

The House That Jack Built

BAILEY IS BACKING POINDEXTER IN THE RACE

Import of the changed conditions arising from Bailey's entry to the contest. The Poindexter leaders claim that their candidate cannot be defeated even should the anti-Bailey vote be consolidated upon one of the other three candidates. They assert that Colquitt cannot hope to receive much of the anti-Bailey support except that of the men who are also ardent anti-prohibitionists. The thousands of anti-prohibitionists who are lukewarm or especially interested in that phase of the campaign, but are anti-Bailey men, will, it is claimed, vote for Davidson. There is a lively scuffle between Davidson and Johnson as to which shall secure the bulk of the prohibition anti-Bailey vote.

It is reported that a fairly complete poll of the Democratic voters has been taken by the anti-prohibition organization in behalf of Mr. Colquitt. It is considered significant that no announcement of the result of this poll has been made. The managers of the Poindexter campaign are also said to have made a poll of the state and according to the figures which were announced a few days ago from the headquarters of that candidate his nomination is assured by a plurality of 30,000 to 40,000 votes. In the matter of claims, however, the Davidson and Johnson campaign managers are not behind that made for Poindexter. To all outward appearances all the candidates are sanguine of nomination.

Mr. Davidson's managers assert that that candidate has made large gains of support all over central and western Texas, as well as in many localities of southern Texas during the last 10 days or two weeks. They report that his recent speech in Dallas added materially to his strength in that part of the state.

Campaign Expenses.

The different candidates are required by law to make oath to and formally file a statement of their campaign expenses. It will be interesting to note what the several months of campaigning has cost the different candidates. According to surface appearances dollars are being spent in the interest of Mr. Colquitt's candidacy where cents are spent by the three other active candidates for the office. It is stated that Mr. Colquitt's managers have a complete Democratic poll tax list of the state and that an enormous amount of campaign literature has been mailed direct to each poll taxpayer from the headquarters at Austin and Houston. Letters and circulars are mailed in bulk of many thousands at a time to the Democratic suffragists all over the state. The cost of preparing those poll tax lists must have been very large. The postage bill on the literature has run as high as $200 for a single day. The anti-prohibition organization which has its headquarters at Houston has also spent many thousands of dollars in the printing and mailing of campaign literature in aid of Mr. Colquitt. It is reported that the assessment of the saloon and liquor interests for the purposes of the campaign aggregated more than $100,000.

Mr. Colquitt certainly has the best of it when it comes to the free use of money in his behalf. Davidson, Johnson and Poindexter claim that they are paying their own campaign expenses.

SOUTHERN ITALIANS

Unjustified Prejudice Against Sicilians—Loyalty and Courage Despite Hard Conditions—Unfair to Call Them Superstitious.

(By Contessa Lisi Cipriani, Author of "My Tuscan Childhood")

Italy still preserve in their folk songs and ceremonies, words and rites which bring us back to a period which we may have surpassed in scientific knowledge, but not in cultural refinement. The epic which inspired Tasso and Ariosto, are still the delight of those people. They are the fair measure of their spiritual development.

It is not by a knowledge of reading and writing that the culture of the lower classes can be fairly measured. Go through Mott street and see the young Italian boys pouring over the account of the latest murder story, and then condemn as ignorant and uncultured the father who would prefer to have his children listen to a canto from a Carolingian epic or from Tasso's Jerusalem delivered. School education is one thing, culture another. It is a sacred task not to let the former destroy the latter.

Love for the Medieval.

The southern Italian has preserved the love of the medieval literature and with it the simplicity of medieval creeds. Have we a right to discard these beliefs as ignorant low superstitions? Has modern science progressed so far as to show depths of possibilities in the power of mind over matter? Take the well known popular belief in the evil eye. Why should such a belief prove ignorant superstition in the Sicilians when a million and a half Christian Scientists boldly advance the same theory under the name of animal magnetism? Why not condemn an American who believes in the Emanuel faith healing movement when you do the peasant who has proved to his own satisfaction the efficacy of vows and nine days prayer. Call it auto suggestion, hypnotism, or whatever you like, it is not a question of converting Americans but of having these people protected in beliefs which may have a scientific value in race preservation, and to which modern thought proves them to be fully entitled.

Sterling Qualities.

The man or woman who has worked with them never needs to be told of the sterling qualities of the southern Italians. They have virtuous women, and it is not their wives and sisters who are stigmatized in the police courts. It is the younger generation of Americanized girls that is found in the children's courts, for New York has no spot where, as in Italy, young and old can get fresh air and innocent recreation together. Their simple customs and frugal lives have given them under proper conditions, incredible endurance. Napoleon Bonaparte said that the Italians were his very best soldiers in the Russian campaign and it is for the army and the navy that the United States needs many of them.

Give the southern Italians the proper environment and they will be great in war, great in peace, a blessing to the land that holds them.—Exclusive Service, Charities and Commons Press Bureau.

AMUSEMENTS.

JUVENILE TRIO AT HAPPY HOUR.

If you have not attended the Happy Hour this week, you have missed one of the cleanest juvenile acts that has been seen in El Paso for many days. Tonight and Sunday will be the last opportunity to see the juvenile entertainers. The Happy Hour bill contains other good vaudeville numbers, new moving pictures and illustrated songs. Monday there will be a change of program and there will be five numbers in the new bill. The summer prices still prevail. General admission 10 cents; reserved seats 20 cents.

If you have not seen this week's bill by all means go to the Airdome tonight and see it, for there are so many good numbers that it is hard to pick out the best. Commencing Sunday night the new bill is called "The Fleeting Nobleman." The comedy is funny in itself, and there will be 14 big numbers interspersed.

Mrs. C. D. Grant, of Kansas City, Mo., who has been the guest of her brother, J. N. Hughes, and her niece, Mrs. Mary Green, will return to her home Tuesday evening.

Miss Furline Dorman, who is spending her vacation in California, is now at Lone Beach.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

Suggestive Questions On Sunday School Lesson By Rev. Dr. Linscott For the International Newspaper Bible Study Club

(Copyright 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

Lesson for July 24th, 1910.
(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

The Transfiguration. Matt. xviii:1-5, 14-20.

Golden Text.—This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased, hear ye him. Matt. xviii:17.

Verse 1—Why did Jesus select Peter, James and John, on this momentous occasion, and not any of the other nine apostles? Did he have favorites?

Verse 2—Are the words describing Jesus' transfiguration to be taken as strictly literal, or figurative, and in any event, describe what change you think actually did take place in the appearance of Jesus?

Can you recall any similar event mentioned in the Scriptures? (See Exodus xxxiv:29-35.)

Verse 3—What difference, or resemblance, is there, between the appearance of Moses and Elias to Jesus, and presumably to the three Apostles, and the claims of modern spiritualism? What, if any, evidence is there, that Jesus was often conscious of the presence of those who had departed this life?

State what, if any, scriptural or other evidence there is, that it is possible for Christians in these days, to be conscious of the presence of their departed friends? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 4—Is it possible for a Christian to have a constant vision of Jesus, and, if so, does it give perpetual peace, or elation, to the soul? Give your reasons.

Verse 5—Were the cloud and the voice subjective only, or were they objective, i. e., would a collie dog, for example, if present, have seen the one and heard the other?

With what kind of voice does our Father speak to his children today? Jesus had the clear testimony that God was well pleased with him, why is it not possible for every other son of God to have similar testimony?

Verses 6-8—Is there any good reason why a child of God should ever be afraid in the presence of the supernatural?

Why were these three intimate friends of Jesus afraid, in the presence of this glorious scene?

What reasons are there to believe that we are often afraid of God's best blessings, and that he sometimes removes them in condescension to our weakness?

Verse 14—If this man had stood, instead of kneeling, and made his petition to Jesus, what reason is there to think that it would not have been just as pleasing to Jesus?

Verse 15—What benefit do we derive today when we pray for our sick ones?

Verses 16-17—What had the disciples done to deserve being called a "faithless and perverse generation?"

Why should a good man with weak faith be blameable?

Verse 18—If the disciples were blameable for not having power to cure this child, is that any evidence that the church today is blameable, for not having similar power?

No Christian can doubt that Jesus has as much power now as then, but why does he not use it, in curing sick and unsaved people, miraculously?

Verses 19-20—What are the conditions for having perfect faith, and are all persons to be blamed who do not observe these conditions?

How are the words of Jesus concerning faith removing a mountain to be taken?
