Gifts To Delight Women

WITH practically only one more week 'til Christmas, we want to call special attention not only to our splendid Christmas stocks, selected with the idea of providing "Gifts to Delight Women," but to our Christmas store service. The reason for our excellent service is not only our perfect organization but, as we do not remain open evenings, our salespeople are better physically than would be the case if we worked them the extra hours. Our catalogue today is most incomplete, but if you will read through these items and then visit the Arcade you will have a very good idea of what we offer for Christmas.

MEXICANS VISIT U. S. WARSHIPS

vessels at an early hour to announce the plans of admiral Fletcher to facilitate visits to his vessels.

Commodore Ansel, of the Mexican navy; Gen. Luis Valdez, the military commander of Veracruz, and other officials of the city went on board the flagship early in the morning and on their arrival on the quarterdeck they welcomed the American naval men in behalf of Mexico.

About the same time, a ship's barge brought Wm. C. Canada, the United States consul on board the flagship.

Afterward the American admiral placed the ships at the disposal of the visitors until they put to sea this evening.

An effort was made by the American consul to induce the admiral to prolong the stay of the vessels, but this was unsuccessful, as admiral Fletcher desired to keep his schedule.

REBELS APPEAR IN SONORA ONCE MORE

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 14.—Rebel bands suddenly have appeared again below this border point, and government mounted police have been ordered to begin a patrol of the Southern Pacific of Mexico to prevent its destruction through Nogales and the support of Guaymas. Rumors have taken the field under Col. Emilio Estereritzky, the Russian commander of the Mexican rural police. Advances from Hermosillo, the state capital, said that rebels intended the cut the American owned railway.

GEN. BLANCO AND HIS FOLLOWERS BACK AT CASAS GRANDES. Gen. Jose G. de las Casas and his 600 federal volunteers arrived Friday night at Casas Grandes, after a journeying at Guzman. He will make Casas Grandes his base, about 500 additional federal troops being located at that point.

Location of the rebel forces remains in doubt, and it is now evident that they have not moved directly from Carmen to the Mexican North Western line. Traffic remains open on both railways below Juarez.

"Mama Sherry" Sunday. The "Madam Sherry" Musical Comedy company missed the train in San Antonio this morning and will not arrive in El Paso until Sunday evening. The curtain Sunday night will consequently not rise at the El Paso theater until 9 o'clock.—Advertisement.
