

RAILROAD WORK
DUBIAN IS PUSHED

Supplies Received and Construction on North Western Resumed.

Colonia Dubian, Mex., Feb. 25.—With the arrival of fresh supplies from the United States, the railroad work will be pushed. Work on the timber line, which is very heavy, will continue soon. Sevey and Johnson expect to move one of their camps over on the Chico, the coming month. They are now working a large force of men at slope cutting and excavating for the remaining walls just this side of the summit. They hope to complete the abutments for all three bridges on kilometers 86 and 87 this month. By the middle of March the abutments for bridge 79 will be completed and ready for the bridge piers.

M. Tenny, jr., is pushing his contract work at kilometers 85 and 86. It is said that one shot brought him in an estimate of nearly $2000.

Jacobson is moving camp a kilometer or two below their old stand. Counsel has completed the large abutments for kilometer 88. Just as his work was nearing completion, he received word that his wife was dangerously ill in the United States.

George F. Sevey and J. W. Hedder have taken a contract for building the trestle work on the continental divide of the North Western railroad. About 830,000 feet of lumber will be required to build this trestle. Its highest point will reach an elevation of 140 feet. This work is on the timber line.

This same company has another large trestle to build on the Musica, near the turpentine plant.

A number of colonists are leaving for the United States. The last train took Mr. and Mrs. Black to their home in Arizona. Two of their children are at school in Colonia Juarez, but they will remain until that institution closes.

Mrs. Terry, daughter of Jesse and son Edward, have also left. Mrs. Terry is from St. David, where they will make their home for the present.

G. A. Hurst and Albert Hurst expect to leave for the United States with their families. They will go overland by way of El Paso.

A Reasonable Plea
For the Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it proves that you are short of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the stomach, they do the work of the stomach. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and find that they are a city chemist's shop for the purpose, manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., 38 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

SENTENCE SERMONS IN PULPITS OF EL PASO

The wonder of the mode of Christ's coming was as nothing beside the wonder of his coming at all.—Rev. Henry Easter, Church of St. Clement.

Christianity is the only religion that is capable of offering proofs of its authenticity.—Rev. W. D. King, at Westminster Presbyterian church.

What do men care for your profession of religion, if you do not live the Christ life in your every day life?—Rev. F. W. Otto, First Methodist church.

Missions to Islam are demonstrated by the work of the Presbyterian church as carried on in Persia.—Rev. J. W. Hawks, of Haladon, Persia, at the First Presbyterian church.

Our minds ask from whence comes all knowledge, and our thoughts echo back the answer from God, "God the giver of literature; God, the father of art; God, the creator of science."—Rev. A. N. Evans, Highland Park Methodist church.

We are not made Christians by ideas, but by the Spirit who dwells within us; so it is amazing how little our knowledge amounts to in curbing our propensities or in strengthening us for noble deeds.—Rev. C. S. Wright, Trinity Methodist church.

Every Christian is a temple and a priest and an offering; his life work is to bring men back to God; when he ceases to do this, he is christian in name only, because a temple is beautiful, a priest useful and an offering of true worth only as they do the thing they are meant to do.—Rev. E. H. Coombs, St. Paul's Lutheran church.

It is amazing how many details of the life of Christ are set forth as prophecy in the old testament, and the four gospels give us a combined biography from which the world has got its only conception of a faultless character, altogether proving that Christ was the son of man and the son of God.—Rev. R. T. Hanks, Calvary Baptist church.

In these words: "Whosoever things are true, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any praise, thank on these things," did the great apostle explain the relation of thought and health, to character and to happiness.—Rev. J. O. Breeden, L. L. D. of San Francisco, at the First Christian church.

The bible, not of men, but of God, is evidenced by the conception of God as to his eternal existence as a pure spirit, together with his holiness, love, mercy, and justice, together with the predictions of the holy men of God against Nineveh, Tyre and Babylon, as well as the many predictions with reference to Christ and their fulfillment; these all prove it to be the book of God.—Rev. L. R. Millican, at the First Baptist church.

LENT BEGINS ON THIS WEDNESDAY

Society Will Suspend Its Festivities—Notes in the Churches.

Lent, the 40 days and nights of fasting begins this week on Wednesday, Ash Wednesday. Then the period of fasting and praying will be recognized in Roman Catholic churches of the city and in the local Protestant Episcopal parish.

Lent begins with Ash Wednesday, the day of sack cloth and ashes of the ancient rite, and ends with the glory burst of Easter. During the forty days of Lent, Catholics and Episcopalians give up some luxury—it may be meat and it may be candy—and when Easter comes, feasting and new clothes proclaim that Lent is no longer.

At Roman Catholic churches there will be two special weekday services in addition to the regular daily early morning masses. At the Church of the Immaculate Conception and the Holy Family chapel, special evening services will be held Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 o'clock, in addition to the daily morning services at 7 o'clock. At the Wednesday morning service, the ceremony of the distribution of ashes will be held, and the altar during the season will be draped in the Lenten purple.

At the church of St. Clement (Episcopal) this week special services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and Thursday and Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Westminster Church.

The Missionary society of Westminster Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Paul Heerman.

First Methodist.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Methodist church will meet Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. DeWitt, 1215 Boulevard.

Persia Missionary Here.

Rev. J. W. Hawks, a Persian missionary, who is visiting his brother, G. F. Hawks of this city, preached Sunday morning from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Hawks, who is Presbyterian missionary at Haladon, Persia, told of the work among the Christians in Islam. Mr. Hawks will remain in the city for a few days this week.

Young People Meet.

A joint business meeting of the Epworth league and the Young People's Missionary society of the Trinity Methodist church will be held Friday night. Eight additions to the congregation were made at Sunday morning's service.

New Baptist Pastor.

The women of the First Baptist church will hold an experience social at the church Tuesday at 4 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. J. D. Kay, will arrive Saturday and begin his pastorate here next Sunday.

Rev. L. R. Millican, who has been serving this church as temporary pastor during the winter, closed his services with the church yesterday. Rev. J. D. Kay, the pastor-elect, will begin his work as pastor at once, taking up his residence in the parsonage, No. 1006 Magoffin avenue. He will preach his inaugural sermon next Sunday morning. The appreciation by the church of the kindly ministrations of Rev. Mr. Millican was voiced at the close of the service yesterday in appropriate resolutions followed by an old-fashioned handshake farewell.

Church of St. Clement.

The altar guild of the Church of St. Clement will meet Tuesday at 4 o'clock. The Daughters of the King will meet Friday at 3:15 o'clock. Lenten services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, and Thursday and Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock.

"I don't want to say that because a man goes into a saloon he is a brute. Many good churchgoers slip in the back doors. I am going to vote for prohibition because I am a man of honor and I am going to take a drink when I want it."

The committee named.

Then the report of the committee on permanent organization was read and W. M. Stockwell moved its adoption and that the committee be discharged. Rev. R. T. Hanks made an amendment to the effect that Stockwell be added to the city central committee and this action was taken.

Excavate for Big Flume Dam Site. Axis for the Elephant Butte Project Located—Much Work Done.

Elephant Butte, N. M., Feb. 27.—Work on the west side of the Rio Grande for the investigation of the site for the flume is under direction of Richard Houle. The tramway for the transferring of material to be excavated for the flume to the dumping ground is nearly completed.

The dam will be placed in a bend in the river so that the north end of the dam is on the west side of the river considering the general course of the river to be north and south. With the present plans it is said that the cost of the flume will be 123 feet above the present surface of the water in the river.

A building containing about 30 rooms, located at the townsite, and to be used as mechanics' quarters, is being rapidly constructed, considering the fact that the railroad is not yet completed and all lumber has to be handled from Engle, a distance of 12 miles. On account of this difficulty the flume will be more easily secured. Work on the office building and officers' quarters is progressing. William W. Barwick is head carpenter and is assisted by W. H. Conrad, A. Marr, and several others.

A gang of men under the supervision of Mr. Kimball, is now grading for the approach to the bridge which the United States reclamation service will build across the river below the dam site and above the townsite. J. J. Charles, assistant engineer, who recently arrived here from the North Yakima project, has been engaged the past few days locating a wagon road which will extend from the new bridge to the Engle-Cahillo wagon road. This will also grade the embankment which is to be built northwest of the dam. This embankment will prevent the water flowing out through a pass.

A large 200,000 gallon concrete water tank was filled with water for the first time on the 22nd. There is practically no leakage.

Grading for Storeroom.

The grading for the new mercantile store room will soon be completed. This building will be near the railroad, and the offices and cottages on the hill.

Work will soon begin on the construction of the office men's mess which will be situated on the hill not far from the offices and cottages.

James Fitzsimmons has resigned his position as steward, and the place will be filled by Mr. McKinney, of El Paso. The weather has moderated and nearly all the men returned to work yesterday. There are now about 300 men employed on the work here.

Dan W. Taylor and Thomas Williams have gangs of men grading for the railroad terminals.

George Capron has a gang of men at work grading for the terminal building.

The construction of the road to the new powder house is under the direction of Edward Welch.

R. W. McCoy has charge of the men working on the sewer and septic tank.
