

THE LOVE OF READING IN CHILDREN. [From "The School-Master and Advocate of Education," published monthly at Philadelphia. Price $3 per annum.] We would recommend to all parents who have at heart the best interests of their children, to infuse into them, in the earliest years, a love of reading. The advantages of such a habit are great, and it exercises an influence over the destinies of the future man, which few, without reflection, would suppose. The effects, even in childhood, are beneficial, and evident to the most careless observer. The reading child is superior in temper, docility, and knowledge, to his book-hating companions; he indulges less in idleness and play; he is not so fond of mischief; and he does not contract so many bad habits. He takes, at school, a stand higher than his fellows; and, when grown to manhood, outstrips them in most of the rivalries of life.

Every father, especially every father living in the country, should provide himself with a library of entertaining and instructive books, taking care to add to it from day to day, according to his means, such new productions as are really of value. A few dollars thus laid out—and, dear as books are supposed to be, a very small sum will procure an excellent little family library—will bring him a better interest, if he can look for it in the advancement of his offspring, than if invested in the most gainful of stocks.

Upon our farmers, therefore, in particular, should be enjoined the duty of providing little libraries for the use of their families. From the nature of their occupation, and their situation at a distance from towns, the education of their children must be defective; and to them books will prove more valuable, as they are actually more necessary, than to the children, of any other class.

AN AWFUL LESSON TO DRINKERS. The Favorite Son.—At the last March term of the Court of Common Pleas, Delaware county, New York, a young man about 24 years of age, by the name of Jonathan Thompson, was indicted for maiming and disfiguring the person of his father. It appears from the evidence on the trial, that, on some day in January, the son was seen by two females near the cabin of his father, the rest of the family being absent. Soon afterwards, the same females, who were the nearest neighbors, heard repeated cries of distress, but were afraid to approach the cabin. In a few minutes they saw the old man lying upon his back, on the ground near the cabin, stretching up his arms as if begging for assistance. They went to him and found him almost lifeless, with a piece bitten out of his upper lip, nearly the size of one's thumb, his eyebrows and ears chewed through and through, and one arm from the hand to the shoulder covered with wounds made by the teeth. He was removed into the cabin, and placed on the bed. His life was despaired of. The next morning the son was arrested, and his clothes were literally soaked and stiffened with blood—the blood of his father! It further appeared that the father and son were both in the habit of drinking spirits, and that the son was under the influence of liquor when he committed the outrage upon his father. He was his father's favorite son, and it appeared that they would occasionally have a drunken frolic together. There had been some previous misunderstanding in regard to a farm, and the son, who was peaceable and inoffensive when sober, but quarrelsome when drunk, had thrown out some threats against his father. When arrested in the morning, he was sober, and the officer took him to see his father. He almost fainted at the sight, and called for a tumbler of water, and a chair to sustain himself. His father refused to appear in court to testify against him. He was his favorite son. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the wretched man was sentenced to the Penitentiary for three years, the victim of bad example and bad precepts. "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

FARENTAL EXAMPLE. A gentleman in one of the lower counties of this State many years ago determined never to use ardent spirit himself or to bring it into his house. His children were then young, but now his sons, twelve in number, have grown to be men, temperance men, and most of them pious. When they are gathered around him and he looks upon their manly forms, vigorous, healthy, sober, pious, his whole soul most overflow with gratitude. When he dies, he will leave a precious legacy to his country—a valuable example, twelve hardy sons upon whom their country may rely in any hour of trial which may come upon her. And doubtless, they will imitate the example of their parents, and teach their children the lesson of abstinence they themselves have learned.

THE CORN PLANTER. A machine of this name, for which a patent has been obtained by HENRY BLAIR, a free man of color, of an adjoining county of Maryland, is now exhibiting in the Capitol. It is a very simple and ingenious machine, which as moved by a horse, opens the furrow, drops (at proper intervals, and in an exact and suitable quantity) the corn, covers it, and levels the earth so as, in fact, to plant the corn as rapidly as a horse can draw a plough over the ground. The inventor thinks it will save the labor of eight men. We understand he is about to modify the machine, so as to adapt it to the planting of cotton. It will accomplish (as we incline to believe it will) all which he supposes, it will prove to be an invention of great utility.—Nat. Int.

THE DRUNKARDS SON.—Mother—this bread is very hard—why don't we have cake and nice things, as we used to when we lived in the great house?—oh, that was such a pretty house Mamma—and I do love to live there so; you made sweet music there, Mamma, with your fingers, when Pa would sing; Pa used to laugh then, and take me on his knee; and said I was his own dear boy. What makes Pa sick, Ma? I wish he wasn't sick for it makes me afraid when he stamps on the floor, and says so loud, George go off to bed. Say, when will he get well; and take me on his knee, and love me as he used to? But, Ma, there is a tear in your eye; let me wipe it; there another comes; oh another! did I make you cry these tears, Mamma? Hush little innocent, you cannot stop your Mother's tears, for they are the overflowing of a fountain, filled with blighted hopes, anguish and misery. She cannot tell you 'when your Father will love you,' for alas he is a DRUNKARD.

I heard a beautiful boy scarcely four years old, lisping this to his mother;—and I pitied him for my inmost soul. His name was George Elwyn. His father was once rich and happy, and nearly idolized his little son; but in an evil hour, he began to sip the intoxicating cup; the habit had grown upon him, until the peace of his family was destroyed; and he a tyrant. The beautiful house, in which they had lived, was now exchanged for a miserable cottage in the suburb of the city and little George doomed to be the companion of the indolent and vicious.

POWER OF THE PRESS. It was considered by Edmund Burke, 40 years ago, that there were in Britain 80,000 readers. "THE PENNY MAGAZINE," published in London by the "Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge," has now alone 200,000 purchasers, and probably 1,000,000 readers. It is printed on a large sheet in duplicate, 16,000 being printed in a day, which in the common mode of printing a few years since would have occupied a single press nearly three weeks. It is sold at a penny throughout the United Kingdom.

THE MOON HOAX. Every one remembers the famous moon hoax that was played upon the wise citizens of New York, and through them on those of the Union by a factious and clever writer by the name of Richard Adams Locke. It appears that a copy has been presented to Sir John Herschel, whose discoveries in the moon the said paper purported to detail, by Capt. Caldwell of the American ship Levant, and the following is the letter of Sir John Herschel, acknowledging the receipt of the same.

TO CAPT. CALDWELL, OF THE AMERICAN SHIP LEVANT, TABLE BAY. Veldhauser, near Wynberg. Cape of Good Hope, Jan. 2, 1833. Sir John Herschel presents his compliments to Capt. Caldwell, and begs to thank him for the communication of the extraordinary and most elaborate hoax in the New York Journal of Commerce for Sept. 2, 1835, which he, Sir J. H. will be glad to be suffered to retain, partly as a curiosity, and partly as a perpetual reminder how trivial are the discoveries which all our boasted science has yet realized or is likely to reveal for ages to come, in comparison of what exist unknown and unsuspected among the realities of nature—even those nearest at hand and possibly not quite beyond our ultimate reach.

Sugar from Indian Corn.—Mr. Pallas lately presented to the Academie des Sciences of Paris a sample of this substance, extracted from the stem of the plant, which has been found to contain nearly six per cent of syrup boiled to 40 degrees, a part of which will not crystallize before fructification, but it condenses and acquires more consistency from that period to the state of complete maturity. The most favorable time to obtain the greatest quantity of sugar is immediately after the maturity and gathering of the fruit. The matter left after the extraction of the sugar is capital to feed cattle or make packing paper.

Rowand's Tonic Mixture. A Lasting Cure for the Fever & Ague. THIS worthy remedy earnestly repels the slur of being a quack medicine, it being the result of many years' study, experience and labor in the medical practice and observation of Fever and Ague. It is composed of such medicinal principles as were considered most fit to restore the harmony of action between the stomach and Liver. By renewing the healthy action of the digestive organs, it has proved itself of remarkable benefit in Dyspepsia, Depraved Appetite, Heart-burn, Water Braish, Flatulency, Jaundice, Night Sweats, Dysentery, Bowel Complaints, but it is in the treatment of FEVER and AGUE or Intermittent Fever, that its powers have been principally tested, and with those who have seen its usefulness, it is pronounced sovereign.

CONNELL, who is too low to notice; the other to our late illustrious CHIEF JUSTICE, who was above all praise." MILD WINTER IN THE WEST. It is stated in the Green Bay (territory of Wisconsin) Intelligencer, of the 10th February, that there had not been a sufficiency of snow in that region during the greater part of the winter, "to track a rabbit." Green Bay being in about 44-1-2 degrees of North latitude we hardly know how to account for the fact here stated. We have, however, seen some other statements, all concurring as to the uniform mildness of the climate in the region of country (Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, &c.) west of the great chain of Lakes. In the Eastern and Middle-States, however, a colder winter than the last was seldom known.

ANECDOTE OF LORENZO DOW.—Being one evening at a hotel kept by our Bush, in Delhi, (N. Y.) the residence of the celebrated General Root, he was impromptu by the latter gentleman, in the presence of the landlord, to describe Heaven.—"You say a great deal about that place," said the General, "tell us how it looks."—Lorenzo turned his grave face and long waving beard towards Messrs. Bush and Root, and replied with imperturbable serenity;—"Heaven, friends, is a vast extent of smooth, rich territory; there is not a root nor bush in it, and there never will be."

PEDIGREE. His dam was by Hugh Wiley's Marske, the best son of imported Diomed, out of a Medley mare; grand dam by John Cragg's imported Highflyer, son of the great English Highflyer, who was never beaten, and never paid forfeit. Imported Highflyer was bred by the Duke of St. Albans—dam by Syphon, out of young Cade's sister—sire of Lee Boo, and other good runners. (See Tattersall's certificate, &c. Turf Register, vol. 1, page 576—vol. 2, page 375—vol. 4, page 155, 210 462.) His great grand dam was by Mark Antony, dam by Brandon, he by Aristotel, dam by imported Janus. (See Turf Register, vol. 5, page 442.) His g. g. grand dam by Symes' Wildair; g. g. g. grand dam by imported Fear-naught. He was sired by Mucklejohn, Sen., now in Kentucky, who was by Sir Archy, out of Belona, she by Bell Air, he by imported Medley, (See Turf Register, vol. 3, No. 6, February, 1832. See also Bell Air, best son of imported Medley, vol. 6, page 125.) The pedigree of Sir Archy, who was by Diomed, out of imported Castaria, his reputation and that of his stock, and all the various branches of the families connected with Mucklejohn, Jr., are so well known to breeders of Blood Horses, that we deem it unnecessary to pursue the subject further, and shall proceed to give his PERFORMANCES. Mucklejohn, Jr. was partially trained in the fall of 1830, then 3 years old; but only suffered to run sufficient to test his speed and to try his future promise. Fully trained the next season, and on the 20th of October, 1831, he won the Jockey Club purse, $80, at Pinewild South Carolina, two mile heats—beating Col. Richardson's b. f. Laprulle, 4 years old, and Col. Sinker's c. Van Buren, same age. (Time not stated—said to be very quick.) After this race he was exercised with an unmanageable filly, who, in defiance of the efforts of her riders, constantly took the lead, by which means he soon became accustomed to look for a leader, and to stop when he saw nothing in advance of him—and on the 21 of December, 1831, on the Stateburg Course 4 mile heats, purse $300, ran into the crowd near the Judge's stand, at the close of the third mile, while far in advance of Col Sinker's b. c. Van Buren, Col. Myer's s. m. Lady Deerpound, and Mr. R. Adam's gr. c. Cuffee; and though he again got on the track and won the heat, he was ruled out by the Judges—and on the next day, 23d, three mile heats, purse $200, was again ruled out, from crossing a corner of the track, while more than 200 yards in advance of Mr. Adam's s. c. Sally Bailey, by Murat, and one other not now recollected. On the 23d, two mile heats, purse $100, he was run with a blind bridle, and won with great ease, hand in hand. (These races never before published)

On the 12th of January, 1832, he won the Jockey Club purse, $215, at Columbia, S. C., two mile heats, beating Col. R. Adam's Tapsal, by Crusader, Col. Wm. R. Johnson's Annette, by Sir Charles, Mr. Rive's Sourcrot, by Rob Roy, and Mr. Woodward's Water Witch by do. Time 3 min. 56 sec.—4 min. 4 sec.—Turf Register, vol. 3, page 316.) On the 26th January, same year, he won the Jockey Club purse, $400, at Camden, four mile heats, over an exceeding rough and hard frozen course—beating Mr. Smith's Mary Frances, by Director, 5 years old, and Dr. Ellerbee's Jeanette, by Eclipse, dam by Cock of the Rock, five years old. Time 8 min. 20 sec.—8 min. 21. sec.—(Turf Register, vol. 3, page 368.) He was taken to Charleston, with his feet still sore from his Camden race, and on the 22d of February, 1832, on the Washington Course, 4 mile heats, carrying 102lb., purse $1000, bolted on the last stretch of the fourth round of the first heat, just passed in advance of Col. Wm. R. Johnson's Trile, by Sir Charles, carrying 87lb., and Mr. Thurston's Red Guntlet, by Sumter. [See note on the same, Turf Register, vol. 3, page 205.] And on the next day, 23d, on the same course, he won a sweep-stake, 2 mile heats, beating Mr. Brown's Pelham, by Kostusko, and distancing Mr. Allen's Helen Mc-

Gregor, by Reliance. Time 3 min. 54 sec.—4 min. 6 sec.—[Vol. 3, page 366.] On the 3d of January, 1833, he won the Jockey Club purse, $300, on the Stateburg Course 4 mile heats—beating Mr. J. K. Bulloch's b. m. 4 mile heats—beating Mr. J. K. Moore's Slaves, by Mucklejohn, and Col. J. J. Moore's s. c. Uncas, by Sir Archy. Turf Times 7 min. 52 sec.—7 min. 54 sec. (Never before published.)
