No. 5 MONUMENT SQUARE

Cards of Thanks, five cents per line. Resolutions of Respect, Obituaries and

Voicing the current feeling of the working agreement between the Rud Hynicka wet forces of Cincinnati which is the ultra-wet leadership in the state, and the dominating forces of the Anti-Saloon League which is using that organization for furtherance of political ambitions, Harry Daugherty, defeated candidate for Republican nomination for United States senate, said:

"The principal cause of my defeat were that there was an almost solidly organized vote of the wet forces against me. They were materially assisted by the dry vote."

When presented with this statement, J. A. White, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio, said that his organization would support Myron T. Herrick, and that they had a pledge from him to vote for national prohibition. Mr. Herrick refused to discuss the statement of either Mr. Daugherty or that of Mr. White.

Explaining the action of Herrick as governor against temperance legislation in the state, dry leaders now say that he was then bound by the Republican platform, but that he is now a free agent and state that they rely on his pledge for prohibition.

Those interested in good government, aside from any special propaganda, are puzzled to reconcile the seeming oneness of purpose in the wet and dry organizations.

Executive Chairman Edwin Jones overcame the administration opposition to his re-election on the Republican state central committee. He will be ditched at the organization meeting. There is a tendency to unload all the regulars now, and cater to the former Progressives. Herrick's defeat of Daugherty indicates that party regularity does not pay so well as flirtation with organized leaders of the crowds that personally profit in temperance and anti-prohibition agitation.

There is keen Republican disappointment at the many statement of A. P. Sandies in support of former Governor James M. Cox, that he will support Cox with all his ability, and his assurance that he knows Cox will be re-elected. His statement carries further weight in the announced purpose that he will not be a candidate for or accept any office during the next term of Governor Cox.

Republicans in Summit county overwhelmingly defeated Senator C. W. Wickline, Governor Willis' floorleader in the senate, for re-nomination, because of his connection with the auto tag deal in which he was to profit $12,000. Secretary of State Hildebrand, who was mixed up with Wickline, had no opposition at the primary. The voters of the state will attend to his case in November.

The primary election returns have thrown a genuine scare into the kitchen cabinet of Governor Willis, who now recognizes the certainty of defeat. In desperation he is now willing to call in the aid of Progressives whom he has heretofore lampooned. His record as governor in kicking out known Progressives, wherever found, and replacing them with Glue Democrats, ought to aid him now.

Senator Albee Pomoreno will begin an active campaign for re-election as soon as congress adjourns, with every indication that he will be re-elected. His record of staunch support of President Wilson and the growing strength of the nation's leader give him a lead that his opponents will find hard to overcome.

Prof. J. M. Carr, state oil inspector who was moved into the office of the governor to aid in the executive's campaign for president, vice president, national delegate, and governor, has been rebuffed in seeking re-election on the Republican state central committee, from the Akron district.

Up in Putnam county and the fifth district, where George A. Stauffer was a candidate for re-election as state central committeeman as the personal representative of Governor Willis, he was rejected. Stauffer is secretary of the new state board of agriculture and the political advisor of the governor.

Knox county people who attend the state fair this year should take a pair of horseshoes with them if they expect to get anything out of the exhibition. Gov. Willis' state board of agriculture is featuring horseshoe pitching this year.

There is a well defined, though unnamed, organization which might be called the "Mothers-of-sons club" which is doing tremendous work for the re-election of President Wilson.

There is evidently trouble in the Willis political family, when his personally selected members of the state central committee are refused election.

DREAD DISEASE CLAIMS ATHLETE

Robert Walton Succumbs To Infantile Paralysis

GLOOMY DEATH AT GAMBIER

Youth Of Brilliant Promise Dies After An Illness Of Only Three Days —Both Legs And One Arm Were Paralyzed

Gambier, Aug. 14—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock for Robert Walton, whose death occurred at 1:30 o'clock in the morning of infantile paralysis. Rev. George F. Smythe officiated and interment was made in the Kenyon college cemetery.

The speediness and virulence of the disease only made the death the sadder. Ill for only three days, the deceased spent the remaining hours of his life in unconsciousness with both legs and an arm paralyzed while the deadly scourge had operated on his respiratory system in such a manner as to render breathing practically impossible.

Robert Walton was sixteen years of age and is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lee B. Walton, three brothers, Harold, Graham and Roger and one sister, Margaret. He would have been a senior in Mt. Vernon high school this fall.

He was an athlete of pronounced ability. Besides holding the tennis championship title of Knox county at one time, he gave every promise of developing into a golf player of exceptional parts. Last year, he participated in a sufficient number of games as substitute on the Mt. Vernon high school foot-ball team to win his letter, generally playing quarterback or end, while he was considered as first substitute on the victorious basket-ball team of 1916.

He leaves hosts of friends both here and in Mt. Vernon who are distressed over his very untimely death and who unite with his parents in mourning for the loss of a son and a brother whose future promised to be one of brilliance.

The deceased had been working in Mt. Vernon and was attending a picture show there one night last week when first attacked. At the time, he complained of only a slight illness. He was brought to his home here and the dread disease obtained a hold, despite all efforts of skilled physicians to combat it.

Camp Sychar News

(By Press Reporter.)

Rev. Gregory Mantel led the morning meeting. It is an unusual and remarkable thing to see one hundred assemblage at 5:30 for worship. But such addresses as he delivers ought to attract many more. It is not my belief that one could hear devotional talks superior anywhere in this country.

Rev. W. D. Akers led the 8 o'clock meeting. Suga Umezaki of Nagasaki, Japan, gave her experience. She has been in America four years. She expects to return to her native country and become an assistant to Miss Della Ashbaugh, formerly of Mt. Vernon.

C. H. Babcock preached at 9:30. A good congregation was present. A strong sermon.

The camp is filling rapidly. Samuel Nelson of Roscoe is to remain until Monday.

Mr. Oberlin and wife of Butler are here. They have been coming for more than twenty years.

The Farmers' quartet of Findlay, O., are here and singing to the delight and edification of the entire camp.

It consists of George W. Egbert, W. H. Thomas, L. M. Cole and V. V. Thomas. They sing the gospel as distinctly as it was ever preached by anyone, and one instinctively feels that it is by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit.

An auto party from Trinway arrived today, consisting of M. S. Maston and wife and Milton Maston and wife. The former couple will remain for part of the week.

The Rev. Cecil Troxell of China came Saturday. He has labored fourteen years in north China. He speaks in the auditorium in the 6 o'clock meeting.

Dr. B. Coleman and wife and other friends are here for the day from Homer.

The attendance today is almost normal, even though we have no street cars. An auto manufacturer has helped us out by his splendid enterprise.

Arrangements are complete for Bishop William F. Anderson to be present next Friday and preach at 9:30 and 7:15. This is a rare privilege for all the Methodists of this vicinity to meet, to hear, and to interrogate the man who is to have so much to do with the management of their ecclesiastical affairs for the next four years. Come and hear him, the opportunity is yours. We look for a great company of preachers that day.

Hura Smith preached at 1 o'clock Sunday. This is his first sermon at the camp. He proved worthy of the wide reputation he has as an evangelistic preacher.

Rev. E. E. Whittaker and wife spent the afternoon at the camp.

One of the best services is the children's meeting. Two were held on Sunday—one led by Mrs. Mishey at 8, another at 1, led by Mrs. Aura Smith.

Rev. Kelley Smith, wife and daughter of Prospect, O., are here. He was the president of the Mt. Lookout camp for ten years. He has been very helpful in this meeting.

Rev. J. W. Dorman of Delaware is here helping to push the cause he loves. He has been coming for many years.

One more week of the camp.

NATIVE OF KNOX

DIES IN MORROW COUNTY—AGED NINETY YEARS

Obadiah Earlywine, a native of this county and well known to many residents, died Saturday morning at his home near Mt. Ghed at the age of 90 years. He was married three times and leaves the following children: Ida, Laura and Dinah, William and Bruce. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The deceased was an uncle of County Commissioner John C. Earlywine and of Dora Ashcraft and Mrs. Sarah Cottrell.

In Far-off India

In some unknown manner, a little sample of Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh found its way into an interior village of India. It was its own agent and from that small beginning a steady trade has developed and each succeeding shipment has been larger.

Ringwalt's

The Incoming Tide

Ever watched a new tide flow in from the sea—observed how strongly it sweeps along, sparkling with life and vigor, full of the salty freshness of the ocean?

Just so the great current of fresh merchandise sweeps into this Store at each new season.

The ebb tide of July clearances has run its course; now the tide has turned and is beginning to run strongly Autumnward.

It swirls and eddies into every part of the store, bearing the season's first new things: a new fashion, a new color, a new fabric, and much that is of interest to the housekeeper—a great variety of things worth coming to look at.

CHAMPION

OF WORKINGMAN'S RIGHTS IS LANDED IN COUNTY JAIL

Too Much Booze Or Dope Responsible —Noisy Clerk Alarms Proprietor And Even Police Have Hands Full

The rights of the downtrodden working man were loudly championed Saturday afternoon by a clerk in one of the local stores after he had partaken too freely of the cup that cheers.

The man worked himself up into a highly nervous condition while brooding over the wrongs of the man who works and finally made a frenzied address to the proprietor of the store, who became frightened and sent for the police.

Chief Parker investigated and asked the man to accompany him to the mayor's office. He complied willingly, but again became noisy in the office and the chief was forced to handle him pretty roughly before he could be persuaded to keep quiet.

It is thought by the police that the man may have been under the influence of dope in place of liquor. He was fined $5 and costs and committed to the county jail.

To Visitors at Camp Sychar

Owing to the unfortunate street car situation we believe that many campers may have been prevented from visiting Mount Vernon this year as they have formerly done.

To neutralize this, we shall be glad to refund the jitney fare one way (10c) to all campers visiting our store this week and making purchases of at least $1.00.

Just say "I'm from Camp Sychar."
