

ANTITOXIN TREATMENT For Cure of Consumption vs. Climate.

The following letter was written by Mr. C. P. Wilson of Mesilla Park, New Mexico, who had been afflicted with tuberculosis for fifteen years prior to the time he took the Wright-Duering Antitoxin for its cure in June, 1909.

C. P. Wilson.

You who are afflicted can not attach too much importance to the various points covered in Mr. Wilson's letter.

While under treatment I talked with several of your patients—they were all well pleased with results obtained.

We have established offices for the Wright-Duering Anti-toxin company in El Paso, San Antonio and Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. L. W. Greeg, of 409 East Franklin street, has left for Merkle, Tex., where she expects to make her future home.

WHAT THE THEATRICAL COMPANIES PAY THE RAILROADS IN A YEAR

Important Part Which the Show Business Bears to the Transportation Business Is Shown.

The part which the theatrical business plays in the transportation world is of more consequence than most people think.

W. W. Decker, war correspondent and newspaper man of note, who is in El Paso ahead of Mr. H. Singer's "Prince of Tonight" company, stands sponsor for the statement that his company alone pays the railroads $50,000 in transportation this year.

This is only the outlay of one man's attractions. Think what the general total amount would be.

W. W. Decker is a brother of Karl Decker, the well known New York writer; the man who has contributed many reform articles to Collier's and writes regularly on the staff of the New York Telegraph.

Car "Thompson" will arrive tomorrow over the National Railways, being delayed by a stop at the city of Chihuahua.

STILWELL HERE TONIGHT. The Stilwell special will arrive about 6 o'clock tonight over the E. P. & S. W. tracks.

ABOUT RAILROAD PEOPLE. Maj. Charles Hine, of the maintenance and operation department of the Harriman lines, is in El Paso.

S. P. GETS TITLES AT FARMINGTON. New Settlers Are Investing in Farm and Orchard Lands.

Farmington, N. M., March 23.—The attorneys for the Southern Pacific railroad have been in Farmington taking title to the right of way for the road and depot grounds.

struction on the proposed line from Gallup.

C. P. Collins, of Ridgeway, Colo., is here investing in farm and orchard lands, and will go into gardening upon an extensive scale.

A large contracting firm of Fort Smith, Ark., has a representative here to figure on constructing Farmington's five miles of cement sidewalks.

It is reported that J. W. Reagan, assistant chief engineer of the Atchafalaya railroad, accompanied by the chief engineer of the Epes Randolph systems and a corps of contractors, is making a tour of inspection of the proposed Southern Pacific line, coming overland from Gallup to Farmington.

AMUSEMENTS.
