

ATTENTION, HOUSEWIVES

Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas!

$50.00 GOLD FIRST PRIZE || $25.00 GOLD SECOND PRIZE

For the Best Loaf of Bread Made from Globe Mills Flour

Competition Open to All Residents of Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas

If you cannot get our flour in your own town from your grocer, have him arrange to get it for you, though practically every dealer of any size in Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas now handles our goods.

Disinterested judges will make the decision.

Decision will be rendered at 11 A. M. October 21st.

This is a prize worth going after.

The prize winning loaves of bread will be placed on exhibition on October 21st in a prominent down town store window, together with names of the winners.

SEND loaves of bread to us by express. Would suggest not shipping until October 16th to 17th, which will insure bread being fresh when the judges pass on same.

El Paso will be crowded with visitors during the big Jubilee Celebration and the winner of this big prize will be known thereafter over the whole Southwest as the best bread maker in this entire section. Quite an honor, we think, and, incidentally the $50.00 gold prize should help defray her expenses to the big Celebration.

We feel that in offering these big prizes we will help raise the standard of bread making, for which we, who are husbands and sons, should be very thankful.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Ruth Evangelina Hunter to Edward Payson Rankin, Jr., on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church, was an event in which centered the cordial interest of a large number of friends who assembled to witness the ceremony.

The church was simply but beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, and festoons of smilax, about the altar against which gleamed pink and white carnations held in tall vases resting upon pedestals.

Francis Moore, presiding at the organ, rendered various selections, which were followed by the wedding march from Lehengrin announcing the arrival of the bridal party.

First came the ushers, Dr. B. F. Clutter and Ben Cowan, who were followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Theo Patterson, attended by L. L. Lehman. Immediately preceding the bride came the maid of honor, Miss Hattie Mae Loretz. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. L. Hunter, who gave her in marriage. The groom, attended by his best man, Walter Hunter, awaited the bride at the altar. The marriage service, officiated by Rev. C. L. Overstreet, using the beautiful ring ceremony, and the responses were clearly spoken.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe meteor over white satin, made in empire style, on train, and trimmed in duchesse lace. She wore a tulle veil, held in place with a half wreath of lilies of the valley, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses tied with long streamers of satin ribbon.

Miss Hattie Mae Loretz, the maid of honor, wore a gown of white chiffon with border of pink roses, and made over pink satin. Delicate pink rosebuds formed the adornment of the waist and the skirt was trimmed with pink silk fringe. Her flowers were pink carnations and ferns.

The bridesmaid, Miss Theo Patterson, wore a beautiful gown of white marquisette over pink satin, handsomely trimmed with tulle and pink rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns tied with pink satin ribbon.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 715 North St. Vrain street. In line preceding the guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. Hunter, the bride and groom, and the Misses Hattie Mae Loretz and Theo Patterson.

The house was attractively decorated with smilax, draping chandeliers and mantels, while in the dining room the refreshment table was adorned with pink and white carnations and ferns. Joes and cake in pink and white, in the heart mold, were served. Assisting in serving at the punch bowl were the Misses Sue Lattner, Beatrice McGhee and Florence Reed.

After cutting the wedding cake, the bride ascended the stairway and threw down her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Adele Paxton, indicating that she would be the next bride.

One room was given over to the exquisite collection of gifts, noticeable among them a handsome chest of silver from the bride's parents, and a traveling case from the bride's brother.

The bride, a beautiful young woman, whose delightful personality has endeared her to many friends, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hunter, of this city. She received her education in Boston, but has resided in El Paso the last three years, and is popular both in social and church circles. As teacher of a class of young girls in the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church, Miss Hunter has been eminently successful.

The groom, who is a native of Morrisville, Ill., came here three years ago, and is well known, having identified himself with the business and social interests of the city, and has made here many friends. He is connected with the Madera company in the capacity of structural engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin went immediately to keeping house in their newly furnished home at 1109 Nevada street, where they will be at home to their friends after November 1.

An interesting wedding of the coming week will be that of Miss Lily Callisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Callisher, to Max Moyer. The marriage will occur Wednesday evening, October 11, at 8 o'clock at Temple Mount Sinai.

The bride will be attended by Miss Della Moyer, a maid of honor, and Laurence Callisher, brother of the bride, will assist as best man.

The ushers will be Adolph Schultz, Sidney Ullman, Jake Knuffman and Maurice Swartz.

Local society will be interested in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Augur, on September 29, at Columbus, Ohio. Miss Augur's father, the late Col. Augur, was stationed at Fort Bliss six years ago and the family is well known here.

Capt. Franklin S. Lelsnering, Fourth Infantry, U. S. A., is the groom.

The marriage of Miss Mamie Rhew and Arthur Dooley, both from Beaumont, Texas, will take place Tuesday, October 19, at the home of her street, Mrs. B. F. Moss, 1008 Arizona street.

The bride to be has been visiting in El Paso for the past three months and has made a number of friends here, with who her every happiness in her new life.

DINNERS AND LUNCHEONS.

Mrs. Josephine Nations Moritt gave a delightful dinner of 19 covers on Wednesday evening at the Country club, complimentary to her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Studebaker Riley, in celebration of the second anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley are here from Denver for a short time visiting Mrs. Riley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nations.

The table was spread with a cover of ebony, and attractively decorated with pink chrysanthemums. The handpainted place cards were bridal scenes done in water colors.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Studebaker Riley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Arnold, Miss Henrietta Buckler, Dr. James B. Vance, Joseph E. Payton.

Miss Henrietta Buckler was the hostess at a luncheon given at her home on Thursday, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Studebaker Riley, of Denver.

American Beauty roses in artistic profusion were used in the decorations. The six course menu was served from a handsomely appointed table, at which were seated Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Studebaker Riley, Mrs. Josephine N. Moritt, Miss Gertrude Ellis, Miss Ruth McCurdy, Lieutenants Joseph C. Fortwagner, H. C. Cole, H. J. Herman and C. A. Thuis.

A charming affair of the week was the luncheon given Thursday by Mrs. J. W. Lorentzen, at which her cousin, Miss Nona White, of Bakersfield, Cal., was the honored guest.

The luncheon was served from three tables, and a color motif of pink and white was developed in every detail of the decoration. The tables held centers of ebony lace, upon which rested vases filled with pink and white roses. The candles were shielded with pink shades, handpainted in rose, and the place cards were also hand decorated in rose design. Concealed in the little bobbin baskets were attractive souvenirs in the form of silver best buckles for the honor guests, and also for Miss Lillian Crawford, whose marriage occurs next month, and to the other guests silver novelty pins were given.

The guest list included: Miss Nona White, Lillian Crawford, Florence Harney, Essie Dartsyshire, Madge Erick, Ethel Brown, Lucille Smith, Milda Connolly, Mrs. H. E. Christie, Leon Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Frankenburg chaperoned a party of girls to the old fort where a tempting dinner was spread and enjoyed by every one. The party consisted of Misses Amy Hitchens, Estella Phelps, Olive Pace, Mae Kitt, Florence Robertson and Josephine Frankenburg.

More and more our home people are beginning to realize, what the traveling public already knew, that the Sheldon Cafe is the very finest in Texas in point of service, cuisine and comfort. Concert every evening by Sheldon orchestra.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP CLUB NOTES.

The youngest girl member of the University Scholarship club is 15 months old and the youngest boy member is three years old. There is no age limitation.

Membership was sent in this week by a young woman of 27, who has had virtually no education and who is now trying to save money to be able to drop work for a while in order to study. She said: "Those who have not an education have a hard time. If I can help others I want to. I'll never miss the dollar."

There are now nine associate members and five graduate members, besides the 176 high school students. In sending in membership, applicants are requested to state whether they are a high school associate or graduate member. If a graduate member, they are expected to give their college, and its name and degree. The club especially expects the cooperation of all who have had university advantages, as they know best the value of such training and should be most glad of an opportunity to help others to obtain like advantages.

Names and dues for the University Scholarship club may be given to J. W. Curd, acting principal, at the school, or to Mrs. Chas. A. Kinkead, 561 American Bank building, or left at The Herald.

The announcement of the winners of the scholarships for 1911-12 will be made at the commencement exercises next May.

Cecil Rhodes, who died at Cape Town, South Africa, March 26, 1902, directed in his will that a purse of £10,000 should be applied to the creation of a fund for the support of a certain number of scholarships covering a three years course at the University of Oxford. He directed that the selection of the recipients in the American states should be from each state and territory of the United States, or one hundred in all, 18 from Germany and from one mark two from each of the British colonies. The scholarships are awarded on marks only, three-tenths whereof shall be given to a candidate for his "literary and scholastic" attainments, the remainder being for his love of outdoor athletics and sports, for strong many qualities such as courage, generosity and kindness, and for high moral character, and especially for qualities to serve and lead in large public affairs.

The conditions regulating the award of the scholarships in the American states provide that the candidates shall have satisfactorily completed the work of the senior of a college, or must be liberal arts and sciences. Except under extraordinary circumstances the upper age limit must be 24 years at the time of entering upon the scholarship at Oxford. To be eligible the candidate must be a citizen of the United States, or the son of a citizen, and must be unmarried. Each student receives an allowance of 80 pounds a year, which is equivalent to $1500, payable in quarterly installments, which is just enough to enable him to pay his college fees and necessary expenses. As the first instalment is not available until some time after the arrival of the student, he should go abroad with $100 or $200 in his possession. In most of the states the selection is made by a committee appointed by representatives of the leading colleges.

Have you ever spent an evening at the Sheldon Cafe? The best of everything to eat, Concerts by Sheldon orchestra.

PROVERBS OF BROADWAY
By DOROTHY DIX.

MAN'S vanity is woman's opportunity.

Queer that a young girl never loves an old man unless he is rich.

The white woman's burden is trying to be beautiful though ugly.

The one compensation of poverty is the line that it gives us on our friends.

Every man is an essential monogrammist for his wife.

Truth lies at the roots of a woman's hair.

A pair of tight shoes will do more to restrain a man from romancing from his friends of an evening than all the Ten Commandments.

Homelessness in woman is the first aid to virtue.

The lack of the price keeps a man from leading the double life.

No women are so good as those who have never been tempted.

When the gods would make a man an essay mark they delude him with the belief that he understands woman.

When a woman wishes to give an other woman a cat scratch she says: "How well you are looking. You must have gained 15 pounds on your vacation."

Wouldst thou be popular, daughter? Call every man of 70 "Naughty boy," and every fellow youth of 20 a "Man of the world."

There are two secrets that every woman can keep--her age and what hair she used in catching her husband.

The most valuable talent that any woman can possess is to be born with the ability to weep without her nose getting red.

A woman loves a man for what he is. A man loves a woman for what he imagines her to be.

Many a wife asks her husband for the bread of love, and he gives her a tombstone.

We pay more dearly for our mistakes than we ever do for our sins.

The one crop that never fails is the wild oat crop.

When a man in the city makes no money he goes to the country to teach the farmers how to farm. When a man in the country makes money he comes to town to teach the bulls and hogs how to make money in Wall street. The result is the same in both cases.

The woman who loses her husband's love has generally been guilty of contributory negligence.

DANCES.

A brilliant affair of the week was the dance given Thursday evening in the beautiful ball room of the Tolted by the El Paso Social club. This was the first of a series of four dances that will be given during the season, and was in every way a most delightful affair. C. H. Leavell, who is president of the club, assisted by Mrs. Leavell, was everywhere looking after the enjoyment of the many guests.

Popular music was rendered by a full string orchestra, stationed in the balcony, and was a delightful feature of the occasion.

The dining room, where refreshments were served after the dancing, was artistically decorated with red and white carnations.

Among those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Leavell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Watersproun, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kuznik, Mrs. Lella T. Moore, Misses Ruth McCurdy, Anna Grace and Gertrude Ellis, Sara Cobb, Olive Davis, Henrietta Buckler, Wanda Race, Carrie Race, Janie Ellis, Irma McGill, Anna Shelton.

Messrs. Britton Davis, Francis Moore, Wallace Morris, Dr. J. B. Vance, Wallace Downing, Dr. J. M. Ridley, W. K. Marr, Rae Hines, Ralph Henderson, J. B. Kilpatrick, J. K. Ramsey, Robert L. Hobday, Ben Cowan, and others.

The regular Saturday night dance at the Country club is being looked forward to as one of the principal social events of the week end.

The Beavers will entertain their

Brown, Amorette Cobb, Hilda Sorenson, Sara Bridger, Grace Wingo, Pansy Robertson, Essie Warren, Rosalie Behr, Lillie Mae Clark, Stella Campbell, Katie Stoker, Maarsa, Frank Pickrell, Bob Cowan, Louis Cowan, Monroe Proctor, Francis Moore, David Baldwin, Cook, Jarvis Deane, O. L. Bowen, Smith, Kent Heaton, Hugo Irish, D. C. Jones, Wallace Thew, Will Reed, F. R. Davis, E. L. Beichel, W. R. Dotson, Roscoe Anderson, Fred Dickens, Gunther Leasing, Mai H. E. Van Surdam.

The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McCleary, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Behr, Mrs. J. G. Kennan.

ABOUT HOME PEOPLE.

Mr. and Mrs. James, who live on Campbell street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy, born Wednesday.

Miss Newell, of the San Jacinto school, gave a sale of soda water Monday for the benefit of the poor.

Born in a local hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Howard, of Marfa, Texas, a baby girl.

PECOS TO HAVE MORE GOOD ROADS

Will Issue $200,000 in Bonds For Their Construction; Sewer System

Pecos, Texas, Oct. 7.—With more genuine enthusiasm than has ever been known before, the third annual meeting of the Pecos Commercial club was held here last night in the rooms of the organization.

Officers elected were as follows: President, P. W. Johnson; vice president, Will P. Brady; treasurer, J. G. Love; secretary, Porter Whaley.

The club submitted 14 recommendations which were adopted, but by far the most important one was one calling for a $200,000 good roads bond issue in Reeves county. This recommendation created pandemonium almost, and as a result a petition is being prepared today and will be submitted to the board of county commissioners Monday, and the election will follow shortly afterwards.

Other recommendations covered the entering into Pecos of additional railroads; a election for a sewerage system; the city, better streets, etc.

The report of the secretary showed that the organization had lived within its income, which including the fair fund, exceeded $4000. Special committees were appointed to increase the fund of the organization and to push forward Pecos and Reeves county as never before.

Several guests were present from other parts of the country and the annual meeting proved to be a big booster gathering for Pecos.

We are the flashlight people. Kindly bear that in mind. Texas Electrical Supply Co., "House of Quality," 119 N. Stanton.

Wait for ten and fifteen dollars!
