REMEMBER LAJOIE AND WAGNER HAVE BEEN AT IT LONG

A Detroit newspaper went to the trouble and expense of copying a half-page story with figures attempting to prove that Tyrus Raymond Cobb...

The Georgia Peach is a real star, and is entitled to all the credit in the world for what has been accomplished during his major league career...

Do Figures Fabricate? It is significant that the very figures which the Michigan writer used in his attempt to prove the greatness of Cobb...

In a comparison of this kind, it must be remembered that Tyrus has been in the fast company only seven years, while Wagner has been playing in the National league for 15 seasons...

The figures, which, by the way, can not be copyrighted, show that Wagner has taken part in 15 years in 259 games more than has Lajoie...

Cobb has scored 117 runs, Lajoie 124 and Wagner 1,412. Wagner's average in runs scored for 13 years is .84, only eight less than Cobb's...

Baseball fans forget easily, and few of them recall the marvellous performances of Wagner during his first few years in the game. Of course there is a vague recollection...

40 MAYORS TO GO TO AUTO SHOW

Showing Development of the Machine as Commercial Vehicle

Mayors of 40 cities are making plans to attend the Chicago automobile show, together with various members of their respective commissions...

In all, it is now known that fully 40 cities will be represented officially during the second week of the show...

These young roosters meet tomorrow for the dedication of Los Angeles fans. Coulon is the champion. Conley is the challenger.

They have met before over the 29 round route and each has a vivid recollection of the match. Coulon was the winner out pointing the Italian.

That happened just about a year ago and since that time each has greatly broadened the scope of his fighting experience. Conley has been meeting everyone out on the coast...

Conley now has the added advantage of being under the protective wing of Tom Jones, Ad Wolgast's visor, and Tom, you know, has a penchant for making champions. It will be recalled that, in addition to being behind Wolgast when he put the bee on Battling Nelson, Jones also had a great deal to do with Billy Papke of Kewanee...

Johnny Coulon And Frankie Conley Mill Tomorrow Should Be Whirlwind

Something of the Wonderful Automobile Growth in the United States—'Narrow Escapes' Colony Is Large—Sport Items of Interest

We have with us tomorrow, gentlemen, Johnny Coulon and Frankie Conley two of the most prominent fighters in America and scheduled to meet at Uncle Tawn McCarey's Vernon California arena tomorrow afternoon over the 29 round bout.

It is the biggest 1912 battle yet. It has all the earmarks of a hummer. It ought to be Big from Biggsville. It should paste a 40,000 candle power chapter in the annals of the ring.

Johnny Coulon is the snappiest, smoothest 116 pounds of fighting machinery in the world. Johnny has met all comers in the preservation of his bantamweight title and all comers have valiantly thrust out their jaw and block Johnny's glove, with results flattering to Johnny's ring record.

And on the other hand we have Frankie Conley who until recently was strongly suspected of concealing and carrying into the ring with him a jacket of armor plates. Frankie's jaw has broken more hands than any similar piece of anatomy in America. Frankie has a neck which looks like a Doris pillar. If there ever was a human anatomy created to deflect the whistling swing of a left jab or a right upper cut that is Conley.

These young roosters meet tomorrow for the dedication of Los Angeles fans. Coulon is the champion. Conley is the challenger.

BY LEWIS ARMS

the "Texas Tommy." We confidently expect the addition of the "Walla Walla Wiggle," the "Catalina Capers," the "San Diego Sizzle" and oh—but what's the use.

Let's see, who was it that pulled off that awful Gofch-Hackenschmidt frame. Oh, yes, to be sure, Jack Curley.

It has been authentically figured that Tyrus Raymond Cobb gets as much publicity gratis as the president of the United States. And his berth is infinitely more secure.

Hank O'Day, veteran major league umpire, is to manage the Cincinnati Reds. Save the mark! It is fair to assume now that when Hank rushes onto the field and thrusts his lower jaw out at the arbiter of play, possibly tramping on said arbiter's toes as he does it and pulling off all the other delicate little tricks that a major league manager is popularly supposed to know, that said umpire will take a special delight in pasting a $50 fine on the garrulous Henry. Whilst he sits if he has forgotten whom he once was.

Here in America we do not "rive" any one in particular. Our most popular insurrecto cry is "Kill the umpire."

If Clark Griffith should really happen to develop a winning team down in Washington, we know a lot of senators who wouldn't break into print half as often as they do now.

The "narrow escapes" colony may now be found telling its disadventures wherever there is talk of the insurrecto.

One young Don Quixote rushed into our den with a skinned nose, declaring that he had just escaped death, had been punched in the nose and robbed.

Our gentlemanly city editor ventured the assertion that when Don heard the first shot that he commenced running so close to the ground that he skinned his nose. Our city editor is a cynical cuss.

YOUNG AMERICA HAS BIG BASKETBALL GAMES ON TAP

In the Grammar schools athletic league basketball games, for Saturday afternoon, the first match will be between the Sunset and Mesa schools, with Lamar and San Jacinto playing in the second game. Two o'clock is the starting hour.

For the boy scouts league basketball games Saturday, the Black Hawks will play the Centipedes in the first game. The Panthers and the Gray Eagles are slated for the second. The Gray Eagles continue on top in the standing, having 1,000 percentage. The Hawks come next with 657 percentage, followed by the Panthers with 333.
