Falls to Secure Redress For American Journalists.

REGRET INCIDENT BUT THAT IS ALL

Germany Refuses Satisfaction For Assault on American.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—Satisfaction to one American and three English newspaper correspondents who were attacked and injured by the police during the strike in the Moabit quarter on the night of Sept. 28 has been refused by the government.

The government has sent a note to Mr. Hill in which it states that while it recognizes the incident as a deplorable one, it does not see a way, in view of its police inquiry, to take any action against the officials concerned in the affair of the journalists.

The German government in the course of its communication refers to the incident as "essentially" due to a misunderstanding, alluding, of course, to the police claim that a policeman in plain clothes who urged on the police to attack the journalists shouted that they were Social Democratic organizers of a disturbance.

FOR STATE TREASURER

DAVID S. CREAMER, St. Clairsville, Belmont County.

David Staley Creamer, treasurer of Belmont county, Sept. 3, 1858. He served in the city council of St. Clairsville and as recorder of Belmont county.

He was at one time half owner of the St. Clairsville Gazette, which is one of the oldest papers in southeastern Ohio, established in 1812. June 1, 1906, he was appointed state fire marshal by the late Governor John M. Pattison. In that office he made an unexcelled record for careful performance of duty and expenditure. He established the unprecedented record of 73 convictions for arson in 1907, and for the first time in the history of that office turned back into the state treasury $11,064.22 of a balance over expenditures.

Mr. Creamer was elected treasurer of state in the year 1908, and assumed the duties of that office January 11, 1909. He immediately inaugurated the plan of depositing state funds by competitive bidding. The amount bid for was $20,000,000, the rates of interest ranging from 2 per cent to 4.10 per cent for inactive deposits, and 1 1/2 per cent to 2.55 per cent for active deposits. The amount available was sufficient only to supply institutions which bid from 3.10 to 4.10 per cent, inclusive, or an average of 3.35 per cent for inactive deposits, and 2.50 to 2.55 per cent for active deposits, which resulted in the state receiving an increase in interest of about $1,000 per week. He is a candidate for re-election.

Origin of the Census.

The census originated in Rome, but it was mainly directed to fiscal objects, the numbering of the population being a matter of secondary consideration. The census, in the real modern sense of the word, is the creation of the United States and England. Our first census was taken in 1790 and England's in 1801.

CHAMPION

Builder Of Institutions Is Father O'Brien

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 13.—One winter day, many years ago, the Rev. F. A. O'Brien, dean of St. Augustine's parish, was called to the county jail to administer the sacrament to a dying man.

The jail in those days was like most jails. Father O'Brien asked what crime the man was charged with, and was surprised when told that there was no charge whatever against him. "Then what is he doing here?" asked Father O'Brien.

"Well, you see, Kalamazoo has no hospital, and there is no other place to take a sick stranger," replied the turnkey.

Right then and there, amid the sordid surroundings of the dirty jail, the priest made a vow that he would not rest again until Kalamazoo had a hospital. And Kalamazoo got her hospital. Father O'Brien interested Bishop Borgess of Detroit, and Borgess hospital was begun in the spring. Now it's a great big institution, rivaling the best in the largest cities.

That seemed to fire the dean with the building fever. He has been building ever since, so much so that it is doubtful if there is another priest in the country with as much to his credit. This is his building record since he came here as rector in 1883.

Borgess hospital; St. Anthony's school for feeble minded children; Nazareth academy, for the education of young ladies; Harbour hall for boys; Gibbon's hall, for young men; LeFever institute, conservatory of music; St. Joseph's church; St. Joseph's parochial school.

Now, in his fifty-ninth year, Father O'Brien is still building, and has a church for the Polish Catholics of the city well under way. It is generally known that he will not be quite contented until he gives Michigan his dream of a great Catholic university like that of Notre Dame, Indiana. But about this the priest hasn't much to say—just yet.

THE COMMERCIAL SMILE

In the course of a newspaper's investigation of the woes of London shopmen, it was found that one concern issued printed instructions to its employes, among them being the following:

"Our employes are reminded that whilst serving customers they are expected to wear a commercial smile." The thing not being defined, one can fancy the variety of facial contortions in which the luckless employes might be seen to indulge. But the merit of the idea is obvious. We are safe in saying that the "commercial smile" is intended to be a happy blend of supreme confidence in the quality of the goods offered with a benevolent desire not to allow the customer to miss the greatest opportunity of his life. It implies mingled pleasure and an aim to please others.—New York Post.
