is asked by the pastors to fill their pulpits. She told of the great work of the Crusaders and defined the 38 departments, also the other works of Ohio, exhorted the ladies to work for prohibition in 1912; urged the woman to join the W. C. T. U., the largest organized body of women in the world; told of eight world missionaries sent out by the organization and how a delegation of ministers called on A. Lincoln past the mid-night hour and said "Thus saith the Lord to A. Lincoln." "Well," said Abe, "this is the first time I ever had a delegation from the Lord call on me." Results—Emancipation. She approved of our city and fair grounds. Said our fair is above the average in the state. Mrs. Adams endeared herself to Knox county people and will be remembered in their prayers.

W. C. T. U. held its regular business meeting in the Christian church at 2:30 Tuesday with a goodly number in attendance. Mrs. D. F. Ewing was the leader of the scripture lesson. "Work for the Night is Coming," was sung. Auditing committee reports. Penny collection. Election of officers. President—Mrs. Cora Spitzer. Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Nixon. Treasurer—Mrs. Creveling. Lecturer—Mrs. Minnie Johnson. Vice Presidents—Church of Christ, Mrs. Ewing; M. P., Mrs. Stetler; M. E., Mrs. Mason; Presbyterian, Mrs. Paddock; Episcopal, Mrs. Robert Leveering; Catholic, Allie McCarthy.

Then the delegates to the State convention at Lorain, Oct. 14 and 18, were elected, as follows:

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. McIntire, Mrs. T. Weir, Mrs. May Schaefer, Mrs. Tilton, Mrs. I. H. Beach, Mrs. E. Jacobs, Mrs. Margaret Fordney, Mrs. C. Spitzer.

Mrs. Alsbaugh handed in a good report as follows:

Bouquets, 1796; plants, 481; text cards, 1232; literature, 304; visits, 1,124; visit to public, 16; services held, 1; bushels of fruit, 79; jelly, 406; garments, 444; donations, 274; money, $219.20; flower missions, 2.

Six unions helped in making this one of the best reports of the season.

The meeting closed in usual manner.

One way to get rid of objectionable people is to try to borrow money from them.

SPLENDID

Attractions Secured By Woman's Christian Ass'n

For The Star Concert Course Beginning Oct. 14

The Woman's Christian Association of this city is glad to announce that the artists who will appear in the Star Concert Course have been engaged, and that the opening recital will be given October 14 when Miss Helen Pugh, a talented young concert pianist, and Mr. Saner, a tenor who has appeared in grand opera, will present one of the finest programs ever heard in this city. Miss Pugh's career began at a very early age, when she was greatly in demand as a soloist on big occasions, and the promise of her childhood has been more than fulfilled by the artist of today. She received the greater part of her training under the grand instructor who developed the talent of Paderewski—Leschetzky of Vienna.

In November a song recital will be given by Dolores Reedy Maxwell, a charming contralto who has delighted many audiences in Ohio since her return from New York, where she spent ten years in study under the best teachers of that city, possessing a beautiful voice and most attractive personality. Her career has been very successful from the first. An organ recital will be given by one of the leading concert organists of the state, Mrs. Wilbur Thoburn Mills, whose recitals on the big organ at Memorial Hall in Columbus have attracted music lovers from all over Central Ohio. Her appearance in our city should certainly attract a large audience.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson Wilson, whose song recital at the assembly a year ago will be recalled, has been engaged to present a program of two parts. The first a song cycle and the second "The Songs My Mother Used to Sing." This will certainly be one of the most popular pieces of the course.

The Zeigler-Howe sextette, which is said to be the only string sextette in America, has been engaged in one concert, and it should be borne in mind that this organization is entirely different from the orchestra of the same name that appeared at the park this summer. Both are under the same management, but this sextette gives a special program written for their instrumentation.

Their popularity is shown by the fact that it has been very difficult to secure an open date. The season tickets for the five concerts will be one dollar; single admission will be fifty cents and all profits will be used to carry on the charitable work of the Woman's Christian Association.

All the artists solicited have made great concessions in their prices, in view of the object, and it is felt that our citizens will be equally generous in their support of the worthy organization. Tickets may now be secured from any member of the association.

SIMPLY COULDN'T WAIT

News which flashed over the wires from Mt. Vernon, Wednesday morning, explained the hurried departure from the city of Tracey Burke. Times-Recorder typewriter operator. Although the train does not leave for Mt. Vernon until 1:25, Burke, instead of taking this, went to Newark on a morning interurban and waited there until the afternoon train came along—figuring that he would be nearer home in Newark. Friends thought this strange.

Later they learned it was an 11-pound boy.—Zanesville Times-Recorder.

EXCITING

Runaway In Which No One Was Injured

An exciting runaway occurred on West High street on Wednesday afternoon when a team belonging to Mr. John Anderson, residing on W. High street, ran away. Mr. Anderson was driving the team hitched to a heavy wagon, near the B. & O. tracks at about five o'clock when a freight engine pulled across the crossing to get water. The horses frightened at the engine and began to run eastward on High street. Mr. Anderson's efforts to stop the frightened animals proved fruitless and when they reached Adams street and turned south against the fence bordering on the Kelley property, he jumped to the ground in order to save himself from possible injury. The wagon was drawn on the sidewalk and taken south as far as the alley where the horses stopped their mad course. The fence on the Kelley property was demolished as the wheels of the wagon had ripped off almost every picket and broke some of the posts. Fortunately no one was injured nor were either of the horses badly injured. The wagon escaped damage.

HONOR

Of Being Gypsy Queen More Alluring Than Home

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22—The honor of being a gypsy queen is more alluring and attractive than returning with her father to his home at Cleveland. Mrs. Lizzie Goslan, the young queen of the band of gypsies who are camping near Turtle Creek, decided this morning. The young girl was found yesterday afternoon by Peter Gle, the father, after a search of more than a year.

Gle found his daughter in a nomad's tent with an infant two days old at her breast. In the summer of 1909 the girl left home near Boston to join the gypsies and married Frank Goslan, the son of the aged queen of the tribe.

The gypsy tribe, of which Gle's daughter is the queen, broke camp this afternoon and is working back to Cleveland, her home.
