WANTS AUTOS TO PASS THIS WAY

Douglas Asks El Paso to Help to Secure Automobile Road

Fifteen thousand automobiles will pass over the transcontinental highway during the exposition in San Francisco in 1915. Douglas should have her share of the money spent by the way by these tourists, in the opinion of secretary E. P. Grindell of the chamber of commerce. To this end he has taken up the matter of repairing the roadway between that city and El Paso with the El Paso chamber of commerce, through its secretary, C. A. Kluge. Mr. Grindell in his letter calls attention to the fact that save for a strip of 15 miles between El Paso and Deming, N. M., where the sand is so deep that it is with difficulty that a car can be taken through, the roadway is in good repair. He asks Mr. Kluge to take up the question with the chamber and see if this strip cannot be put in repair. "El Paso, Douglas and Tucson will be the cities upon the most logical southern route," says Grindell in his letter. "We should get our share of the millions of dollars these tourists will spend. Albuquerque and Phoenix are already cooperating for the establishment of a route between those places. This would eliminate us from the highway map."

Three transcontinental automobile highways have been proposed. They are the northern, which is only in the embryo state, the central, which includes Omaha, Denver, Ogden and Salt Lake, Utah; the southern, which would take either the route suggested by the Douglas secretary or go by way of Albuquerque, N. M., to Phoenix. The cities along each of these routes are endeavoring to secure designation by congress as the official highway and appropriate for a portion of the upkeep of the road.
The southern route is that most favored by automobilists because the north and central will be impassable during a large portion of the year. The active boosters are the American Automobile association, with headquarters in New York; the Transcontinental Touring club of Chicago and the middle west; the River to River association; the Santa Fe Trail association, and the Auto club of southern California.

UNEASINESS PUTS WHEAT PRICE UP

Short Buying Gives Corn a Stronger Tone; Provisions Show Weakness

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 25.—Uneasiness regarding the continuance of wet weather in the Argentine put wheat prices today on the upgrade. The opening was 1/2c higher. May started at $1.00 1/2 to $1.00 3/4 and rose to $1.01 1/4. The close was steady at $1.00 3/4 for May, a net gain of 1/4c to 3/4c.
Short buying gave a stronger tone to corn. May opened unchanged to 1/2c up at $1.42 1/2, but later receded to 1/4c to $1.42.
The close was steady with May 1/4 to 1/2c net lower at 64 1/2 to 64 3/4.
In oats the feature was changing from December to May to commission house. May started the same as last night to 1/2c higher and inclined to keep within that range.
Weakness in the hog market spread to provisions. First sales were unchanged to 1/2c down for pig; $2.47 1/2 to $2.50 for lard, and $5.57 1/2 to $5.70 for ribs.

STOCK MARKET IS HEAVY AT CLOSE

Movements Are Irregular, With a Tendency to Sag Noticeable

New York, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Stock market movements were irregular at the opening today with a sagging tendency in the majority of the more active issues. Southern Pacific and Great Northern preferred, each of which lost 1 1/2, were the heaviest of the standard railway shares. Among the industrials, International Harvester fell back 1/2, Amalgamated Copper 1/2 and United States Steel and American Car and Foundry 1/4. There were some changes in the opposite direction. Canadian Pacific advanced 1/4, and Utah Copper a point.
Prices picked up with some spirit after the initial display of heaviness. Purchases, however, slackened when the active stocks rebounded slightly above yesterday's closing figures. Minor copper stocks were especially strong with Tennessee Copper gaining over a point.
The close was heavy.

The Newest Idea in Napkin Rings

NOTHING that the Holiday season has brought out is more attractive than the new napkin rings we are now showing. For years the round napkin ring has been the fashion. The new rings we show, see cut above, are flat. They are sterling silver, beautifully decorated with space left for engraving. Price of these new napkin rings is $3.00.

Other New Arrivals

INTEREST in our Christmas stocks is increased with the arrival of a special importation of the celebrated "Le Maitre" opera glasses. Another item of interest is bouquet holders, beautifully enameled in various designs, priced at $2.50 and $3.50. Special mention is made of chafing dishes and coffee percolators. These are copper, the famous "Sterns" ware, and are electrically heated.
