

EDUARDO HAY GETS BIG JOB

Said That He Will Be Made Postmaster General of Republic of Mexico.

VILJOEN TO LEAD THE RURALES FORCE

Gen. B. J. Viljoen, military adviser to Madero during the battle of Juarez, is to be chief of the Mexican rurales. Col. Eduardo Hay, hero of the battle of Casas Grandes, is also to be appointed postmaster general when Madero is elected to the presidency.

These prospective appointments were announced by H. V. Anaya, deputy United States marshal for the territory of Arizona, who accompanied Gen. Viljoen to Mexico City for a conference with Madero and who has been in the city in close communication with the officials of the Madero government. Deputy marshal Anaya returned from the capital Friday evening and left immediately for his home in Tucson. His business in Mexico City was private and had nothing to do with the political affairs of the republic.

Viljoen to Lead Rurales
Gen. Viljoen is now at Tehuacan, Puebla with Francisco Madero and wife. They left the capital city in order to take advantage of the baths at Tehuacan. Gen. Viljoen having been ill while in Mexico. As soon as he recovers sufficiently he will hold a conference with president Francisco de la Barra, and will arrange for the complete reorganization of the rurales forces in the entire republic.

Hay a Hero
Col. Hay is now at Mexico City awaiting the election of Madero. He has been promised a portfolio in the revolutionary leader's cabinet, and he is now making a careful study of the postal laws and regulations in order to be qualified to take charge of the affairs of the postoffice department when his appointment is confirmed.

RECRUITING MEN FOR RURALES FORCE

Torreon, Mexico, July 29.—Local Maderist officers are engaged in recruiting rural police who will operate under the jurisdiction of the second division of the north, with headquarters in this city. The full force when recruited up to regulation strength will consist of 2000 men, 1200 of whom are now under arms.

The pay of these men will be $1.50 per day and this may soon be increased to $1.75. As a result the recruits will be picked and must be sober and moral. Men of the Maderist ranks who have been sentenced to jail for offenses graver than slight misdemeanors will not be accepted.

L. G. Plant, student of operation of the G. H., left for Del Rio on Saturday.

OPPONENT OF LORIMER ON THE STAND

Says Lorimer Popular But Air of Suspicion Hangs Over Election.

CROSS EXAMINED BY KERN CLOSELY

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Lawrence B. Stringer, Democratic candidate for senator against Lorimer, testified today before the Lorimer election committee. He told of Lorimer's popularity with the Democratic legislators, but at the conclusion of his evidence expressed the opinion that improper or corrupt practices was an ingredient entering into Lorimer's election.

Edward O. Phillips, a Chicago Record-Herald reporter, who worked in Springfield during the session of the legislature in 1908, was the only other witness today. He said former governor Yates was his authority for a newspaper article he wrote on January 8, 1909, to the effect that Lorimer would be elected by the combination of Democrats and Republicans that elected Shurtleff speaker, if Lorimer would consent. Phillips said in conversation with Lawrence B. Stringer, he gathered the impression that Stringer was out of the race because a "consideration had been asked of him that he could not furnish."

The committee adjourned until Monday, when Phillips will be cross examined.

Senator Johnston took an unusual interest in the list of Democrats who received complimentary votes during the meeting of the legislature in 1909.

No Democrat Safe
"No Democrat of prominence was safe from a complimentary vote," inquired the senator. "That is about true," replied Mr. Stringer.

Senator Kern led the witness to break down the favorable testimony which Mr. Stringer had given in behalf of Lorimer.

"Was it generally understood that senator Lorimer stood for the things that were not good," asked senator Kern.

"I think that it was the general impression that senator Lorimer was of the school of politicians that adopted the policy of winning the elections," replied Mr. Stringer.

"Was it understood that senator Lorimer stood for what Bryan did, for instance, in politics?"

"Not in Bryan's class."

"I do not think he was in the same class with Bryan."

"Did you think the election had resulted from a good and wholesome combination?"

"No, I did not think it was."

Air of Suspicion
From the time of the story about an attempt to buy votes for Hopkins, Mr. Stringer said an air of suspicion hung over affairs in Springfield and of the election of senator Lorimer. He explained he congratulated Lorimer because it was the courteous thing to do and he had no evidence himself that anything was wrong.

"Do you think that the termination of the contest was due to the general mixup and the desire to end it without regard to party consequences or was in the result of improper and corrupt practices," senator Kern asked witness.

"I am inclined to think that the ingredients you mentioned on both sides of the question assisted in bringing about the result, but to what extent I don't know."

H. C. Ferris, general manager of the Mexico North Western, arrived from Chihuahua on Friday, accompanied by Mrs. Ferris.

R. Cords, jr., left for San Francisco on Saturday.

JUAREZ PLANS SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Many Improvements For the City Are Now Being Arranged.

AMADOR MAY GET ENGINEER'S JOB

Ciudad Juarez is to be made an up-to-date city by the new mayor, Lieut. Col. J. N. Medina, and work will start Monday on several improvements. The first work to be done improving the city, will be the installation of concrete bridges over the irrigation ditches in the city, to replace the present wooden structures. Five of these bridges will be put in, one on avenida Juarez, on Avenida Lerdo and on Calle Comercio and two in other sections of the city. The bridges will be built in artistic manner and at each end will have high pillars above the iron railings where there will be statues and a fountain.

Amador in Charge
The work of improving the city has been placed in the hands of Juan Amador, a young civil engineer and architect of the city, who is a graduate of the national engineering school of Mexico City. Friday, mayor Medina and civil engineer Amador made an inspection of the entire city and the different improvements were decided upon.

The sewerage system of the city will be replaced by an efficient system which will carry off the water which formerly has lain for several days in the streets after rains, and will carry sewage from the houses, in order that there will be less disease in the city.

May Lay Pavement
The beginning of the pavement of Calle Comercio, which is also being seriously considered, may be begun in two or three weeks after the sewerage system has been completed. The paving of this street will be done with Bitulithic pavement.

The sidewalks of the city will have to be made of a regulation kind and the present wooden ones which are full of holes will have to be mended immediately in order that accidents will not occur.

The irrigation ditches running through the city are also in for some work and efforts will be made to have these straightened so as to reach several parts of the city.

Guadalupe to Benefit
Guadalupe, a small village east of Ciudad Juarez, is to come in for some of the improvements which are planned by the new mayor, and the road between the two cities will be improved. Also irrigation ditches will be built near the town for the use of the farmers and to prevent a flooding of the village, like the one which resulted in the destruction of the adobe jefatura of the school house.

Juan Amador, the civil engineer who will have charge of the improvements in Ciudad Juarez, is making out the plans for the work. It is thought that Mr. Amador will be appointed the city engineer of Ciudad Juarez as soon as permission to create this office can be obtained.

AGED FUGITIVE WHO STOLE THOUSANDS GIVES SELF UP

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—Catey A. Manker, 65 years old, arose from his "flop" in a water front lodging house here early today, walked between aisles of sleeping "dozers" to where the proprietor sat on a little dais, watching to see that each lodger kept to the space allotted him.

"I am a fugitive from Pearl, Ill.," Manker said. "I embezzled $45,000 from the Bank of Pearl, wrecked the institution and escaped. I am starving and want to give myself up. I have been hunted since 1908."

A policeman was called and Manker taken to the city prison. Investigation shows his story to be true.

"Thirty-five thousand dollars was gambled in stocks," he told the police. "I made a desperate attempt to cover the shortage in my accounts and stole $10,000. Then I fled. I have been in nearly every city in the country, working at anything I could do. I am old and broken and starving. I have given up the fight."

Manker came to San Francisco from Portland a week ago. He has sought work as a waiter in water front lodging houses and lived on free lunches given him at saloons.
