FOX SCARFS POPULAR

Mary had a little lamb, but that was in the distant past. Now she has a little fox—for everywhere that Fashion goes the fox is sure to go. Fox scarfs have proved themselves the most beloved of furs, and they are universally worn. There is a considerable range of color in them, and a very great range of prices. In any case, the fur is soft, silky and becoming.

Saturday afternoon. Following the luncheon, three tables of auction were filled. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. James F. Lee, while the visitor's prize was presented to Mrs. Scott. The consolation prize went to Mrs. James Upham. The clubhouse was attractively decorated with flowers of early autumn.

Birthday Party is Given. Mrs. Leonard E. Rawlinson, North Main street, entertained a number of little girls Sunday evening, honoring her daughter Betty on her seventh birthday anniversary. The guests spent a pleasant time in games and contests.

Stelts-Rule Wedding. Mr. Edgar S. Stelts of this city and Miss Sylvia L. Rule of Ankenytown were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Sunday morning by Rev. D. C. Coburn at his residence, North Mulberry street. The couple was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Stelts will reside in Ankenytown.

Entertains With Dinner. Mrs. Ephraim Kunkle, 119 East Pleasant street, entertained with a dinner Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kunkle and two children of Alliance. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kunkle and children, County Recorder and Mrs. J. R. Reed Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohler and family.

Birthday Surprise Given Mr. Clutter. Mr. George Clutter, who resides on the Granville road, was tendered a surprise Saturday by 70 of his friends and relatives. The occasion was Mr. Clutter's birthday anniversary. The guests came at noon, bringing well filled baskets, from which a bountiful picnic dinner was served.

Issue Invitations For Auction Party. Mrs. James F. Lee, Mrs. Charles V. Critchfield and Mrs. Patrick A. Berry have issued invitations for an auction-luncheon to occur Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lee, North Main street.

BANNER STORY CAUSE OF MUCH COMMENT

Judge F. O. Levering's Stock Transaction Greatly Interests Readers

Publication of the story touching recent negotiations for the property of the Knox Ty & R. Co., particularly the episode of Judge F. O. Levering's stock transaction, carried exclusively in The Banner last Saturday, appears to have been the cause of not a little comment.

The generality of this comment is in agreement with the opinion expressed which, while not charging ulterior or improper motives to the gentlemen who visited Mt. Vernon last week, holds, nevertheless, their propositions, if accepted, would have been profitable only to themselves or their company and not to the stockholders or creditors of the Knox Tire & Rubber Co.

J. Frank Turner, who is a member of the firm conducting a pool room in the basement of the building at the corner of West High street and the square, Monday informed the Banner he had been disappointed in not meeting J. G. Feist while here. Unlike Judge Levering, his stock dealings in the concerns in which Mr. Feist had been interested had been wholly satisfactory. In 1918, Mr. Turner said, he had acquired 60 shares of stock of the National Rubber Co. Subsequently this was merged into the National Rubber Products Co. and still later into the Hydro-United Tire Co. For his original 60 shares he received 25 shares of the Hydro-United company. This holding has been increased by stock dividends of 26 shares, and he has been notified of an additional dividend coming Oct. 10.

Mr. Turner says he has received each month checks covering his dividends in the Hydro-United Co.

HOSPITAL NOTES. Mrs. A. E. Wright of Lisleville, W. Va., entered the M. & S. sanitarium Sunday. Mrs. Della Worley of East Water street entered the M. & S. sanitarium Sunday.

BIRTHS. A daughter was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Talloss Woolson of Harrison township.

Will Witness Final Test in Cleveland. E. M. Cornell and R. F. Cole Go To Attend Demonstration Of Clutch. E. M. Cornell and R. F. Cole went to Cleveland Monday morning to attend the final tests to be made this week of the clutch perfected by the Williamson Hydraulic Clutch Co. of this city.

While home from Cleveland over Sunday they were able to give information to their associates in the company that was of an eminently pleasing and satisfactory character. They have complete confidence the clutch will meet every test made of its operation. It is understood also that A. P. Steiner, a representative of the Landis Tool Co. of Waynesboro, Pa., who visited Mt. Vernon last Friday, is to return here Tuesday, at which time he may submit a definite proposition to the company for the manufacture of the device, either on a royalty basis or through acquisition of the rights by purchase.
