SPLENDID LOT OF SOLDIERS IN 23'D INFANTRY AT FORT BLISS

Are Proud of Their Regiment and Hold Records of Service Unimpeachable. Personnel of Battalion.

The twenty-third infantry, the headquarters and second battalion of which now garrison Fort Bliss, is one of the best known regiments in the service. It has had splendid service against the Indians and in the Spanish and Philippine wars, and many of the members of the regiment are seasoned veterans. All of the enlisted men are looked upon by their officers as men of high character and soldierly qualifications, and it is said that no regiment was ever in the islands that departed itself better than the 23d, either in battle or garrison.

Since the arrival of the battalion at El Paso the people of the city have had only the best words for the entire personnel of the battalion, the conduct of the men having been exemplary on all occasions.

From Col. Sharpe down, however, the regiment is splendidly officered and good officers always go a long way towards helping to make good men. The best of feeling prevails between officers and men in the organization, and there is a spirit of regimental pride that is most commendable. El Paso finds her new neighbors at the post splendid people to come in contact with, whether in the garb of officer, "non-com," or private, and El Pasoans believe that they are going to have a period of very pleasant association with their military neighbors.

The enlisted personnel of the garrison is as follows:

PRESIDENT HAS EXPENSES ASSAILED

Southern Officials Invited Him to Come; Then Refuse Expenses.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—President Taft today sent to chairman Tawney of the house committee on appropriations a letter expressing deep resentment at the criticisms passed by the Democrats in the house debate yesterday on traveling expenses of the president. The president says he is especially distressed by the "suggested reflection on southern hospitality."

Washington, D. C., May 27.—President Taft's traveling expenses and the fact that already he had overdrawn his allowance of $25,000 a year voted by congress, led to acrimonious debate in the house today. The president refused to permit him to use next year's allowance to meet the deficiency.

As reported from the house committee on appropriations, the item of $25,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 next would have become "immediately available," except for the tests of Democratic members. The words "immediately available" finally were stricken out.

It was the western and southern trip by Mr. Taft last fall that exhausted the white house travel fund. Speaker Cannon defended the necessity of the president meeting the whole people and said that his long trips to various sections of the country were necessary.

Mr. Tawney said Democratic governors invited the president to visit their states, the states being Texas, Colorado, Indiana, Mississippi, Louisiana, Montana, South Carolina, North Carolina and Arkansas. He added that Democratic senators from Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia, Missouri, North Carolina, Florida, Colorado and South Carolina, together with 25 Democratic representatives, had extended to the president the hospitality of their states and districts.

"Is this southern hospitality?" Mr. Tawney shouted, looking towards the Democrats. "Can anyone here mean that he who invites another to accept his hospitality and then kicks him because he accepted?"

Bartlett Denies.
 Mr. Bartlett, of Georgia, demanded to know what representatives had accepted the hospitality of the president on that trip, as stated by Tawney. Mr. Tawney named Mr. Bartlett and his colleague, Mr. Hardwick, of Georgia. "That is not true; that is false," Mr. Bartlett exclaimed. "The Georgian representative that he did ride in the president's car, but he paid his share."

MINERS RETURN.
 Kansas City, May 27.—Fifteen coal mine operators and representatives of about 3500 coal miners of district 14, embracing all of Kansas except Leavenworth, came to a working agreement here and at Pittsburg, Kas., Thursday. The miners will go to work within the next week at the scale demanded at the Cincinnati convention.

THE THIRD DEGREE

By Charles Klein and Arthur Hornblow

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS.
 Howard Jeffries marries waitress while at college and is disinherited by rich father. Stepmother visits apartments of her old flame, Robert Underwood, to try to prevent him ending his life when pressed by creditors. Howard, visiting Underwood, a former college mate, seeking a loan, is asleep in the apartments during the interview and as stepmother leaves, Underwood shoots himself. Howard awakens and is arrested and, by police third degree methods, is made to confess to the crime. His wife seeks aid of his family. Goes to see husband at prison. He tells her he is not guilty.

The banker's wife was not altogether bad. Excessive vanity and ambition had steeled her heart and stiffed impulses that were naturally good, but otherwise she was not wholly devoid of feeling. She was really sorry for this poor little woman who was fighting so bravely to save her husband. No doubt she had inveigled Howard into marrying her, but she Alicia—had no right to sit in judgment on her for that. If the girl had been ambitious to marry above her, in what way was she more guilty than she herself had been in marrying a man she did not love, simply for his wealth and social position? Besides, Alicia was herself sorely troubled. Her conscience told her that a word from her might set the whole matter right. She might be able to prove that Underwood committed suicide. She knew she was a coward and worse than a coward because she dare not speak that word. The more she saw her husband's anger the less courage she had to do it. In any case, she argued to herself, Howard had confessed. If he shot Underwood there was no suicide, so why should she incriminate herself needlessly? But there was no reason why she should not show some sympathy for the poor girl who, after all, was only doing what any good wife should do. Aloud she repeated: "I'll see the girl and talk to her. She must listen to reason."

"Reason!" exploded the banker, angrily. "How can you expect reason from a woman who hounds us, dogs our footsteps, tries to compel us to take her up?"

Judge Brewster, who had apparently paid no attention to the banker's remarks, now turned around. Hestitantly he said: "I think you do her an injustice, Jeffries. She comes every day in the hope that your feelings toward your son have changed. She wishes to give color to the belief that his father's lawyers are championing his cause. She was honest enough to tell me so. You know her movements are closely watched by the newspapers and she takes good care to let the reporters think that she comes here to discuss with me the details of her husband's defense."

The banker shifted impatiently on his chair. Contemptuously he said: "The newspapers which I read don't give her the slightest attention. If they did I should refuse to read them." With growing irritation he went on: "It's no use talking about her any more. What are we going to do about this latest scandal? This woman is going on the stage to be ex-

A REAL CURE FOR BLOOD DISEASE

S. S. S.

S. S. S. is a real cure for Contagious Blood Poison because it is a real blood purifier. We all realize that this disease is a specific blood infection of the most powerful nature, the virus of which so thoroughly poisons the corpuscles of the circulation that its symptoms are manifested over almost the entire body. First comes a tiny sore or pimple, then the mouth and throat ulcerate, the glands in the groin swell, the hair begins to fall out, skin diseases break out on the body, sores and ulcers appear, and even the bones ache with rheumatic pains. It is reasonable to believe that in a blood poison so powerful as this that only a blood purifier can have any permanent good effect. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and by thoroughly cleansing the blood of every particle of the insidious virus makes a permanent and lasting cure of Contagious Blood Poison. It does not hide or cover up the disease in the system but it entirely removes the last trace of its destructive germs. If you are suffering with this disease S. S. S. will cure you because it will cleanse your blood and enrich its health-promoting corpuscles. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, and is a medicine so absolutely safe and certain in its results, that everyone may cure themselves at home, and be assured the cure will be permanent and lasting.
