WOMAN

By Withrop Macworth Praed.

Woman! Thou loveliest gift that here below Man can receive, or Providence bestow! To thee the earliest offerings belong Of opening eloquence, or youthful song; Lovely partaker of our dearest joys; Thyself a gift whose pleasure never ceases— Whose wish for presence gently can appease— The wounds of penury or slow disease— Whose loss is such as through life's tedious way No rank can compensate, no wealth repay; Thy figure beams a ray of heavenly light To cheer the darkness of our earthly night; Hail, fair Enslaver! at thy changing glance Boldness recedes and timid hearts advance. Monarchs forget their scepter and their sway, And aches melt in tenderness away.

The Dearing-Foster Wedding and Other El Paso Marriages

One of the first of the many spring weddings announced, took place Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Emily Foster, and Edrix C. Dearing, were united in marriage by Rev. C. L. Overstreet. The marriage occurred at the First Presbyterian church where a number of the intimate friends of the two families assembled to do honor to this popular young couple.

The wedding was marked by quiet elegance. The bride leaning on the arm of her father also entered from the vestry room, and the bridal party formed a half circle around the altar.

Francis Moore presided at the organ, and to the strains of the wedding march, the two bridesmaids entered from the vestry room while the groom with his best man, Grant Macartney, came in from the opposite side of the church. The bride leaning on the arm of her father also entered from the vestry room, and the bridal party formed a half circle around the altar.

The bride was most charming in a modish traveling gown of rich coral-colored mummy cloth. A black picture hat completed this chic and very becoming costume. Her flowers were bride's roses in shower effect. The bridesmaids, Misses Clover Shackelford and Margaret Foynter, were gowned alike in dainty white lingerie dresses, made over pink silk. They wore white picture hats, and carried immense bouquets of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a very informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Mesa avenue, for the intimate friends of the young couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Foster. She has grown up in this city, and is one of El Paso's sweetest and most lovable girls. After completing the high school course in El Paso, Miss Foster finished her education at Science Hill college in Kentucky. Mr. Dearing has been in El Paso a number of years and is a popular young man. He is a member of the country club and other organizations of the city.

Notable among the large collection of beautiful and useful gifts received by the young couple, was a set of handmade linen table cloths, napkins and towels, the flax of which was grown, spun, and woven on Mrs. M. P. Schuster's father's place in Hungary, and was a part of her own trousseau. The bride and groom left Saturday evening at 6:30 over the Mexican Central for Madera, Mex., where Mr. Dearing is assistant manager of the Madera Lumber company.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. H. W. Galbraith, of Amarillo, Tex.; Miss Margaret Poynter, of Midway, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Dearing, and Mrs. Houser, of Chihuahua, mother, father and grandmother of the groom.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parlors of the Christian church, Miss Hilda Hickey and Frank E. Bessee were quietly married by Rev. P. J. Rice. The bride is from Deaver and the groom from Mexico.

The young couple met here to be married, and at once proceeded to their future home near Chihuahua, Mex.

Miss Lucy Stokes Fisher and Eugene Russell Cooper, of Clinton, La., were married this morning at 11 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents on the Boulevard. Miss Fisher is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fisher, and a most charming and attractive young girl. Mr. Cooper is a prominent young business man of Clinton, La., where they will reside.

Mrs. G. P. Fry announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ethel D. Fry, to Henry F. Durkee, to take place March 26 at the residence, 1918 Boulevard.

Myles Family Going To Ireland; Personal Notes

St. Patrick's day will be of double significance to H. C. Myles this year. In addition to being the birthday of his country's patron saint, the day will mean much to Mr. Myles for he is planning to leave for the "auld sod" on March 27 to visit the land which was freed of the snakes by the good St. Pat. Accompanied by Mrs. Myles, Miss Kathleen and his son, Ernest, Mr. Myles will leave here for New York and will sail for the continent upon the arrival of the party there. After visiting Italy, Germany, Austria, Holland and the other countries of Europe, the El Paso family will go to Ireland to visit the town of Limerick, the home of Mr. Myles' ancestors. They will be away for the summer.

Miss Ruth McRae, who has been the guest of Miss Alvia Wilson, left Tuesday evening for her home in Seattle, Wash. She was accompanied by Miss Wilson, who will spend two months in the northwest.

Reception To Miss Barnes; Women's Clubs In El Paso

Miss Helen S. Barnes, national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who has been in the city for a few days, left Monday for Fort Worth and Dallas. Miss Barnes has been making a tour of the south visiting the cities where the Y. W. C. A. have been established.

A reception was tendered to Miss Barnes by the board of directors of the El Paso association, at the association rooms on Saturday evening last. In addition to the members of the board, there were present the wives of the pastors of the various churches of the city and also representatives from the several women's organizations, as follows: Mrs. H. D. Slater, women's charities; Miss Mamie Sexton, United Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. Klesner, Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. Ben Jenkins, Civic League; Mrs. A. W. Foster, Woman's club. Several of the women's organizations were represented by members of the board.

The parlor was fragrant with the perfume from great clusters of hyacinths, while the tables in the dining room were made beautiful with bowls of jonquils and trailing ivy. Old fashioned brass candlesticks added further to the decorations.

The dextology was sung, led by Mrs. Paul Heermann, and grace was said by Mrs. C. L. Overstreet.

Mrs. Smith, president of the board, presiding in her usual happy way, gave the address of welcome, in which she called attention to the fact that in one sense this was an initial entertainment, as it was the first time the board had met at the same table since the organization of the association in El Paso. The Christmas salute was given to Miss Barnes, who acknowledged it in a few words. Mrs. Smith then spoke of the dedication on Sunday of the ground for the boarding home.

Mrs. W. C. Davis, chairman of the boarding home committee, who has been a most indefatigable worker for the home, responded to the toast, "Our

IN HONOR OF BRIDES.

Miss Sue Cromble was the hostess at a charmingly appointed luncheon given Saturday at 1 o'clock, in honor of Miss Sallie Tom Walthall. Green and white was the color scheme chosen for the decorations. The Japanese fern adorned the center of the table, and ropes of smilax extended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, giving a most pleasing effect.

The place cards were handpainted baskets of orange blossoms, and dainty bride's slippers were given as favors. The delightful luncheon was served in nine course and covers were laid for 12 guests.

Mrs. W. A. White will entertain Saturday afternoon with a towel shower complimentary to Miss Sallie Tom Walthall.

Mrs. Van C. Wilson will entertain with a shower tomorrow afternoon in honor of Miss Walthall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edrix C. Dearing were entertained Sunday at Chihuahua at an elaborately appointed dinner of 12 courses, given by Miss Flora McLain. Covers were laid for 30 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Dearing were married in this city Saturday afternoon and were en route to their future home in Madera, Mex.

CARDS.

Mrs. W. H. Lorez entertained Saturday afternoon at a charmingly informal bridge party of five tables.

The first prize was won by Mrs. Franklin, and Mrs. W. A. White secured the second.

After the games a delicious salad course was served, followed by the ice cream.

The guests who enjoyed the affair were Mesdames W. A. White, F. P. Miller, Franklin, H. E. Runkle, W. P. McDermott, T. F. Kimball, Hattie White, W. D. Bryan, Frank Turner, L. H. Tucker, J. H.
