The trouble is the powers are not working toward the same end."

ALLIED TROOPS THAT QUICKLY WHIPPED TURKEY AND MADE SULTAN CRY ENOUGH

MONTENEGRIN ARTILLERY

SERVIAN ARTILLERY

In anticipation of trouble with Turkey the Balkan states have for years been preparing for the conflict. Each little nation has brought its fighting force up to a high state of efficiency. The soldiers were not only well drilled, but they were equipped with the most modern and effective weapons. The result was shown when the fighting began. The tremendous losses of the Turkish forces showed how deadly modern warfare is and what awful execution can be done by the little Maxim guns that throw a constant stream of bullets, making a small company as effective as a regiment armed with rifles. Hiram Maxim declared that his gun was a powerful argument for peace, as it would make a battle so costly that humanity and civilization would demand some other method of settling differences.

Consumers have been delinquent through failure of supervisors to levy according to the flat rate system, as required by ordinance. At once steps will be taken to stop the leakage.

WARNED

Are Banks To Look Out For Two Shrewd Criminals

Advices of the methods employed by a couple of shrewd criminals in Zanesville and other cities has been received by local banks during the past few days from headquarters of the Ohio Bankers Association.

The plan of the two swindlers as related by a local banker this morning, is to enter a city and make a small savings deposit in local banks. They then secure rooms at some prominent hotel and spend their money freely for a few days, establishing themselves in the good graces of the bank clerks and the hotel men. They then approach the bank officials and declare their intention to open a new business enterprise in the city, usually a "small produce concern," which will require but small capital and which, they say, should rapidly grow to large proportions.

The banks are often approached by reliable men of the city on just such propositions as this, and in nine cases out of ten will yield to the request of the new arrivals in the city's business field that a check drawn to their order be placed to their account. They then proceed to draw on the check for nearly its full amount and then—

The bank learns that the check is a forged one, and when an effort is made to apprehend the swindlers, it is learned that they have just departed, for parts unknown.

Zanesville was victimized a few days ago and other points in central Ohio report visits from the strangers. It has been learned that two men were in Newark recently, telling of their intention to open a new produce firm, but no evidence can be secured of their having perpetrated a swindle on any local parties. They left town, however, and it is believed that they were warned by accomplices that their actions in other cities were bringing them into the net that has been spread for them by Ohio Bankers Association.

DISPUTE

Jurisdiction Of Matters Before Admitted As State

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 9.—The long disputed question as to the right of the State courts to try persons for murder committed in Oklahoma before it became a State will be argued at length in the Criminal Court of Appeals which today began with the hearing in the case of Henry Preuitt, a wealthy cattle raiser of Comanche, who is charged with the murder of Ben Collins, a Chickasha Indian policeman, near Tishomingo.

Collins was shot from ambush in a night attack near Tishomingo some time before Oklahoma became a state. Preuitt and several other cattle men who were said to have been in the attacking party, were arrested and indicted for the murder. When Oklahoma became a State the indictment against Preuitt was quashed and another indictment returned by the Johnston County Grand Jury.

In a similar case which in the State courts of Oklahoma an appeal was taken to the United States Supreme Court, upon the ground that the state court had no jurisdiction. The Supreme Court decided in the famous Pickett case in February, 1910, that the state or Oklahoma could not prosecute for murder committed in Indian Territory prior to Statehood. Notwithstanding this decision the Criminal Court of Appeals has decided in eight other cases that the State courts had the right to prosecute for murder in such cases and the outcome of the present case is, therefore, awaited with considerable interest. Should the Court of Appeals follow the precedent of the eight other cases, Preuitt's lawyers intend to take the case before the United States Supreme Court to obtain a new ruling in this case which will definitely settle the question of jurisdiction.

BRILLIANT OPERA SEASON IN PROSPECT

New York, Nov. 9.—With every prospect of eclipsing all records for variety and brilliancy, New York's annual season of grand opera will open Monday night at the Metropolitan Opera House. The season will last twenty-three weeks, one week longer than usual. The chief feature of the season will be the opera in English by W. J. Henderson and Walter Damrosch. The opera bears the title "Cyrano," and is based on the famous play by Edmond Rostand. An afternoon cycle of "Dor Ring des Nibelungen" will be given during the season, and there will also be several performances of "Parsifal."

A Chicago woman gets licenses to marry two the same week. Perhaps they come cheaper when one buys them by the half-dozen.

A man's idea of a carefully and honestly taken straw vote is one that happens to come out his way.
