THE BREAKWATER ABOVE NATCHEZ GIVEN BY THE Natchez Free Trader, of the 25th ult., says: "That important breakwater above the city on the river bank, built and sustained for years at the individual expense of that public-spirited gentleman, Andrew Brown, Esq., gave way day before yesterday, thus leaving a very considerable portion of the Natchez lower landing exposed to the action of the powerful and increasing current. This important breakwater should have been adopted as a city improvement, and put before the contingency of its present breakage, some two months ago, when the river was low."

THE OTCORON AGAIN.—We find the following from Dion Bourcault, (author of the play entitled the Otcoron), in the city papers of Tuesday:

Gentlemen—My work, "The Otcoron, or Life in Louisiana," has been attacked by the press here—some alleging that it is a rank pro-slavery drama, others that it is an Abolition play in disguise, and others that it is neither.

As for my political persuasion I am a Democrat, and a Southern Democrat, but do not mix myself up with politics in any way; still when I found myself under an imputation of writing anything with the smallest tendency against my convictions, I withdrew the work not because I disowned it; I withdrew it to send it down South, that you might see for yourselves whether even inadvertently I could prostitute my abilities, my convictions and my feelings.

It is not probable that I shall ever visit the South again, so I am doubly anxious to retain the good opinion of the friends I made and left there. And I have no more honest, straight and manly course to pursue than to send on the work as I do now and prove by its representation that I am not unworthy to retain your kind remembrance.

I am, yours truly, DION BOURCAULT.

To His Excellency, the Gov. of the State of Louisiana: Sir—I have the honor to place before you a work of fiction, called "The Otcoron, or Life in Louisiana." It has been represented in this city, and the reception it has met with from many Southern families of distinction, has induced me to dedicate to your Excellency a picture of plantation life, not the less faithful because drawn by one who feels so warmly towards the sunny South.

If its merits be humble, I trust its honesty and truth will recommend it to your favor. And let the absence of flattery from its pages attest the sincerity of my convictions. Your Excellency's obt. serv't. DION BOURCAULT. New York, January 17, 1860.

TO PHYSICIANS OF THE SOUTHERN STATES. Wolfe's Genuine Cognac Brandy. Wolfe's Genuine Maderia Wine. Wolfe's Genuine Sherry Wine. I am now supplying the trade with pure Cognac Brandy, in bottles, both for medical and private use. The immense success that has crowned my efforts to place a pure Brandy within the reach of all, under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, and to drive out of the market the pernicious compounds sold as gin throughout the country; led many lending druggists, apothecaries and medical men, for some years past, to solicit me to pursue the same course in regard to the article of Brandy. I should have complied with these requests from all quarters long ago, but was deterred from it by the fact, that owing to the exorbitant price of Brandy in France, consequent upon the shortness of the grape crop for some years, there was no chance of my being able to import the choicest Brandy, bottled and sell it at moderate prices. Fortunately for me, the grape crop for the last and previous year (and the prospect for this) was abundant, and prices of Brandy have fallen to the standard of ten years ago. The duty on Brandy is also seventy per cent lower, and I have now made arrangements with four Brandy exporters in France, of the highest repute, and am regularly receiving consignments of the best Cognac Brandy, which I am bottling and selling as Wolfe's Genuine Cognac Brandy. I guarantee with my seal, labels and certificates, the Brandy so bottled by me, as the pure, unadulterated article, and it will be found, when used as a medicine, a beverage, or a cordial, healthful and invigorating. It has been a matter of universal complaint, that a bottle of pure, unadulterated French Brandy, was very difficult to obtain, and the purchaser, nine times in ten was deceived; with a vile manufactured imitation. Of all descriptions of ardent spirits, Brandy, from its high price, has been the one article that mixers and sellers have turned their attention to, and a billions of gallons of the so-called French Brandy have been scattered annually through the land, and have been the primary cause of murders, suicides, cruelties and crimes, and have sent thousands to an early grave, self-destruction, from delirium tremens, mania-a-pots and horrors, names unknown, until unprincipled men began to make maddening compounds and sell it as the pure French Brandy. The virtues of pure French Brandy need not be told by me. They are known throughout the world as a medicine or mild stimulant. It is, as the French nation poetically call it "Eau de la vie," the water of life. But this applies to it only when pure and unadulterated. Manufactured with the fearful ingredients that make a good imitation, it becomes a death drink to innocent tens of thousands of our race. To remedy a fearful evil, I have commenced importing Brandy, bottling it, and selling it as "WOLFE'S GENUINE COGNAC BRANDY." I am daily receiving orders from the druggists and apothecaries in all parts of the Union, to sell it for medicinal purposes.
