TIMELY HINTS FOR FARMERS

Whitewash a Good Disinfectant.

The barns should be dusted often and whitewashed at least once a year not only to give them a good appearance and make the stable lighter, but to purify them and kill any germs of disease that may have collected on walls and ceilings. Whitewash is one of the cheapest disinfectants known and should be a part of the routine practice every year, and by use of a small fruit spray pump the work can be accomplished more quickly and far more effectively than when applied with a brush, as it can be driven into every crack and corner. The lime should be thoroughly slacked and strained through a fine wire screen or cloth and made thin enough to work nicely through the nozzle. A half bushel of lime will make about thirty gallons of whitewash. This should be used while fresh, as it loses its power to kill germ life after standing.

Success With Alfalfa.

The theory that a nurse crop will prevent the weeds choking the alfalfa is apparently as a rule not well founded. In the first place alfalfa should not be sown on foul land, and in the second place proper disking and harrowing at near intervals for four or six weeks before sowing will disturb or kill far more weeds than can any nurse crop. Besides, the oats or barley sown as a nurse will when cut leave weeds in good growth or dormant and ready to spring up as fast or faster than the alfalfa. No nurse crop is ever used with fall sowing. When ground has been thoroughly prepared for the preceding crop and then properly cared for and made ready for alfalfa by the preliminary weed destruction, it will be found advisable to sow alfalfa alone, even in the spring.—From Coburn's "The Book of Alfalfa."

Carrots Good For Cattle.

Those who have one or two cows and a piece of ground that may be tilled should not fail to sow a few rows of half long carrot seed. If sown by hand the seed should be scattered so as to make a row of a couple of inches broad. They should be sown fifteen to sixteen inches apart. Keep them clean, but do not thin them when the seed has been prudently sown. When autumn comes the amount of good food furnished will be a matter of surprise. Until freezing weather the carrots may be simply pulled up and fed without chopping or slicing.

Bettering the Dairy Herd.

If you have only common cows breed them to a male of standard dairy breed and the result will give grade animals. These half blood grade animals bred in the same line will give animals more nearly pure bred, and this breeding and selection with judgment will result in a herd of high producing animals that will make money for the breeder or the man who buys them.

Test and Weigh the Milk.

When you admit that you haven't time to test and weigh the milk so as to keep a record of each cow you haven't time to dairy right.

ECONOMY OF SILAGE FOR DAIRY COWS.

Result of a Feeding Test at the Ohio Experiment Station.

The Ohio experiment station instituted a careful test to determine the economy and efficiency of ensilage. They took two cows. To one was fed a ration made of 58 pounds of ensilage made of corn and soy beans, 6.8 pounds of mixed hay, 2 pounds of bran and 2 pounds of oilmeal. To the other cow was fed a ration made of 6.4 pounds of hay, 4.7 pounds of corn stover, 6 pounds of bran, 5 pounds of cornmeal and 2.5 pounds of oilmeal. The two rations are chemically of about the same value, but the cows found a marked difference. The cow fed on the ensilage ration produced 8.9 pounds of butter from one dollar's worth of feed, while the other cow produced but 5.28 pounds of butter from the same cost of feed. Now, the above shows 3.62 pounds of butter more, of a value of $1.08, for the ensilage ration over the other ration. The cows were selected as being closely equal at the beginning in their producing capacity.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Dust Bath For Fowls.

A good dust bath should be provided for all fowls at all times. Dry road dust is one of the best absorbents and lice killers to put in the coops or up-der the perches. In winter it is the best of dust baths. It is very easily obtained and costs nothing but the time of storing it away.

Protection For Orchard Trees.

A lime wash which has been found a good protection for trees against rabbits is simply to wet enough unslacked lime to the point of consistency, add a little carbolic acid to the substance and paint the trunks of the orchard trees.

The Cat and the Tail.

Once upon a time a cat who prided herself on her wit and wisdom was prowling about the barn in search of food and saw a tail protruding from a hole.

"There is the conclusion of a rat," she said.

Then she crept stealthily toward it until within striking distance, when she made a jump and reached it with her claws. Alas, it was not the appendage of a rat, but the tail of a snake, who immediately turned and gave her a mortal bite.

Moral.—It is dangerous to jump at conclusions.

Way to Select Partners.

A clever way to ask the men to select partners at an evening party is to get each girl to bring the earliest picture of herself obtainable. The pictures are numbered, the hostess having a list of each name opposite the number, so when the time comes for making revelations she can do so quickly and with certainty. Just before time for the game or refreshments for which partners are necessary pass a basket or tray with the pictures turned face down; ask each man to draw one and find the original.
