WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

The current events and literature department of the Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon at the club rooms in the library. The chairman, Mrs. William H. F. Judd, presided. This department held its meeting one week earlier than usual, in courtesy to the members of the music department, whose program was not ready.

The attendance was large and the program very pleasingly given. The first paper, Norway and Sweden, by Mrs. Lizale Avirett, was exceedingly interesting and well given, and was followed by a sketch of "Peer Gynt," by Miss Ada May Lindop.

A well prepared paper on China and Japan, by Mrs. S. J. Freudenthal, was read by the chairman, Mrs. William H. F. Judd, and was followed by a Chinese selection on the phonograph and a delightful Japanese song by Miss Florence Comfort, on costume.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Monday afternoon in the Elks' parlors promptly at 3 o'clock.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parlors of Trinity M. E. church.

The music department of the Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. R. Brown, when the following program will be given: Paper, "The Place of Music in Education," Mrs. A. F. Stevens.

The Sunshine Workers met Friday at the home of Mrs. French S. Cary, on Upson avenue, when a delightful afternoon was spent in sewing and conversation.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Davis, on Montana street, December 9.

Those appointed to take charge of the candy booths at the bazaar to be given the latter part of the month were: Mesdames W. L. Tooley, F. H. Seamon, Guy L. Warren, H. T. Bowie, Bruce Seaton, G. H. Richardson, Wilbur McNary, T. J. Jones, H. T. Safford, J. W. Norvell and H. E. Runkle.

To do things naturally, without the aid of intense artificial forces, is our aim. GIRLS' SCHOOL RECEPTION

One of the most interesting social affairs of the week was the reception given Friday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock at the El Paso School for Girls, by the women's advisory board of the school.

This school is planned along original lines, and is unique in being a departure from the general methods of education in the southwest, and will eventually be a source of wide culture in El Paso and the surrounding country.

The interest developed in this new institution was evidenced by the throng of callers who crowded the school parlors throughout the afternoon. In the receiving line, greeting the guests, were: Miss Ora W. L. Slater, principal; Miss Olga E. Tafel, associate principal, and the women of the advisory board, Mesdames W. R. Brown, J. F. Williams, W. A. Hawkins, E. M. Bray, J. A. Rawlings, and Mrs. J. J. Ormsbee, wife of the president of the board. Mrs. Z. T. White, a member of the board, was absent from the party and could not be present.

The school home was most beautifully decorated for the occasion. English ivy luxuriantly draped mantels, pictures and doorways, while varicolored chrysanthemums, used in greatest profusion, lent a charming touch of color.

Mrs. J. E. Townsend and Miss Frances Clark presided at the refreshment table, pouring tea and coffee. The school faculty, composed of Misses Isabel Norton, Ruth Davis, Lillian Huggert, Rebecca Mack, and Mrs. E. P. Hollington, assisted by Mrs. George R. Le Baron and Mrs. F. W. Norton, served the dainty refreshments of sandwiches, wafers and coffee.

The table was spread with handsome cluny dotilies, and decorated with quantities of white chrysanthemums. Two beautiful silver candelabra, one at either end of the table, supported white candles, which softly illuminated the scene.

A charming and fairy like feature of the afternoon was the "Folk Dance," given on the lawn by the young school girls, which was most graceful and lovely, looking like many animated flowers, whirling about in their white gowns, and pink and blue ribbons.

Miss Helen Cooper added much to the pleasure of the afternoon with several beautifully rendered solos, as also did Francis Moore, who always delights his hearers.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Burges, Mrs. W. D. Howe, Mrs. T. J. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bowie, Mrs. Frank Wardwell, Mrs. Louis E. Behr, E. M. Bray, Mrs. W. H. WEDDINGS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pickrell, 1015 Montana street, a pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when their brother, Reagan Cartwright, was married to Miss Isabel Branson, of Philadelphia.

The Pickrell home was attractively decorated throughout with lilies of the valley and ferns, and the effect was most pleasing. There were no attendants, the bride and groom entering the parlor alone, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Overstreet, of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a white cloth suit, with which a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley, ferns and orchids was worn. A black picture hat and black furs completed this charming costume.

The young couple received many beautiful and valuable gifts, notable among them a chest of silver, also a silver tea service from the bride's father.

The bride is the daughter of E. M. Branson, a banker of Philadelphia, and is a charming and accomplished young woman.

The groom is a son of M. Cartwright, of Terrell, Texas, and a brother of Mrs. Clarence Pickrell, of this city.

After a week spent at the St. Regis, Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright will go to their charming home in Alpine, where Mr. Cartwright is ranching.

A wedding, beautiful in its simplicity, was that solemnized Wednesday afternoon at St. Clement's Episcopal church, uniting the lives of Miss Fannie R. Smith and S. J. Pennell.

The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock in the presence of a large assemblage of friends.

Just before the marriage service Miss Helen Cooper, accompanied by Mrs. W. D. Greet, sang in beautiful voice, "Beloved, it is Morn."

As the bridal party entered, the electric arch above the altar was turned on, brilliantly lighting the church, and lending a singular vividness to the scene.

The bride came in from the side entrance, and was accompanied down the aisle by her father, Capt. J. M. Smith, who gave her in marriage. The groom awaited their coming at the altar. The marriage service of the Episcopal church was impressively said by Rev. Henry Easter.

The bride wore a bridal gown of white silk, made in empire style, the waist in tucked effect, and trimmed with silk braid. The hat was a white picture model in real lace, trimmed with a white willow plume and an arm bouquet of bride's roses and ferns was carried.

AT HOMES

Mrs. J. A. Rawlings will entertain Monday afternoon with a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock, in honor of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Smith, of Stillwater, N. Y.

Mrs. W. M. Butler will be "at home" to friends at the residence of her mother 910 Lee street, on Thursdays of each week.

GOING AWAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNary are planning to leave for New York for a several weeks' visit. While away they will visit Mrs. McNary's sister in Boston, spending the remainder of the time in New York for the grand opera season.
