The Clearing House Association of Chicago was the pioneer in the establishment of an independent system of examinations in this country. Its system was inaugurated on June 1, 1906, with results that have more than fulfilled expectations. The Chicago examiner operates under the following conditions: The examinations extend to all the associated banks of Chicago and to all non-member institutions. The work is conducted with the aid of five regular assistants, each fitted by experience to thoroughly do that part of the work assigned to him. The examinations include a physical verification of the assets and liabilities of each bank, so far as is possible, an investigation into the workings of every department and are made as thorough as is practicable.

Directors Kept Advised.
After each examination the examiner prepares a detailed report in duplicate, describing the bank's loans, bonds, investments, and other assets, mentioning specially all loans, either direct or indirect, to officers, directors, or employees, or to corporations in which they may be interested. The report also contains a description of conditions found in every department. One of these reports is filed in the vaults of the clearing house, in the custody of the examiner, and the other is handed to the examined bank's president for the use of its directors.

The individual directors are then notified that the examination has been made and that a copy of the examining report has been handed to the president for their use. In this way every director is given an opportunity to see the report, and the examiner, in every instance, insists upon receiving acknowledgment of the receipt of these notices.

The detailed report retained by the examiner is not submitted to the clearing-house committee, under whose direct supervision he operates, unless the discovery of unusual conditions makes it necessary. A special report in brief form is prepared in every case and read to the clearing-house committee at meetings called for that purpose. The report is made in letter form, and describes in general terms the character of all loans, direct or indirect, to officers, directors, or employees, or to corporations in which they may have an interest.

Other Associations Follow.
The example of Chicago was followed in less than a year by the Clearing House Association of Minneapolis and later by the banks of St. Paul, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Philadelphia. The methods differ somewhat in different cities, but are directed to the same result of a more rigorous examination of assets and methods than are assumed by the national bank examiners under the federal law.

In dealing with the panic of 1907, Mr. Cannon points out that, beginning with 1860, the issues of clearing house certificates at New York alone, have amounted to the enormous aggregate of $269,839,000, all of which have been redeemed without the loss of a single dollar, and at periods ranging from three to seven months from the date of the first issue. While no attempt is made to enter upon an academic discussion of the causes of the panic, the remark of a prominent banker and economist is quoted to the following effect:

"It is true that that responsibility for the panic of 1907 lies at the door of our currency system. No other adequate cause can be found. We do business by the modern system of bank credit, but we have failed to supply it with machinery with the means for readily converting bank credit into cash."

VOTE FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP AS THE ONLY SAFE SOLUTION.
"We find that the only sure and safe solution for all time of the problem which confronts the city is the immediate purchase of the water works. This is the unanimous conviction of the people of this city should take immediate steps to consummate the purchase of the present water plant and that it should continue to conduct the same under its municipal government, and we desire to especially emphasize the fact that at no time has the opportunity been so propitious, and that at no time in the future would it likely be so favorable for the purchase and successful operation of this public utility which is of such vital concern to every citizen. The city is amply able to purchase, and indeed as we see it, it is essential to the present and to the future of the plant at once and at this time and thus avoid future complications."—From the report of the first water committee, James G. McNary, chairman.

IT WILL PAY TAXPAYERS TO VOTE FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.
The first water committee, J. G. McNary, chairman, determined that a fair and reasonable gross return to meet fixed charges and operating expenses under municipal ownership and efficient management would be only $148,000 per annum, making a difference in favor of municipal ownership of nearly $250,000 per annum—this in addition to the $20,000 now paid by the city for water for public purposes which would be saved under municipal ownership.

SENTENCE SERMONS IN PULPITS OF EL PASO

"To look at the Alamo, it is not attractive, but it is attractive because of the deeds that were done there. It is deeds that transform life."—Rev. Miles Hanson, Westminster Presbyterian church.

"A comet has nothing to do with the affairs of the world; a star has nothing to do with the destinies of men; nor the moon with the weather."—Rev. Henry Easter, Church of St. Clement.

"There are always people who refuse to dance, however sweet or solemn the music may be; that is to say, it is impossible to please the whims of all the people about you."—Rev. Charles L. Overstreet, First Presbyterian church.

"Man is absolute in the right of his moral choices; God, Himself, has set no limitation upon him, nor has He permitted any presumptuous interference from man or demon."—Rev. O. N. McBride, from the pulpit of Cavalry Baptist church.

"Mothers, your lives spent like God intended, are not insignificant; they are not and cannot be isolated from universal significance for your boys shall bear them into the great tide that never ebbs."—Rev. Caspar S. Wright, Trinity Methodist church.

"God is not only a great king, but is tender like a shepherd and loving like a father; draw near to Him with true repentance, dismiss your doubts and fears and He will teach you to love Him and love His children."—Dr. Samuel Blair, from the pulpit of the First Methodist church.

"We should indeed honor our mothers; they are the ones who have gone to the gates of the grave to bring us into the world, and they are the ones who have spent weary nights in patient watchfulness over us when we were helpless infants; they are the ones who have watched with eagerest anticipation our development through the years of youth; oh, do not let us be unthoughtful of such a friend."—Rev. James Perry Rice, First Christian church.

"There can be no Christian life without the spiritual inheritance; there can be no influx of souls into the kingdom of God apart from the Spirit's regenerating power; the church has erred whenever she has attempted to accelerate her growth by purely materialistic methods; 'ye must be born again,' comes to us with the authority of God's Son; 'ye must be born again,' is the only criterion for admission into the heavenly kingdom."—Kenneth Brown, East El Paso Presbyterian church.

"Many people inveigh against what they term emotional religion, but we should remember, however, that we enter the Kingdom of Heaven heart first, rather than head first; not 'the clear in head,' but 'the pure in heart shall see God,' and we should all admit that emotion in spiritual realms should be generated force of action, and emotional religion is a mere makeshift unless the daily life corresponds with the high profession."—Rev. B. C. Preston, of the First Congregational church, at Y. M. C. A.

"It is true that man must get above himself and his environments in order to see himself; no man is so big in his own estimation as the prize fighter, who only sees himself from the brutal standpoint of a prize fighter; no man is less in his own sight than he who has climbed so high in his Christian tower that he sees himself as God sees him, and, like Paul, cries out, 'Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given.'"—Rev. Alfred J. McElwain, Houston Square Baptist church.

Government Issues Bulletin Describing Work—Some Associations Have Their Own Examiners.

Washington, D. C., May 9.—A monograph, having special interest to those bankers and merchants who were compelled to avail themselves of clearing-house certificates during the panic of 1907, has just been made public by the National Monetary Commission. It is entitled, "Clearing Houses," and is written by James G. Cannon, vice president of the Fourth National bank of New York and chairman of the committee on finance of the New York chamber of commerce.

The bankers west of the Mississippi river have given to the country the most striking examples of the possibilities of clearing houses exercising various special functions, while the great associations of the east, and especially that of New York, have exemplified the utility and value of clearing house loan certificates, he says. Among other functions of the clearing houses are the granting

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin, is a sensitive membranous mesh in which are imbedded thousands of small blood vessels. It is through these tiny veins and arteries that nutriment is supplied from the blood to the different pores, glands and lymphatics. Thus the skin is kept healthy, and free from all eruption or disease, by pure blood. But when impurities and humors infect the circulation its nourishing properties are diminished and instead of supplying the skin with healthful properties it constantly irritates and diseases the delicate fibres, pores and glands with sharp uratic matter. Then the skin tissues inflame, swell and ulcerate and some form of skin disease appears on the surface. Applying soothing lotions, salves, etc., to the outer eruptions does not purify the blood and therefore the skin trouble can not be cured in this manner. S. S. S. cures all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to the normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. Cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poison Oak, boils, pimples, rashes, etc. Book on Skin Diseases free to all who write.
