

Wilson Joins In Fight On Tammany

Old Dick Croker Writes that He Thinks the Rascals Should Get Out.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—President Wilson has joined hands with Gov. Glynn to break the hold of Charles F. Murphy on the New York state organization of the Democratic party.

The fight will be opened without delay in preparation for the September primaries when it is hoped that the law alliance will remove the last vestige of Murphy control from the state organization.

The preliminary battle will be for the removal of state chairman George M. Palmer and the substitution in his place of William Church Osborn, whose fitness for the office received the hearty support of the president.

It is also believed that president Wilson will welcome Mr. Glynn as the next Democratic candidate for the governorship.

National chairman McCoombe, who attended the conference between the president and Mr. Glynn at the white house yesterday, is said to be grooming himself to be Ethel Ross's successor in the senate.

Richard Croker, writing from Ireland to John Fox, prior to the latter's death, said that mayor Mitchell's election did not surprise him and that Tammany could not win unless Murphy, Croker expressed the hope that some good men would get in and "drive all them grafter contractors out."

The political situation in New York has caused a great stir in local political circles.

Minister's Damn Is Cause of His Loss of Pulpit; Repeats It

New York, Feb. 14.—"I never said 'I'm damned, or 'You're damned,' to the senior warden of my church," explained the Rev. Charles H. Quinn, pastor of the Reformed Episcopal church, Greenpoint, when asked to give his version of an impromptu dancing party held in the lecture room of the church, which caused uproar in the congregation and the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Quinn.

"I did use the word 'damned,'" the pastor continued, "to senior warden MacEwen, when, after I let the young people dance following a supper in the lecture room one night last January, the senior warden called me down for giving permission to the dancers. I simply said to Mr. MacEwen that as far as I could see there are things a damned sight worse than dancing. And when I see people about me trying to put our church down and cut I think I am right."

"I used 'damned' in the past tense, which the dictionary tells you means condemned, detestable. Therefore I didn't use 'damned' as a curse word. There was no profanity. But in view of the feeling that has sprung up against me here, I think I had better resign the pastorate on account of the general situation."

Next Pope May Not Be Italian; College of Cardinals Differs

Rome, Italy, Feb. 14.—The possibility that at the next conclave a foreigner will be elected to succeed Pius X. has never been more freely discussed than it is at present. This is probably due to the fact that out of the 46 cardinals at present composing the sacred college are foreigners, and that therefore the proportion of Italian cardinals only exceeds that of foreigners by two.

The death of cardinal Rampolla, on the other hand, is considered as likely to influence the election of the future pope, as many foreign cardinals would have voted in his favor while now there is no prominent figure on which the votes of the foreigners could be accumulated.

It is said that the pope will shortly hold another consistory and increase the number of Italian cardinals to such an extent as to render the election of a foreigner as pope unlikely.

The pope created 14 new cardinals, thus bringing up the number of cardinals to 70 the maximum or plebeian of the sacred college, assuming that 19 of the new cardinals will be Italians, the sacred college will consist of 51 Italians and 19 foreigners, so that the difference between Italians and foreigners will be eight. If the Italians voted unitedly in favor of one candidate his election will not be possible unless at least nine foreign cardinals voted for the same candidate, thus contributing to give him two-thirds of all the votes.

Statues Are Built on Contract; the Sculptors Get Starvation Pay

New York, Feb. 14.—"Nearly 40 percent of all the monuments and statues in the United States, including those in Statuary hall, Washington, were not made by those whose names they bear," said Gutson Berglund, the sculptor. "The artists who made them are probably starving, and some of them have been forced to let their brain children bear the names of foster parents."

This statement was made in an address on art before the Woman's Political Union in the Berkeley theater. The sculptor said in part: "One must know how to do a certain thing, one must get in the circle to get recognition. Genius knocks on the door and gets no answer but its own echo."

"I received a letter recently from a friend of mine in Washington asking me if I had submitted sketches for a certain monument the government is to have built. I replied I had not been asked to, but I added that I had received a letter from a tombstone maker asking me my price upon certain work of a similar kind."

"That is how America gets her art. Contracting firms get the contract and the honor. Starving artists do the work. The government pays for sculpturing thousands of dollars of which the sculptor gets a hundred or so."

Dog's Jaw Broken; Can't Chew Rabbits, So He Drowns Them

WILLOWS, Calif., Feb. 14.—Charles H. Glenn, a millionaire rancher, tells this story about his dog. The dog a year ago was shot and its under jaw was broken. The jaw grew together but remained weak, and the dog is afraid to put a severe strain upon it.

The dog is wonderfully fleet of foot. Of late it has amused itself by catching jackrabbits, which could not run all over the county because of high water.

City Hall Full of Whisky; a Drunk For Every Person in Town

MAISON, Ga., Feb. 14.—As a result of chief of police Riley's recent raids on saloons there are now 102 barrels of whisky stored in the city hall, each containing an average of 40 gallons. If Macon could derive the benefit from the sale of this liquor more than $10,000 could be realized, but the whole batch is to be poured into the sewer.

If the whisky now at the city hall should be divided equally among the inhabitants there would be about a third of a quart for every inhabitant in the city, enough to get the whole town drunk for one day at least.

White Star Line Must Pay Victims

Those on Titanic Can Recover; Company Is Liable For Their Deaths.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 14.—The White Star company lost its appeal against the decision of liability for damages arising out of the disaster to the steamship Titanic on April 14, 1912. Lord Justice Sir Roland Vaughan Williams, in reading the opinion, said he thought the danger to the Titanic was neither unforeseen nor unforeseeable, and that practice did not justify a vessel in maintaining her course and speed when the warnings of danger ahead were such as the Titanic received.

Showing The New Spring Fashions

Beginning Monday at the "Popular" an Exclusive Display of Dignified Elegance!

AN EARLY showing in fashionable styles for spring 1914 in women's and misses' apparel, indicating by distinctive models from leading Paris and American designers the trend of smart fashions. These authoritative modes show the favorite fabrics and colors for the approaching season, suggestive of wide latitude of styles and making the individuality expressed all the more pronounced and charming. Materials are the most wanted for spring apparel

The Correct Styles in Spring Footwear

THE coming season offers the smartest and latest styles of footwear ever shown in the history of modern shoe making. There will be many novelties featured in dress footwear. Fancy buckle ornaments will be a strong feature in the new pumps. The heels will be of the Louis Cuban, Louis XIV, French, Spanish and the Kidney styles. The Cuban heel will be favored for street wear. Pumps will be the correct style for afternoon and evening wear, the Colonial Pump leading in favor. The Gaby, Maxie and Plain Pump with fancy buckles will also be worn. Among the novelties one will find the Tango Tie, Patent leather and dull kid will be best with suede and satin a close second. The buckles will be cut steel, rhinestone, jet and to match in leather and fabric. The button oxford and plain pump will be the popular style for walking. For the younger set, low heel footwear will again be the leading fashion. Pumps in many different styles and patterns—the Baby Doll, Mary Jane, Bulgarian and Regulation, in all leathers, patent leading, gummetal next. Tan footwear will be the street shoe for the young miss.

Supremacy in Spring Millinery

FOR Spring 1914, the "Popular" Millinery will surpass all previous efforts in setting forth the styles and best concepts of leading fashion centers. Our Millinery buyer, now in New York, is gathering the latest style tendencies and selecting our spring lines. Careful study and mature judgment is being exercised in order that our customers may come again this season and get the "right style," no matter how they choose. The shapes this season are small and include eccentric Turbans, high at the back, short-fronted shapes with high daring sides, odd Tricornes and oblong Sailors. Milan and Hemp in combination with fabric will be smart. The trimmings lean to ribbons mostly, very small flowers and clipped ostrich pompons. You'll find most of the new ideas on display in our Millinery Salons now.

Fash'nable Corsetry A "Popular" Feature

FASHIONABLE corseting is a question of the proper choosing—getting the models that best accentuate the lines of your figure; then the fitting by an expert corsetiere—such as our Madame Tinch. The natural, easy figure now demanded by fashion is gained by the most careful consideration in supporting every bit of flesh in comfortable, snug encasing. Your health and comfort are too important to experiment with in exaggerated corsets. We can assure you of perfect lines and delightful comfort if you but trust the matter to our Madame Tinch, who has given years of study and practical experience to fitting. Full stock of Gossard Lace Front, Madama Lynn, Madama Mariette, La Vida, American Lady, Thompson's Glove Fitting, Warner's Rust Proof, Smart Set and Regia Corsets at a suitable price for every purse.
