DON'T PAY TRIBUTE

When you pay rent you pay tribute, for "rent" is merely a modern term for "tribute."

And the familiar term "land lord," is simply a disguise of the old feudal title "land lord," meaning a lord or master of land.

Would you always remain in the "tribute" paying class, or would you have independence? It remains for you to decide.

Get a Home Of Your Own

SUES TO COMPEL INSPECTION BY CITY

Sam Milliron Files Mandamus Suit in the District Court.

S. A. Milliron has filed action in mandamus suit in the 41st district court against C. E. Kelly as mayor, et al. In his petition the plaintiff asks the court to compel the city to have its inspector inspect his electrical work, the city having refused to inspect the work of any but regularly licensed electricians.

A. Albrecht, foreman of the Standard Electric Co., who represents Mr. Milliron in his absence, said Monday: "Our action in this matter is to endeavor to bring the city electrician's office to a better footing. At the present time the various electricians are required to give bond and pay a license, yet the city electrician does not have to give a bond. In the recent case of John Blake, Judge Harper rendered a decision declaring the portion of the city ordinance demanding that we pay a license of $25 and put up a $2000 bond, as being null and void, but the city has simply ignored that ruling and we want to know why."

At the present time we pay an occupation tax and inspection fees, and it is not right that the electricians should be asked to pay a $25 license and put up a $2000 bond in addition. The city council has been misinformed by some one regarding this matter. This question of obtaining a license does not get up in the city's work. What they should do is to require every electrician to report to the city electrician every piece of work that he does and where they are only getting a $25 license now they would gain thousands of dollars by the other system in inspection fees.

Applied for License. I filed my application for license with the city clerk, but he refused to accept it unless accompanied by a $2000 bond and Judge Harper has ruled that both are illegal. It would be cheaper for our firm to pay the $25 license, but as a matter of principle we are going to fight this case through and get at a definite understanding."

JUAREZ REGULATES MUSIC IN SALOONS

The music in the saloons of Ciudad Juarez must be regulated in the future, according to Lieut. Col. J. N. Medina, and on Sundays the sweet strains will only be allowed between 9 a. m. and 3 in the afternoon. BREWERS IN ANSWER TO THE BEER QUERY

Deny That Chemical Preservatives Are Used in Beer Making.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Both secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, food expert, listened carefully today to the answer of brewers to the question "What is beer?"

The United States Brewers association, represented by Lewis W. Schramm, of New York, offered a long statement in reply to the set of questions propounded by the department as to what ingredients were contained in beer. It was claimed that the process and ingredients used in making beer were substantially the same now as before the pure food law was passed.

In giving detailed information as to their methods, the brewers declared their willingness to cooperate with the department in investigating the manufacture of malt liquors.

The brewers declared, however, that the government inspectors supervised the manufacture of beer through the United States internal revenue act. Furthermore, they suggested that inasmuch as the principal difference in beer was in "the denials here and after fermentation there would seem to be no reason for compulsory adoption of specific labeling."

John R. Mauff of Cranford, N. J., representing the consumer's league, read a statement charging that "alices nursing mothers and invalids" use beer for "tonic properties," labels should designate the ingredients so that users may know whether they are getting grain or chemical preservatives.

JUAREZ RURALES PAID BY MEXICO

The rurales of Ciudad Juarez will be paid by the national government of Mexico in the future, according to an order received by Lieut. Col. J. N. Medina from Governor Abram Gonzalez. The order went into effect last Saturday, when the troops were paid off with the money received for this purpose from the national government. The men get the same as the rurales under the federal regime, and receive 1 peso and 65 centavos per day and 40 centavos daily for the support of their horses.

STRIKING MINERS IN RIOT AT EL ORO

Mexico City, Mex., July 31.—Striking miners at El Oro are reported rioting today actuated by an anti foreign spirit aroused by a manifesto demanding that foreigners leave the town. RAN THREE YEARS WITHOUT LICENCE

The Investigation of Saloons Leads to an Interesting Disclosure.

Another instance of where a saloon has been operating in El Paso county without a license was brought to light Saturday when investigation was made into the standing of the Jockey club saloon, located at 401 South Oregon street.

The records at the county clerk's office show that the license of the Jockey club expired on August 31, 1908, and that since that time it has not been renewed. However, on June 28, 1911, a new license was granted, but has not been issued.

County attorney W. W. Bridgers said Monday morning that when he learned that the Jockey club was running without a license he called on the proprietor, W. H. Thomas, and Thomas informed him he would pay the license the following day, but failing to do so, he was ordered to close his place.

"I did not know until this morning that he had not had a license for three years," Mr. Bridgers said, "and I will have to prosecute him on that charge. I was under the impression that he had not paid his license for this year, and had told him he would have to close until the matter had been settled."

Popgun Legislation. Branding the Underwood cotton revision tariff revision as "popgun legislation," representative Austin, of Tennessee, Republican, declared in the house today that the measure which he said would reduce southern mill cotton sales many millions of dollars through foreign competition, certainly would be vetoed by president Taft if the senate passed it.

INJUNCTION STOPS BIG COPPER MERGER

Says Combination Would Enable Corporation to Evade Fees.

Lansing, Mich., July 31.—Judge West handed down an opinion this morning granting a temporary injunction to the minority stockholders in the Oseola Mining company to prevent the so-called copper merger.

Judge West held that the state statute relative to such consolidations is a bar to the competition of organizations in its proposed form. Other points he deems too important to be decided without a full hearing and examination of witnesses. The court declared that if the Michigan state law, which limits the amount of capital stock of such mergers to $10,000,000, allows the proposed merger to be completed with $10,000,000 capital stock and $22,000,000 in capital, the act simply operates to save the corporation from paying a franchise fee on all above $10,000,000 and prevent its true capital and capital stock from being disclosed.

"No splitting of words can change $22,000,000 of property and assets contributed by so many companies from being what it is in law and intention consolidated for, and that that is the capital on which the proposed consolidation commences operations," said Judge West. The court adds that it is not a compliance with the statute to capitalize $22,000,000 in assets at $10,000,000.

HEROIC EFFORTS TO RESCUE BURIED MAN

Miners Dig All Night to Reach Entombed Man But Miss Him.

Joplin, Mo., July 31.—The men who last night began digging in an effort to rescue Joseph Clary, imprisoned in a mine near here yesterday by a cave-in, were relieved this morning by other volunteers.

Clary, who is 31 years old, the son of a prominent operator, is believed to be still alive in a runway, 70 feet below the surface. Efforts were made to reach the runaway by means of drill shafts and thus supply the man with air. Over 100 men and boys, engaged in the digging were aided by women who kept them supplied with food and water.

When an opening had been made to the runway, 70 feet below the surface, this morning, the rescuers discovered that they had misjudged Clary's location and that he was in some other chamber of the mine. Thus all their work had been useless and they immediately began to drill another hole.

CAVALRY WILL GO TO ARIZONA FORTS

Fourth Cavalry to Be Transferred to Forts Apache Huachuca.

The Fourth United States cavalry, now doing patrol duty along the Mexican border with their headquarters camp at Camp Steever on the mesa above Fort Bliss, will be transferred to the Arizona garrisons as soon as the necessity for a patrol along the border is over. Ten troops of the Fourth, with headquarters and band, will be stationed at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., near Tombstone, and two troops will be sent to Fort Apache, near Holbrook, Ariz. This advice has been received by Col. E. Z. Steever, commanding the Fourth, and bids have been asked of the railroads for the transportation of the troops and supplies from Camp Steever to Forts Huachuca and Apache.

No definite date has been fixed for the transfer of the cavalry troops, and they may be left on the border until after the election in October and all signs of trouble in Mexico have disappeared. The Fourth was formerly stationed at Fort Meade, S. D., but was ordered to the Mexican border at the beginning of the revolutionary trouble, and has been here since. The garrison at Fort Huachuca will be enlarged for the cavalry regiment, and will be made an important post by order of the war department.

EMPEROR'S RETURN MAKES NO CHANGES

The Moroccan Negotiations Will Continue as Formerly Outlined.

Berlin, Germany, July 31.—The return of emperor William to the capital has not affected the Moroccan negotiations, contrary to intimations in the Paris papers that his majesty could change foreign minister Von Kiderlen-Waechter's policy.

The emperor, according to an official statement today, received a report of the negotiations, but no details have been given out. The Anglo-French reports regarding Togoland and the Kameruns, where it has been said concessions might be made by Germany in exchange for a strip of the French Congo, are unconfirmed.

It is learned that Germany took diplomatic steps regarding the speech of David Lloyd George, the British chancellor, and subsequent English newspapers in which the pronouncement was construed as Great Britain's veto of a proposed Franco-German settlement on the basis of a concession to Germany in the French Congo. The German government requested and received an explanation that Great Britain was disinterested in the situation outside of Morocco.

But for this understanding between Berlin and London, the situation might have been critical.
