POWERS MAY BECOME EMBROILED IN BALKANS

London, Eng., Nov. 11.—Europe is facing one of the most critical weeks in her history. It may end in a war in which the whole continent will be involved or it may be remembered as a week in which diplomacy succeeded in solving problems that appeared insoluble to many.

On one side of the Balkan peninsula there is an acute conflict between the aims of Austria-Hungary and Serbia, which, if it is not arranged, might start a general European outbreak. On the other side, king Ferdinand's Bulgarian army is on the point of entering Constantinople, and that will be resented by Russia.

The existing jealousies are so intense that it will take much pressure to induce either Austria or Serbia to recede from its demands. Austria, in fact, takes so seriously the advance of a Serbian force toward the port of the Bosphorus that she has dispatched a steamer there to take off Austrian residents when the Serbian troops arrive.

Serbia's friend Russia, is also preparing for eventualities. Besides keeping her time-expired men in the army she is mobilizing her forces. At Sebastopol transports have been prepared to convey Russian troops across the Black sea, and her arsenal and commissariat departments are working night and day.

The most hopeful sign at the present moment is the fact that moderating influences are being brought to bear by Germany, the close ally of Austria-Hungary, and by Bulgaria, the comrade in arms of Serbia. Both of these nations are now exerting themselves to avert a conflict.

The operations began at daybreak on Thursday. Following their usual brilliant success, the Bulgarian army advanced in the direction of the Turkish fortifications.

The Turkish troops sallied out from the forts to deliver a counter attack. It was then the turn of the Bulgarian siege artillery, which, from every point on the surrounding hills, poured a terrific hail of projectiles on the lines of the Turkish troops.

Suddenly the command, "Fix bayonets," rang out from the Bulgarian officers and then, cheering wildly, the Bulgarian infantry dashed forward and the Turks broke and ran toward the city.

At about noon the Bulgarians' colors flattered up over the forts of Kartaltepe and Papatepe still held out. The Bulgarian troops were divided into three columns, which made very slow progress, and for a long time the fortunes of the day seemed uncertain. Nightfall found the Turks and Bulgarians fighting.

As had occurred at Kartaltepe earlier in the day, the fire from the Papatepe fort began gradually to slacken. There also the Bulgarian siege guns had almost exhausted their ammunition.

About 11 o'clock at night the Bulgarian infantry began to storm the fort at the point of the bayonet. Shortly before midnight they had become masters of the position and the Turks were in flight. They left their dead and dying by hundreds on the field.

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA MEETS WAR MINISTER
Vienna, Austria, Nov. 11.—Continuous audiences between Emperor Francis Joseph and the Austro-Hungarian minister of war and the general staff of the army have been held to portend a definite step soon by Austria in regard to the Balkan situation.

Dr. S. Danell, president of the Bulgarian chamber of deputies, is here, bearing, it is said, proposals from king Ferdinand and king Peter, connected with Serbia's desire for a port on the Adriatic sea.

To these significant occurrences are added the news that the archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to Austro-Hungarian throne, and his forthcoming visit to the German emperor.

Dr. Danell also is supposed to be empowered to discuss the Austro-Hungarian interests and Roumanian claims. A local newspaper, the Sonu du Montenegro, sums up the position of the Austro-Hungarian empire in the Balkan question in the following four points:

1.—Assured and unrestricted facilities for access to the eastern markets and free commercial transit to Salonika.
2.—The integrity of Albania.
3.—The protection of Austro-Hungarian's political interests in the region of local relations with Serbia and the exclusion of political antagonism.
4.—Compensation for Roumania.

SERBIA INTENDS TO HOLD A PORT ON THE ADRIATIC
Belgrade, Serbia, Nov. 11.—Dibra, 45 miles southwest of Prizren in Albania, has been taken by the Serbians, after severe fighting, according to official advices. The remnants of the Turkish Macedonian army had assembled there.

The same reports say that Montenegro has surrendered, Maj. Popovich, in command of the Serbian cavalry, has captured Dibra, with thousands of arms.

The third Serbian army is well on its way towards the Adriatic, but progress is slow because of the bad roads. It is expected that Durazzo will be taken in a day or two. Durazzo is one of the most important ports in the Balkans and its capture would give the Serbians a direct line of communication to the Adriatic.

This determination to occupy one or more Adriatic ports against the wishes of Austria is absolutely earnest. All political considerations have been thrown aside to support the government's cause what may be the result.

Germany will be able to convince Austria-Hungary that Serbia, with an outlet on the Adriatic, will not be a danger to her but without such an outlet.

EPIDEMIC OF CHOLERA NOW THREATENS CONSTANTINOPLE
Constantinople, Turkey, Nov. 11.—An outbreak of cholera is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases have occurred among the troops along the Bosphorus. The disease has been suspected cases among the wounded. A railroad of wounded soldiers having died on the way, presumably from cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the massing of troops, the lack of proper food, and the conditions of the hospitals. There is danger to Constantinople on account of influx of refugees. Already the disease has been reported from the Russian front.

Among the measures to prevent an outbreak of disorder, the government has ordered the disarmament of all classes of the population.

Quarantine stations and dangers are complicated wherever discovered. Even refugees are compelled to surrender any weapon in their possession.

TURKS FOUR MURDERERS FIRE OF SHRAPNEL UPON ADVANCING COLOMNA, BUT ARE FINALLY FORCED TO FLEE
Paris, France, Nov. 11.—A graphic description of the storming by the Bulgarians of the two Turkish forts at Kartaltepe and Papatepe, in the outer line of fortifications around Adrianople, is forwarded by a correspondent of the Matin. He declares that their capture seals the doom of the Turkish stronghold.

The operations began at daybreak on Thursday. Following their usual brilliant success, the Bulgarian army advanced in the direction of the Turkish fortifications.

The Turkish troops sallied out from the forts to deliver a counter attack. It was then the turn of the Bulgarian siege artillery, which, from every point on the surrounding hills, poured a terrific hail of projectiles on the lines of the Turkish troops.

GOING AFTER THE MORNING RECORDS

Mrs. Lunt's Place Wrecked by Rebels—Flour Mill Is Operating.

S. H. Harris and Archie Clayton have gone to El Paso. There they will be joined by several other men and with a team and wagon they will go overland into the Mexican colonies.

Each man has his special mission to perform. Mr. Harris is going for the Dublin records and for deeds, deed blanks, notes and mortgages. Clayton is going for the records of the colonists. Mr. Clayton has a crop of corn that ought to bring him several hundred dollars if he had not been stored and turned into cash.

J. C. Bentley, Philip Hurst and the Stowell boys have come in from the colonies. They report everything as quiet just now but the federals and rebels have been bluffing each other considerably.

The rebels were in full possession of Colonia Pacheco and there were camped on Mrs. Sarah Lunt's place, as that was the largest and most commodious in the town, and was the best supplied with provisions, and it has been destroyed.

The rebels were sighted by the rebels, they did not have time to load their ammunition that was in the mill, and to prevent its falling into the hands of the federals, they touched it off with dynamite just as the rebels were about to enter the place, including hay, grain, groceries, flour, etc.

The rebels set fire to the home of T. H. Hilton in Colonia Dublin. The federal troops so they would have a better chance to fall on them, but if that was their purpose they failed.

John Wilson, who has been ill in Colonia Juarez with a wrenched back, is better. The sick in the hospital in El Paso are better. V. Parnsworth and Charles Whipple each have a child down with typhoid fever. Irene Cardon's little girl is improving, but very slow and she has had a long siege.

Two of the colonist boys got out an issue of El Paso's colony paper, last week. The two inside pages had been run off before we were driven out in July.

Troop K of the third cavalry also left for Fort Hancock, Tex., to relieve Troop E of the 13th, which will remain at El Paso and be stationed either at the amulet, or at the post.

Lieut. E. A. Buchanan, post quartermaster at Fort Bliss for the second cavalry, has returned from Gallatin, Tenn., where he was recently married.

SAYS AMERICAN WAS KILLED BY MEXICANS
Mining Man From Zacatecas Says No Investigation Has Been Made of the Death of Russell.

That no effort was made to make investigations relative to the death of an American mining man by the name of Russell, who was killed five weeks ago, 40 miles south of Guizot, Mexico, by rebels, was the declaration of William Corbett, a mining man from that section, who arrived in El Paso at noon Monday.

Corbett, who is a member of the United States' ambassador at Mexico City, was informed of the death of Russell, but he made no investigation, declared Corbett. "I lived in that neighborhood, and I know that no official of this country made any attempt to make an investigation."

"I moved to Guizot because it was too dangerous for me to live at the mines," he said. "Last Sunday 200 rebels entered the town, and robbed everyone of clothing, arms and money. They carried off about $200,000 worth of groceries, furniture, a commission merchant of the place, with whom they took $250, Mexican currency, from him. The rebels burned the station, and destroyed the bridges. They robbed the saloons and all got drunk. They then killed Russell."

"Conditions in the state of Zacatecas cannot be misinterpreted. They are just as bad as it is possible to be."

SALAZAR REPORTED BACK IN SONORA
Rebels and Federals Have a Fight in That State and Rebels Are Reported—Salazar Headed For There.

Diagonal, Ariz., Nov. 11.—News reaches here that Gen. Ynes Salazar with a force of 100 men, estimated at from 100 to 150, has crossed into Sonora and is now camped at Tazulhuira, east of Nogales.

Salazar, who left Friday from Colonia Morelos, reinforced by soldiers from the 10th cavalry, is believed to have been rescued Sunday, although he has been reported here as yet.

The federals immediately began moving to protect El Tigre, said to be Salazar's destination. That town is garrisoned by 150 federals and an additional force of 100 was sent from Tazulhuira Saturday.

MILITARY HOLDS COL. OROZCO PRISONER
Col. Pascual Orozco, father of the leader of the Mexican revolution in the north, was arrested here Sunday by military authorities and is held in the guardhouse at El Paso. Army officers and secret service men refuse to give the charge on which the aged revolutionist is held. Orozco recently was freed from local courts after 45 days' detention without trial on an extradition charge, and after trial and acquittal on a conspiracy charge.

The arrest is the first application of the recent decision at Washington to permit the military to exercise a form of martial law to prevent neutrality violation. Arrests of rebels here have resulted in no convictions, the military now has the power to hold prisoners from civil authorities or release by habeas corpus.

MORE TROOPS ARE AT AGUA PRIETA

MAYO INDIANS TO FIGHT THE YAQUIS
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 11.—Col. Orozco and 200 Mayo Indians will leave Agua Prieta Tuesday for an overland march to Hermosillo to join in the work of subduing the Yaquis in the south.

The Mayos are picked men, notably good fighters, and are hereditary enemies of the Yaquis.
