

CLAIM DAMAGES RESULTED FROM SHERIFF'S LEVY

The Zimmermans File Suit Against Rice And Son; To Recover $1,000

ALLEGE DEFENDANTS VIOLATED CONTRACT

Levering Files Amended Petition In Suit Against Bells; Court News

Raymond and Harold Zimmerman have filed suit in the common pleas court asking an injunction against C. P. Rice & Son, a partnership doing business at Danville, to prevent the sale of chattels seized on execution to satisfy a judgment held by the defendants. The plaintiffs allege that the defendants contracted with them in consideration of the payment of $50 at once and $50 in 60 or 90 days to stay execution on the judgment for that length of time in order that they might attempt to secure money with which to pay the claim and that the defendants have violated this contract and the sheriff is now offering property belonging to the Zimmermans for sale. The plaintiffs say that the seizure of this property and offering it for sale has caused them irreparable damage and ask that they may be awarded $1,000 by way of recompense for this damage. Wayne Stillwell, William G. and William M. Koons are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Amended Petition Filed—An amended petition has been filed in the common pleas court in the matter of the suit of F. O. Levering against Eugene Bell. The plaintiff joins Leet O. Bell as defendant in his petition and alleges that the defendants converted two drilling stems used in drilling gas wells, belonging to him, to their own use and sold them while they were located on the L. W. Bell farm and seeks to recover $250 for his alleged loss.

Widows' Elections Filed—Carrie M. Bross has filed her election to take under the will of George L. Bross in the probate court and Mary A. Snively has also elected to take under the provisions of the will of John Snively, according to papers filed in the probate court Saturday.

Guardian Appointed—Harry M. Patterson has been appointed guardian and trustee of Riley and Ray Armstrong by the probate court. He furnished bond in the sum of $6,000 with Alice and Amanda Patterson as sureties.

Marriage License—John Wallace Taylor, Morgan township, farmer, and Ethel Maye Hunter, Miller township. Rev. F. C. Anderson.

Real Estate Transfers—Harley Beal to H. Morgan, lot in Fredericktown, $1.
Frank Cochran to Mabel Millington, city property, $1.

FREE DEMONSTRATION AT THE KNOX CO. FAIR

The Ohio Experiment station, through its various departments, is studying the problems with which the farmer has to contend. The results of investigation and experimentation are published from time to time throughout the year in the form of bulletins. Many of the truths contained in these publications can be put to a practical test upon the farm. Over 60,000 farmers in Ohio and the adjoining states are reading the bulletins of the station. Are you one of them? See our demonstrator and get your name on the mailing list.

In order to reach more of the farmers in the state, special illustrative exhibits have been prepared, to be installed at state, local and county fairs. These exhibits illustrate, in a graphic way, some of the truths which have been discovered by years of study and experimentation.

Some of the lines of work which will be illustrated at the Knox county fair are as follows: Analysis of farm manures, plant food removed in farm crops, selection of varieties, thick and thin seeding of wheat and oats, early and late planting of corn, insects, noxious weeds, feeding farm animals, fertilizer experiments, and many other items of interest to the farmer.

SERVES SUMMONS ON SECRETARY OF STATE

Sheriff Mossholder Acts In Forbidding Suit Against Omar Co.

Sheriff Walter B. Mossholder went to Columbus Monday to serve a summons on Secretary of State Fulton in the matter of the suit brought in the local courts recently by the Forbidding Drilling Co. against the Omar Oil & Gas Co., a non-resident corporation. It appears that the defendant company has no representatives in this part of the state upon which the sheriff could serve the summons and, according to the law, the papers must be served on the secretary of state under such circumstances.

SCHOOLS, TRAIN TELEGRAPHERS!

Appeal Sent Out By Ohio Defense Council

KENYON PLANS A CLASS

War Department Realizes Urgent Need For Operators Of Skill

[By Associated Press to The Banner] COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 10—Appealed to by the War Department, the Ohio Defense Council today sent a letter to colleges, public schools and Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the state urging special classes to train telegraphers for the army.

This action followed receipt of a letter from Lieut. Col. L. D. Wildman, Signal Corps, U. S. R., declaring that "a very serious situation confronts the War Department in regard to the training of telegraphers for war work."

Ohio, Col. Wildman's letter stated, will be called on to furnish at least 600 telegraphers in the second and later calls for army service. Meanwhile, commercial telegraph companies throughout the state report an acute shortage of operators even for civilian and business work, although telegraphers, they say, receive pay ranging from $85 to $125 a month for an eight-hour day.

The Ohio War Board's appeal for establishment of classes to train telegraph operators follows one made direct some weeks ago to colleges, schools and Y. M. C. A.'s by the War Department. As the result of the first appeal, classes are now being organized at:

- Municipal University, Akron; Ohio university, Athens; Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware; Kenyon college, Gambier; Miami university, Oxford; Western Reserve university, Cleveland; Institute of Applied Arts, Cincinnati; American Radio Institute, Leipsic; public schools of Cleveland, Dayton, Toledo, Alliance and Mansfield; Y. M. C. A.'s at Postoria, Hamilton, Marion, Middleport and Toledo.

It is to the other colleges, schools and Y. M. C. A.'s in Ohio which have not answered the War Department's first appeal that the present request is directed. "Here is a real need which must be met" says the War Board's letter. "May we urge with all emphasis that you aid the government in this patriotic work."

CAN THE TOMATOES

Three Tried Out Recipes For This Favorite Vegetable.

"A CAN A DAY" THE SLOGAN.

The Burden of Record Breaking Crops Will Tax All Our Abilities For the Next Few Weeks When We Fall to In Canning Bouts.

[Prepared by New York State Food Supply Commission.]

Canned Tomatoes—Select tomatoes that are ripe, but not overripe, and free from blemishes. Do not attempt to handle too many at a time, since they will not keep if allowed to stand too long at any stage of the process. Soak them for from one-half to two minutes. Dip them in cold water and remove them quickly. With a sharp knife remove the stem core and the skin.

Open Kettle Method—Place one layer of the tomatoes in an enamel kettle and for every quart add one teaspoonful of salt and from one to three teaspoonfuls of sugar. Add no water. Bring the mass to the boiling point and boil it for from six to ten minutes. Large tomatoes should be turned during the cooking. With a sterilized spoon ladle them into jars that have been sterilized by being boiled for twenty minutes, filling the jars to overflowing. Adjust the rubbers that have been placed in boiling water for five minutes and the covers that have been sterilized with the jars. Seal the jars and invert them to cool.

Cold Pack Method—Pack the prepared tomatoes into the jars, pressing them down firmly with a wooden spoon. Fill the jars to within a quarter of an inch of the top with boiling tomato juice. To each quart add one teaspoonful of salt and from one to three tablespoonfuls of sugar. Adjust the rubbers, the covers and the upper clamps. Place the jars on a rack in a hot water bath, allowing the water to cover the top to a depth of one inch. Bring the water to the boiling point and boil the jars for twenty-five minutes. Remove them from the water, seal them and invert them to cool. Store in a cool, dark place.

Tomato Puree—Two quarts thick tomato pulp, one medium sized onion, two tablespoonfuls chopped sweet red peppers, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar. Tomato puree may be made from small or broken tomatoes. Cut the tomatoes into fourths and cook them until the pieces become broken and soft. Press the pulp through a sieve, discarding only the seeds and the skins add the onion, the pepper pulp and the seasoning to the strained pulp and cook the mixture until it is of the consistency of ketchup. It is necessary to stir it frequently in order to keep it from burning. Pour it into jars, adjust the rubbers and the tops and sterilize them for twenty-five minutes in a hot water bath. Seal them and invert them to cool.

Dried Tomato Paste—Prepare the tomatoes as for canning. Place them in an enamel kettle and without adding any water boil them until they are tender. Rub them through a sieve and boil down the pulp over direct heat until it is so thick that it is difficult to cook without stirring continually. Then place it over hot water or in a slow oven where there will be no danger of scorching it, but where the moisture will evaporate until the pulp is stiff enough to hold its shape when lifted from a spoon. Fill hot sterilized jars with the mixture and seal them, or spread it on plates or pans in thin sheets and dry it thoroughly in a very slow oven, from 120 degrees F. to 140 degrees F., until it can be cut in squares or rolled into sheets. It should then be stored carefully in moisture proof containers.

PRACTICAL HAT.

Mushrooms Are a Popular Fall Article of Style.

With a stole of Hudson seal this black velvet hat goes most appropriately. The facing is turquoise blue.

COZY ONES.

And about the crown of a fold of velvet goes a string of iridescent blue beads, the only trimming. Simplicity is a mark of all the new service hats.

Sand Prevents Fire.
If Japanese lanterns have a little sand put in the bottom there will be small danger of their catching fire, as the sand gives weight and holds the candle firm.
