

SLUGGING MATCH A VICTORY FOR EL PASO

Douglas Lost the Week End Game by Small Margin. McCarthy Saves Day

One of the best games that has ever been played on the local baseball diamond, from a fan's point of view, was that in which El Paso defeated Douglas Saturday afternoon.

El Paso scored the first and also the last run of the game. It was a slugging match, in which two home runs, one three base hit and 10 two baggers were made.

For a while it looked as though the game was going into extra innings, for Douglas tied the score in the fifth and ninth innings. McCarthy saved the day for El Paso in that he scored McGowan on a hit to left field.

The fans, of which there were about 1000 present, enjoyed the game from start to finish and the rooting for Douglas was as lively as that for El Paso.

Bingles and Bunts

Harben is a warm weather pitcher; wait until he thaws out and gets rid of a little of that fat.

Merritt played in Saturday's game with his right hand bandaged—but together than any other two on the circuit.

Hewitt could not get into the game Saturday or Sunday, as he sprained his ankle Friday.

McCarthy is some slugger and hits at the right time.

Jackson has dropped the bunting game and has taken to knocking home runs and three baggers.

Harbuck has a big voice and he ought to use it more on the coaching line; the fans like noise at a ball game.

Kernan is not acclimated yet, but he is a comer. Give him a chance and leave your hammers at home, fans.

The big exit gates at the park should be opened wide so the crowd can get out when the game is over.

The groundkeeper should not be so stingy with the lime along the base lines.

RAG CHEWING AND POOR UMPIRING SPOIL GAME

Douglas Wins From El Paso Sunday

A squeeze play, amateurish umpiring by an amateur umpire, and even more amateurish actions on the part of both the members of the visiting and home clubs was the offering at the park Sunday afternoon in a baseball way.

The squeeze play came in the eighth when the score was tied with no immediate prospect of it becoming untangled before darkness fell.

Carleson had scored on a hit to right field back of first base which Kernan failed to field on the backup.
