

SCHOONER AMERICA IS STILL AFLOAT

Original Cup Winner Swings In Stagnant Tide of Port Point Channel in Boston Bay.

New York, Oct. 29.—While British and American yachtsmen are preparing to spend $500,000 to win possession of the America's cup, the old schooner that captured the trophy, originally built in America, floats in the stagnant tide of Port Point channel, beside the South station in Boston. The schooner is owned by former congressman Butler Ames, of Lowell, who inherited her from his grandfather, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler.

Every schoolboy knows that after her famous exploit in English waters, the America became a Confederate blockade runner under the name of "Memphis" and was scuttled in the St. Johns river, Fla., during the war. The federal government raised her, and subsequently Gen. Butler purchased the schooner. She has been refitted several times, and her interior fittings, including many of her frames, have been renewed, but her model is practically the same that James Stevens designed 67 years ago.

Out of Commission 12 Years.

The America was last in commission in 1901, when she swung for several days inside the Horse Shoe at Sandy Hook at the time of Thomas Fortune's second cup lifting attempt with Shamrock II, on one side and Columbia on the other. Before leaving for Europe last month, Col. Ames was asked regarding the future plans for the schooner, the most interesting matter that she be fitted with a gasoline engine. He stated, however, that while he might place the boat in commission again in 1914, he did not believe that he would give her any other power except her sails.

Thousands of persons pass the old schooner every day, but as the greater part of the summer she leaves and enters the docks on the opposite side of the station, very few persons notice the white yacht which has been moored in Port Point channel, just above the Summer street bridge. The schooner is the only one that still carries the famous and original winner of the cup which has become the most desired and greatest international sports trophy in the world.

CONFESSION OF SWINDLE INVOLVES CHICAGO POLICE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29.—The confession of Wm. R. Russell, an aged clairvoyant, who admitted he had swindled clients out of half a million dollars, has been made public by state's attorney Hoyne.

In it Russell reveals the regulation rates for operating with police protection, and names many detectives and a "go-between" to whom he said he paid thousands of dollars.

Russell asserted that he understood this money was to go to the state's attorney's office and to high police officials.

Russell, who was arrested at Columbus, Ohio, where he was known as "Prof. Barr," said he had been a clairvoyant for 15 years and in that time had extracted $500,000 from his clients. Admitting that he had used fraudulent stocks as his favorite method, he said he had been indicted here on charges of operating a confidence game.

KAISER SUMMONS CROWN PRINCE TO EXPLAIN LETTER

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 29.—Crown prince Frederick Wilhelm arrived in Berlin from Munich and was summoned to appear immediately before the emperor at Potsdam. The subject of the two hours' interview which followed was the recent demonstrative announcement of the crown prince's opposition to his father's policy regarding the Brunswick succession.

The crown prince, according to an inspired statement before the interview, was prepared to deny responsibility for the publication of his letter to the imperial chancery, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg. In this letter the prince had protested against permission being given prince Ernst August of Cumberland, the husband of the emperor's daughter, princess Victoria Louise, to occupy the throne of the duchy of Brunswick without his express renunciation of his pretensions to the throne of Hanover.

DROP IN MERCURY GIVES A SNAP TO WEATHER MONDAY

Chisely was a good word for the weather Monday morning. A drop in the quicksilver stuff put the temper in temperature and gave El Paso the first deep draught of El Paso fall weather. The weather man says it registered 44 at 6 o'clock Monday morning, with the forecast for more of the same. Eastern forecasts by way of the national capital predict cold weather for all but El Paso.

Trainmaster C. M. Murphy, of the Southern Pacific at Lordsburg, N. M., came to El Paso Monday and left Monday morning with the trade excursionists.

OBSTRUCTIONS Permanently Cured by Our Electrical Absorbent Method

Fully fifty per cent of men have Obstructions; few are aware of the fact that the worst cases are caused by injury and many do not realize that they have it until all relief has been taken. It is a serious and complicated condition, because in its beginning the symptoms are slight. Complications are—irritation, inflammation, cystitis, kidney disease and weakness.

Cutting, stretching, and the use of sounds never cure, and often render a simple case complicated, because of the irritation and injury caused by these barbarous practices.

Our method removes the obstruction entirely, leaving the Mucous Membrane perfectly sound and healthy.

We will forfeit $1,000 if we fail to cure any case we attempt to cure.

The Well Dressed Girl By Fannie Ward

Another Stylish Gown Described Simply and Valuable Dress Hints

By FANNIE WARD. (Copyright, 1913, by International News Service.)

"A WOMAN is as young as she looks," is exactly as ATTRACTIVE AS SHE APPEARS.

Can you tell me any reason why the latter half of my statement is not just as true as the former? As a matter of fact, although you cannot change your eyes from blue to brown at will, or your height from five two to five eight, just because you like the Junoesque type, YOU CAN SO DRESS THAT ALL YOUR GOOD POINTS WILL BE BROUGHT OUT AND ALL YOUR BAD POINTS HIDDEN!

To dress well there are some very simple rules that must be followed. I give them to you gladly:

Study your own face and figure. Remember that you are an individual and not a type. Second—Study the effects of color on your complexion, features and figure. Third—Acquaint yourself with the fashions and select what is good and worth copying. Fourth—Cultivate a feeling for the beauty of line. Fifth—Learn to restrain yourself. Educate yourself to find beauty in simplicity. Sixth—Always buy things because they are of good value and you really want them. Never buy clothes merely because they are marked down a bit, or because a clever dressmaker insists.

THE FINAL RULE.

And the final great rule which is the summation of all I have said and am going to say is this: CULTIVATE YOUR OWN INDIVIDUALITY AND EXPRESS IT IN YOUR CLOTHES.

Today I am showing you one of my at the front, and lengthening it in a most elaborate gown. I choose it for this reason. I am small and slender. Now, does not the gown give an impression of stately height? By a study of the principles of dress illustrated in this picture you may add yourself in looking shorter or taller at will. You may accent your slenderness or increase your stately proportions, according to taste, fashion and becomingness dictate.

For the foundation use either simple white charmeuse or chiffon velvet. If these are beyond your means, you will find the soft serge or henrietta cloth most charming and charmingly inexpensive. Where I have used rare Venise lace and ermine bands and ermine tails, the woman who is considering price will find dotted or embroidered net very effective, and she may use anything ranging from white rabbit to satin bands for a garniture. It is always possible to copy the most expensive gown by merely using a little thought as to what cheaper materials may be substituted for expensive laces and furs.

THE GOWN.

Now I will describe my gown. The satin or charmeuse or chiffon velvet forms the upper blouse which falls in a kimono line over the shoulder and has an inset sleeve that drapes at great length over the wrist. Both long shoulder seam and long draped sleeve give length of line and add to the apparent height of the wearer.

For further height there are the straight lines of trimming over the shoulder, the long draped sash of black velvet that falls from the circle at the back and extends almost to the end of the little curved train.

Catching up the skirt in draped line

SUPPOSED CORPSE OPENED HIS EYES

Siek Mexican, Thought to Have Broken His Neck, Suddenly Escapes, Burial Alive at Bisbee.

Bisbee, Ariz., Oct. 29.—Francisco Conastilla, a Mexican, whose home is on the Naco road and who was thought by his family to be dead, opened his eyes just in time to escape being buried alive in the potter's field. A local undertaker was in the act of picking up the man's body from his bed, after having failed to find a trace of life, when the Mexican's right eye fluttered and came open in a wide state of terror. His left eye a moment later followed suit. The undertaker looked around the room to find it deserted. His negro assistant supposed dead man's family had fled precipitately.

Conastilla had been dangerously sick

WATSON FACES TRIAL IN FEDERAL COURT

Presidential Candidate of People's Party Is Charged With Sending Obscene Matter Through the Mails.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 29.—Thomas E. Watson, lawyer, publicist and one time presidential candidate of the "people's party," today was placed on trial in the United States district court here on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails.

The specific charge against Watson is that he published in July, 1911, and April and May of 1912, certain alleged questions which he claimed were asked by Roman Catholic priests to persons in the confessional, which questions, the indictment alleges, were obscene.

Post Season Playoff Is Menace Does Little to Help Baseball

New York, Oct. 29.—Another baseball season has closed and only the records remain to proclaim the prowess of player and club in America's national sport. Considered broadly, 1913 produced play fully up to the standard of previous years, but no appreciable step forward could be detected. The game appeared to hold its own in popularity, speed and technique, but did not surpass the record of recent seasons in this respect.

The world's series, with its attendant ticket scandals, scrambling and bickering, created the usual interest but did little to nothing to advance professional baseball or elevate the plane of the sport. In fact many of the cleverest of the club owners and league officials are beginning to doubt the wisdom of the post season climax in its present form. The playoff for the world's championship under the present system is felt to hold a menace of more or less gravity to the future of baseball by some of the best informed men connected with the game.

Present Methods Unsatisfactory.

The idea of a sportsmanlike series of contests to decide the title of the year is apparently lost in the wild scramble for the more fortunate. Fans and the attendant side emoluments that accrue to players and club owners. Those stockholders, whose names do not share in the distribution of the prize money view with chagrin the division of many thousands of dollars among the more fortunate. Fans who are unable to secure seats for the games rail at the coupon distributing policies of the competing clubs and all in all there is more dissatisfaction at the close of the season than elation.

All this has been brought home vividly to the sportsman's commission and the magnates of both the National and American leagues and there is a movement on foot to discover a substitute season climax that will leave less jealousy and heartburning than at present. What is particularly desired is a form of interleague series that will permit all clubs and players to participate in the financial benefits and the fans of many cities to enjoy the spectacle without being chafed to stand in line 24 hours or pay ticket speculators fabulous prices for a two-dollar seat coupon.

The Season's Winners.

A resume of the season's play finds the following clubs, winner of the world's series and the various major and minor league pennants:

World's champions, Philadelphia Athletics; National league, New York; American league, Philadelphia; International league, Newark; American association, Milwaukee; Federal league, Indianapolis; Ohio State league, Charleston; Nebraska league, Kearney; Wisconsin-Illinois league, Oakbrook; Western tri-state league, Walla Walla, first season; Boise, second season; Indiana-Illinois-Iowa league, Quincy; Michigan state league, Manistee; Union association, Great Falls; Appalachian league, Johnson City; first season, Knoxville, second season; Virginia state league, Petersburg; Texas league, Houston; New England league, Lowell; New York league, Branch; Birmingham South Michigan league, Battle Creek; Twin state league, Northampton; Kentucky-Indiana-Tennessee league, Paducah; Southern league, Atlanta; Eastern association, Hartford; Central league, Grand Rapids; New York-New Jersey league, Long Branch; North Carolina league, Winston; Tri-State league, Wilmington; Empire state league, Valosta, first season, Thomasville, second season; Texas-Oklahoma league, Denison; Canadian league, Ottawa; Central association, Ottumwa; South Atlantic league, Savannah, first season, Savannah second season; Northern league, Winona; Georgia-Alabama league, Gadsden; Interstate league, Erie; Cotton States league, Jackson.

Flynn Will Test More "White Hopes"

Pueblo Fireman Wants Another Match With Carl Morris—"Battling" Nelson, Overbattered With Games, Is Not Done Yet—Sport Gossip.

By ED. W. COCHRANE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—Heavyweights who are imbued with an idea or even a hope that they will some day reach the topmost rung of the pugilistic ladder, will be able to determine definitely how very much chance they have to climb to that notch in the glare of the sporting stadium by engaging with one of James Flynn, also known as the "fighting fireman from Pueblo."

The Pueblo stuffer is in search of trouble as much this fall as ever in his career, despite having spent some 15 years in the old game which has netted him a couple of fortunes. At present he is trying to arrange for a contest with Carl Morris in Kansas City.

Only Champs Best Him.

The "white hope crusher," accompanied by Ed Burke, of this city, and a large collection of dirt from the roads of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, drove into town in his big racing car from Chicago.

"Now what I want is another fight with Morris to show the public that the engineer, despite his reputed improvement of some 200 percent, is not good enough yet to beat the man who gave him such an artistic trimming in Madison Square garden," he said.

Overbattered With Games.

"No doubt 'Bat' Nelson will be ready to 'put new' remarked the pugilist, Jan. "He certainly has had enough whippings."

"Yes," came the answer, "he has had enough beatings, but like all the others, he never knows when he has had enough. I wouldn't be surprised to see the old Hewigish mayor boxing 10 years from now. He'll fight as long as that lion heart is left, and it appears to be as strong as ever."

A Clinch on Fig.

Ban Johnson does not agree with Garry Herrmann regarding the abolition of world's series. Fans cannot blame Ban for his stand in the matter. The National league should be in favor of a different method of deciding the championship now that the parent organization has lost four straight, but so many victories for the American is sufficient reason for Ban Johnson adhering to the present plan of deciding the championship.

Question of Science.

Pop Anderson, with the information that the Philadelphia Athletics would have been easy for his club 20 years ago. He also adds that the world's champions are being made too much of. Anson, like all other old timers, does not realize what a stride the game has made in the last decade. Possibly Anson did have men who could hit the pitching of today, but

CORNING IS HIGH MAN IN THE RIFLE SCORES

George Corning was again high man in the Orr and Thede cup events at the regular weekly shoot of the El Paso Rifle club Sunday afternoon at the range on Murray Heights. Owing to the nonarrival of ammunition for the new Springfield rifles, the club members did not hold the intended meet at the Ft. Bliss range Sunday.

The scores:

Orr cup—Corning, 77; Johnston, 72; Pringle, 72; Carpenter, 68; Mills, 68; Rutledge, 65; Enriquez, 62; Martin, 62.

Thede rapid fire medal—Corning, 29; Johnston, 21; Enriquez, 19; Rutledge, 18; Pringle, 18; Carpenter, 16; Martin, 14; Mills, 14.

CRUSH OCCURS AT CHICAGO MEETINGS

Protest Against Blood Ritual Charge in Kiev Trial Is Sent to the Russian Government.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29.—Several thousand persons of many creeds and nationalities, struggled to enter the downtown theaters where mass meetings were held in protest against the charge of "blood rituals" in the Bogliss murder trial at Kiev, Russia.

It was necessary to call out the police reserves and before order was restored, many women fainted in the crush.

Resolutions adopted asserted that "the alleged use of blood is absolutely abhorrent to the Jewish doctrine" and expressed "our indignation against the use of so barbaric an accusation and so medieval an insult, which can only result in exposing an industrial and law-abiding race to universal scorn and, in some parts of the world, to violence of persons and property."

The resolutions were mailed to secretary of state Bryan with a request that they be presented through him to the court of Russia.
