FLOOD DAMAGE IS HEAVY IN VALLEY

Arno Irrigation Project Injured $15,000 by High Water; Trains Late.

Pecos, Texas, July 31.—Train service over the Santa Fe-New Mexico line between this city and Carlsbad is completely cut off owing to excessive heavy rains in the northern part of Reeves county and southeastern New Mexico. Between Carlsbad and Lakewood several miles of track are washed away.

Engineer Geo. E. Ehrenberg of this city, in charge of the Arno Cooperative Irrigation company, whose dam is located on the Pecos river several miles north of this city, says that at least $15,000 worth of damage had been done to the plant at Arno. What damage has been done to the famous Barstow system it is not known but Harold Barstow said that unless the fume failed to hold, comparatively little damage would be done there. It is thought the damage may reach $100,000. It is thought the fume will hold.

H. C. Stewart, superintendent of the Pecos Irrigated Experiment station at Fort A. Whaley, secretary of the Texas Experimental stations association, has returned to Pecos from College Station, Texas, where they attended the meeting of the legislative committee of the Experimental stations association, which met for the purpose of mapping out plans for the work at Austin in connection with the securing of more adequate funds with which to operate the different experimental farms of Texas.

SOUTHWESTERN HAS QUIT VALLEY SURVEY

Engineering Corps May Be Sent to Work on Tucson Extension.

The survey that the Southwestern system has been making of the upper valley between Anthony and the Elephant Butte dam has been suspended, the engineering corps ordered back to El Paso and the survey abandoned for the present. The purpose of the survey as given by H. J. Simmons, general manager of the Southwestern, was merely to study the situation in the upper valley, in relation to a railroad line to connect with the Southwestern road at Pelea, N. M. No intention of building caused the survey, according to the general manager, and the survey was ordered only for the purpose of getting the necessary data for such a study, he said.

It is thought that the reason for calling off the survey, is to put the engineering corps in the field on the Tucson extension work. The contract for this work will be some time this week in New York and it will then become necessary for the grade stakes for the line to be set, and it will require the services of the entire engineering corps of the Southwestern on this important work. Formerly the tax was one percent of the value of the residences of families.

LIGHTNING SINGES TWENTY-TWO HEADS

Bolt Does the Job Thoroughly in a Single Second.

Monticello, N. Y., July 31.—"Have your hair singed, it makes the hair fall out," is a persuasive sign in most barber shops.

Without costing them a cent a particularly fresh bolt of lightning singed the hair of Sarah Grabner, Mrs. Annie Stein, Gertrude Horwich, Leo Simmon and 17 other New Yorkers.

Remarkable to tell, the descending bolt burned all whom it struck only on top of the head. It left not a mark on any of them elsewhere, nor did most of them complain of anything but a scorched scalp and headache.

WORK PROGRESSES ON THE VIADUCT

Injunction in Foster Case May Be Amicably Settled.

The work on the viaduct at old Fort Bliss is being rushed. The retaining walls of the west and approach have been completed, and engineer Shaw is now putting in the footings for the trestle work.

The injunction against the city restraining it from moving the Foster house on old Fort Bliss road has not been decided, but the city is going ahead with the viaduct work in the meantime, and it is thought when the injunction case comes up for hearing, which it is said will be during the latter part of this week, that the matter can be amicably settled, so as not to hinder the building of the boulevard.

HOLD TEXAN FOR SHOOTING NEGROES

their pay which they have been receiving as before the revolution. Most of the federal employees are living in El Paso and doing nothing, but still the customs house has a double payroll on this account.

FIGHTING OCCURS NEAR SINALOA CITY

Returning Americans Say Fighting Has Been in Progress for Two Weeks.

Fighting between the Maderistas and the discontents who have refused to surrender their arms has been in progress near Badiguarato, 60 miles north of Sinaloa City in the state of Sinaloa, and also at Mocoritio, south of San Blas, according to Americans who are coming out of the west coast country because of the trouble.

This fighting has been in progress near these two towns and in the mountains for the past two weeks, the Americans say. The trouble started when the Madero forces under Lieut. Cuervo attempted to disarm the soldiers who had been fighting with the insurrecto army. These men, discontented with the outcome of the revolution, refused to surrender their arms, the Americans say. An effort was made to take them by force and a fight followed and the discontents were driven into the hills, where they have been resisting since that time. A total of 30 or 40 men was killed in these skirmishes and the trouble is said to be spreading.

Yaquis Are Killed. The Americans also report the killing of a number of the Yaqui Indians at Matatlan and Guaymas. Two Yaquis were killed in Matatlan Friday by men thought to be insurrectos. Six of the Sonora Indians, including two chiefs, were also killed in Guaymas Friday night, according to the report brought out by the American mining and railroad men. These Indians are supposed to have gone to Guaymas to confer with the army officers but were later shot while in the town.

British Consulate Active. The British government realizes the condition of affairs in Mexico is shown by the vigilance of the British consuls in the west coast country. The returning Americans say that every British subject is being carefully watched by their consuls and whenever a change is made by one of them he immediately gets an inquiry about his new address and if he has been molested by the natives.

Killing of Clayton Confirmed. Verification of the killing of Tom Clayton, of Silver City, N. M., is brought out of the west coast country by these same refugees. They say that the street was smaller than at Clayton, who was a smallerman at Chacala, Sinaloa, when the trouble started, was killed while attempting to capture a machine gun at Milpas, Sinaloa, which was being used by the federalists against the rebels. Clayton was buried in the trenches at Milpas with the revolutionists who were killed in this battle after his teeth had been knocked out in order that they might sell the gold in them.

PEARSON PREPARED FOR THE BANDITS

There is one American corporation in Mexico that is prepared for any marauding band of Magonistas or any one else looking for trouble. Three machine guns have been shipped to Pearson, Chih., for the use of the employees of the lumber company in case any of the brigand bands appear in that vicinity and attempt to loot the commissary or disturb the peace and dignity of that industrious settlement. The machine guns are the latest make and are guaranteed to cut grass at 300 yards.

Safford, Ariz., July 31.—Fourteen cars of cantaloupes have already been shipped from here, which is fairly good for the first week's shipment. The jumbos still predominate, running about 75 percent now. Rains have delayed ripening, but the flavor is exquisite.

ATTORNEY BRIDGERS SAID IT. In the story of the argument between attorneys Brown and Bridgers during the trial of Eugene Hennessy Friday afternoon, the impression was given that attorney Brown made a statement which had been made by attorney Bridgers.

When Mr. Brown stated "I know you did not Mr. Bridger," Mr. Bridgers replied: "That is exactly what is the trouble. I am tired of these insinuations. When you say that I do not want to do my duty in this matter, you are not telling the truth. When you or any other man says that I am not doing my duty, you are not telling the truth."

Helen Kimbrough Returns to Orphanage from Which Foster Parents Had Taken Her.

Denville, Ill., July 31.—Helen Kimbrough, 13 years old, is back in the Indiana Orphanage, leaving behind her the certainty of a brilliant social position and the prospect of inheriting a $2,000,000 fortune, from which she turned for the passing pleasure of a childish love affair.

She has resumed the comparatively dull routine of orphanage life where she left off six years when she became the adopted daughter of circuit judge Kimbrough, prospective Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois.

Because of her conduct with a boy friend, Leland Parker of Decatur, she has been disowned by the Kimbrough family, and the adoption papers which made her sole heiress of the Kimbrough millions have been canceled.

Met at a Social. The girl and young Parker met at a social gathering here several months ago. Parker had come here for a short visit, but after meeting Miss Kimbrough he engaged apartments and remained in Danville.

After vainly trying to keep them apart, Mrs. Kimbrough summoned Parker to the Kimbrough mansion.

BIG TAX REFORMS IN CHIHUAHUA STATE

The School Teachers Are No Longer to Be Taxed, a Late Ruling.

Tax reforms in the state of Chihuahua are the latest fads and almost daily S. Vargas, state tax collector in Ciudad Juarez, is receiving decrees from governor Abram Gonzales ordering reforms in the taxes.

The latest is in the elimination of taxation of teachers and other employees of the schools. These people under the federal government were taxed 10 percent of their annual wages. Governor Gonzales has ordered this tax abolished and their back pay refunded to them.

Another decree comes from the governor saying that all taxes accumulated between November 20, 1910, and May 31, 1911, on buildings valued at less than 6000 pesos, on land valued under 5000 pesos, on horses and cattle valued under 4000 pesos and merchandise in the stores valued at less than 4000 pesos shall not be collected. This order was issued on account of the recent revolution.

The taxes on homesteads of residents of Mexico have been reduced by governor Gonzales to one-half percent on homes valued at under 2500 pesos. This is only when the owners of the house do not receive any rent for it and use it as their home. Formerly the tax was one percent of the value of the residences of families.

A tax has been placed by the governor of the state on all land, which will do away with the exemption of taxes by the large land owners. A tax from one peso to four pesos, according to the value of the land, will be placed on all land of over 8775 hectares. This will, it is believed, force the large land owners to sell part of their estates that they do not cultivate.

A decree issued by the governor of the state set the time for the tax committee to meet on November 15 annually, instead of July 1 every four years, as was the rule before, to qualify the taxes on the different lands and make the appraisement on the property. This committee will attend to this work so the poor will not be over taxed while a few are made exempt.

TWO MORE MOUNTED COPS FOR THE NIGHT PATROL

The night force will have two new mounted officers, effective August 1, which will make a total of four mounted men on the night force. "This action does not mean increasing the police force by two men," says mayor Kelly, "but the city will simply mount two of their patrolmen so that more ground can be covered at night."
