Mrs. G. Roe entertained the members of the Altar guild of St. Patrick's church Friday afternoon at her home on East Boulevard. The afternoon was spent in sewing upon various articles for the church. Mrs. C. R. Kelly, the president, gave a review of the work of the guild for the past year and the work that should be done next year. Miss Florence LeBaron presented the secretary's report and Mrs. W. G. Roe, the treasurer, gave her report. The quilt donated to the society some time ago by Mrs. J. Anderson, was won by Mrs. W. A. Walsh, who is now in Porto Rico. After the sewing and reports a salad course was served. The evening was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames M. C. Winton, Frank Tobin, J. L. Ericson, John Donahue and Tim Sullivan, and Miss Margaret Walsh and Miss Florence LeBaron. The quilt will be discontinued during the summer months.

School Notes.

"The Heart of the World," a masque of the mythology of the world, will be the commencement play of the El Paso School for Girls this year. The play will be given on the evening of May 21, out of doors on the school grounds. The commencement plays of this school are always anticipated with great interest. The masque to be given this year is by Miss Esther Bates. It portrays the story of a child named "Doodna," meaning God Given, who is destined to be a great world leader. The heart of the world, in seeking the spirit of poetry to the world of myths, where she is shown in a dream the great myths of the world. These are divided into three groups. In the Greek myths, which portray the spirit of beauty, the dryads and naiads of the woods and waters and the earth and goddesses of the earth, sky and air come with their stories. The Norse legends of power and passion bring the trolls, the gnomes and the German "Ardvari," chief of the Norse myth characters. In the Gaelic myths the face and eyes with the sun and moon and discover the secret of the world may only be found in the love of a mortal. Through the masque, a number of dances will be introduced. The presentation of a drama to the graduates of this year's school, Miss F. Arietta Courchens, will occur at the close of the play.

In Mrs. Hurley's class the girls were: Louise Jones, Marie Grider, Esther Meredith, Lela Amouet, Eddie Mae Duty, Elvira Esquivel, Nona Dell Waldron, Mary Nichols and Grace Gibson.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Nure Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother by successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the disease is war. Don't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Parties.

Miss Lillian Gibbs, of Government Hill, last evening gave a party for a number of her friends. The entertainment consisted of music, dancing and lunch. Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Bradley rendered piano numbers. Miss Charlotte Stuckey, Miss Louise Leppelend, Kobitz, Blanche Bradley, Gertrude Barnett, Gene Bradley, Harry Riddle, Russell, Charlotte Martin, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Bradley, Messrs. Harry Cantillon, Martin Amador, Floyd Lloyd, Howard, Frank Cantillon, Kobitz.

Miss Marie Burkhalter was the guest of honor at a delightful surprise party given in honor of her 11th birthday anniversary, by her mother, Mrs. U. L. Avois, Friday afternoon at her home on Mesa avenue. Pink and white sweet peas and ferns attractively decorated the room. The afternoon was spent in playing games of various kinds. Refreshments were enjoyed. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Stanton and Mrs. E. B. Baker. The dining table was decorated with a prettily frosted birthday cake, on which were pink candles in pink rosette holders. The guests were: Mrs. Edna Ferguson, Sue Bettie Ferguson, Gladys Ray, Beulah Bowman, Louise Bowman, Mary Ruth Dancy, Margaret Bowman, Alice Van Eaton, Jane Smith, Edna Knight, Nell Carter, Oliver Olson and Jimmie Stanton. The guest of honor received many attractive presents.

A unique party was given by the members of the alphabetical division of the First Christian church Friday night in the church parlors. It was a Mother Goose party and the committee in charge and a number of the guests composed the Mother Goose rhyme. Mrs. Will T. Owen sang the nursery rhymes during the evening. Mrs. Adine T. Owen played her accompaniment. An illustration of the party were the illustrations drawn on the black board by each guest, to illustrate a Mother Goose rhyme. The other guests had to guess the title and Mrs. Fred Malberry won the prize for guessing the greatest number. The rooms were attractively decorated with quantities of wild flowers. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge which were: Mesdames M. C. Winton, J. L. Ericson, J. B. Homan, A. W. Hadley, J. W. Johnson, Mrs. E. Kerr. About 120 people attended the party.

A delightful May festival was given by the young women's sodality of the Catholic church of the Immaculate Conception Thursday night on the grounds of the Catholic gymnasium at Arizona and Irving streets. Strands of electric lights were strung about the grounds in a very effective way. An orchestra played continuously during the evening. There were decorated booths about where flowers and candy were sold. Miss Lucille Maloney was in charge of the flower booth. Miss Ruth Phillips and Miss Phyllis Homan were at the candy booth. The committee in charge of the festival was composed of Misses Edith Mainway, Isabelle Kelly and Alice Buckley. The principal feature of the festival was the May pole dance, given by the pupils of St. Joseph's academy and St. Mary's parochial school. The top of the pole was decorated with electric light bulbs and the pole was twined with flowers. The May pole dancers were dressed in white dresses with their hair ribbons and sashes of colors to correspond with the streamers of the May pole. The girls from St. Mary's academy were Dorothy Galles, Rebecca Price, Mente Malchuk, Catherine Bussing, Lillian Mae Miller, Margaret Florence, Catherine Dunn, Frances Coby, Madeline Lyons, Marie Leitch, Paul, Sadie Martin, Lydia Carson and Pearl Briest. From the St. Joseph's academy were: Pauline Lyons, Geraldine Adams, Elizabeth Adams, Margaret Smith, Harriett Fitzpatrick, Agnes Morgan, Anne McLaughlin, Margaret Byers, Anne Kelly and Charles Kelly. Miss Mary E. Krieger gave a graceful solo aesthetic dance. Miss Frances Keefe, of Denver, played a cornet solo. During the evening dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium. About 500 people attended the party.
