WEDDINGS.

A simple, yet most beautiful wedding was that of Miss Josephine Marr and Dr. Louis Gilhens Witherspoon, which was solemnized Tuesday at St. Clement's Episcopal church. The ceremony occurred at high noon in the presence of a number of friends who assembled to do honor to this popular young couple.

The decorations of the church were marked by quiet elegance and lack of ostentation, only a few bowls of white chrysanthemums being used in the adornment of the altar. Just before the arrival of the bridal party Mrs. W. D. Howe sang in her usual sweet voice "All For You."

With the opening bars of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Francis Moore, Mrs. W. R. Brown, the matron of honor, entered the church from the side aisle. The bride followed accompanied down the aisle by her brother, James L. Marr, who gave her in marriage.

They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Dr. H. H. Stark. The marriage service was impressively said by Rev. Henry Easton and the responses were clearly spoken. The bride, who is a rare type of brunette beauty, never looked lovelier than in her wedding gown of gray cloth, in tailored effect, trimmed with touches of blue. A large blue velvet hat with sweeping willow plumes in the blue gray tone completed this very becoming costume. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and ferns in shower effect.

Mrs. W. R. Brown, the matron of honor, was charmingly gowned in a blue crepe cashmere, with embroidered trimmings. The hat worn was an attractive picture model in black lace, and her flowers were long stemmed white chrysanthemums and ferns.

The ushers assisting at the church were: W. K. Marr, the bride's brother, Edgar Kayser, Maury Kemp, Dr. C. P. Brown.

Miss Marr, who is the youngest daughter of Mrs. James Marr, was born and has grown to womanhood in this city. She is one of El Paso's most beautiful girls, and is very popular in social circles, her delightful personality and lovable nature having won for her many friends.

The groom is one of the city's prominent young physicians. He has lived in El Paso several years, coming here from Chicago. He is a graduate of the Wabash university of Indiana and the Rush Medical college of Chicago.

A magnificent collection of beautiful and expensive wedding gifts were received from the friends of the young couple.

Immediately after the ceremony, they left for Chicago, where they will spend a month visiting the groom's relatives, and upon their return they will be at home after December 15 at their new residence on West Rio Grande street.

The marriage of Miss George Lott to F. H. Foster of Durango, Mexico, is announced to take place on November 8, at 4:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church.

The wedding will be quiet, with only a few intimate friends in attendance. They will leave immediately for their future home in Durango, Mexico.

Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the parsonage of the First M. E. church, Eugene F. Jones and Miss Franc R. Knight were united in marriage by Rev. Frank W. Otto. The bride and groom are both from New Mexico.

Charles P. Elliott and Miss Octavia B. Crafton were quietly married Saturday afternoon at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Kathleen Stauter of Mobile, Ala., and Percy Oliver were united in marriage at the office of Dr. H. F. Wright, with Dr. Wright officiating. The newly wedded couple will reside at 616 North El Paso street.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Kathleen Stauter of Mobile, Ala., and Percy Oliver were united in marriage at the office of Dr. H. F. Wright, with Dr. Wright officiating. The newly wedded couple will reside at 616 North El Paso street.

At the first Methodist church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss June Lyman was married to George Rice, Rev. Frank W. Otto officiating. The couple left for their home at Tucuman, N. M., immediately after the ceremony.

At 6 o'clock Saturday evening, Edgar Dan Park was married to Miss Jo Wilson, Dr. C. L. Overstreet officiating.

Mr. Park is the senior member of the firm of Park Bros., and is considered one of El Paso's hustling young business men.

DINNERS AND LUNCHEONS.

Of the many delightful affairs given in honor of Miss Josie Marr, none have surpassed in attractiveness or charm the progressive luncheon given on Saturday by Mrs. R. C. Semple. The guests were seated at four tables, the first of which was decorated in the bridal colors of white and green, and at the chair of the bride-elect was placed a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, tied with white tulle.

The other tables were in pink, red and yellow, each spread with a handsome cover harmonizing with the general scheme.

The attractive candle shades were also in tones corresponding with the color effect.

The guests enjoying the affair were: Misses Josie Marr, Hallie Irvin, Anna Shelton, Nannie Lackland, Alma Jones, Henrietta Buckler, Gladys Dyer, Virginia Semple, Mesdames Ralph Loomis, C. J. Maple, Julius Krakauer, Hugh White, James L. Marr, R. M. Wolcott.

Mrs. Axel Dickie entertained at a Halloween dinner on Monday evening at her home in the LeRoy.

The decorations, all suggestive of the occasion, were developed with jack-o-lanterns, cats' heads, bats and red and white carousons.

The candles were softly shaded, and the electric lights were shielded in lantern effect.

Thursday afternoon Miss Lily Brown entertained at a pink tea in honor of her guest, Mrs. C. S. Goodknight. Those present were: Misses Mary Marian Campbell, Marian McCandless, Flossie Reid, Mrs. J. L. Campbell, Mrs. E. W. Reid, Mrs. James Munsey, Mrs. L. O. Howell, Mrs. E. M. Fraser, Mrs. H. Williams, Mrs. C. Fraser, Minnie Eddy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Munsey entertained at a dinner party Thursday evening complimentary to Mrs. C. S. Goodknight, and Miss Steele of Chicago.

Dr. L. G. Witherspoon, whose marriage to Miss Josie Marr took place yesterday at noon, entertained at a charmingly appointed dinner of 16 covers on Monday evening at the Harvey house.

A handsome bridal cake, surrounded with a garland of white chrysanthemums and smilax, formed a most effective central decoration for the table.

The place cards were attractively adorned with wedding bells and the delightful and elaborate menu was served in seven courses.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Marr, Misses Anna Shelton, Nannie Lackland, Gladys Dyer, Virginia Semple, Henrietta Buckler and Josie Marr; Messrs. Edgar Kayser, Maury Kemp, C. P. Brown, H. H. Stark, Walter Arnold and W. K. Marr.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS.

The Woman's club held its regular club day meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Brown, what a most pleasing and interesting program was given with Mark Twain as the subject.

Mrs. W. R. Brown will be the next hostess for the Merry Wives High Five club, on November 11.

The card clubs have all discontinued for Fair week.

The Shakspeare Reading club postponed its meeting until next week, when Mrs. Heil Hale will be the hostess.

EL PASOANS AWAY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brickel left last evening for Dallas, called there by the sudden death of Mr. Brickel's mother, Mrs. Katherine Brickel. Mrs. Brickel spent several months in El Paso two years ago and made many friends here.

Mrs. M. B. Davis, 901 East Rio Grande street, accompanied by Misses Olive and Hazel, and master Homer Davis, will leave this week-end to spend the winter in San Antonio.

A SPECIAL LOT OF Sterling Silver Tea Spoons At $3.00 Per Set

ORDINARILY we are not much on using the word "bargain." No other word is so much used and so much abused in the business world today. However, if there is any such thing as a "bargain," this special we are offering now is one in every sense of the word.

Sometime ago we made this same offer, but the demand so far exceeded the supply on hand that many people were disappointed. We have just succeeded in securing another lot of these spoons and will place them on sale beginning tomorrow morning and lasting until the supply is exhausted.

These are fine quality sterling silver tea spoons, six in a set, and in a wide variety of handsome designs; ordinarily selling at $4.50 per set, we offer them beginning tomorrow morning
