

GIVE $1000 TO N. M. BUILDING

Chamber of Commerce Adds to $2000 Already Given for San Diego Exhibit.

El Paso will maintain her exhibit at the San Diego exposition, in the New Mexico building, for another year. A joint conference Saturday afternoon between the committee of Las Cruces citizens headed by H. B. Link, and members of the El Paso Water Users' association, voted the sum of $1000 each from the Elephant Butte and the local water users' organizations, for the purpose of continuing the El Paso layout.

$1000 Given. The El Paso chamber of commerce has also agreed to contribute $1000 for the maintenance of the local exhibit in the New Mexico building, making a total of $2000 to keep the show going another 12 months.

Saturday afternoon also saw $125 voted from the treasurers of both the El Paso and Elephant Butte Water Users' associations for the moving picture play of El Paso and the Mesilla valley, being filmed by L. C. Burgess.

Burgess Leaves. Richard P. Burgess left El Paso for Washington Saturday as a member of the delegation of three instructed to work in the capital for a reduction in the cost of the Electric Bill proposed by the El Paso organization. Felix Martinez and J. A. Happer will later join attorney Burgess.

These at the funeral Saturday included Felix Martinez, Z. T. White, J. A. Smith, H. B. Stevens and J. J. Smith, the El Paso organization, and H. B. Link, F. J. Blaney and J. F. Reinberg, of Las Cruces.

DEEP SEWER TO CONNECT NEW BUSINESS BUILDINGS

A new link in the deep sewer was started Saturday. The new sewer will extend from Texas and Stanton street, up Stanton to Mills and from down Mills to Mesa avenue. This will cost $5000 and will provide service for the new postoffice building, the new Lumber building, the proposed Roberts-Banner building, the Commercial National bank and the old Roberts-Banner building.

GENSUS TAKING STARTS MONDAY

Classifications of Citizens to Be on Blood Lines; Closes Saturday.

Census enumerators are now at work taking the special federal census of El Paso, at the request and expense of the chamber of commerce and the city.

The census enumerators, 43 in number, started to work Monday morning with their formidable looking books, after they had been given the oath required of all government employees. The city was divided into districts by Simmons L. Ellsworth, special census enumerator, who is here from Washington to supervise the census taking.

Along Blood Lines. The local census, according to Mr. Ellsworth, is to be made along blood lines. The listings in the census books will be made by race. The listings will be done upon the statements of the persons listed, being classified as Americans, Mexicans, Germans, etc., according to their parentage or antecedents. These listings will be forwarded to the census bureau in Washington. It is not known what classification will be made of the lists there. It is expected to have the census taking completed Saturday.

Mr. Ellsworth will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Lions in Hotel Sheldon Tuesday. Mr. Ellsworth will talk on the importance of the census.

TWO ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF CUTTING THROUGH FUNERAL

Two arrests of automobile drivers on charges of cutting through funeral processions were made Sunday morning by the police. They were Jesus Alvarez and D. Pratz. Both men were placed under bonds of $25 each to guarantee their appearance in corporation court.

The arrests were made following the filing of written complaints at the police station, signed by prominent El Pasoans, charging the two men with driving through funeral processions on Alameda avenue Sunday morning.

$1,000,000 IN PACKING CASES

Cattlemen to Fight Packing Trust; Will Establish One in El Paso.

A string of cattlemen's packing houses, to cost a total of $10,000,000, will be considered at the American National Livestock convention next week. The committee named by the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas will meet with the legislative committee of the American National association during the convention next week and the plan for establishing a string of packing houses, by cattlemen and to be controlled by them in an effort to fight the packing trust, will be discussed in detail and may be given general discussion on the floor of the convention.

Joint Meeting. The committee from the Texas association includes J. D. Jackson, of Abilene, who is president of the association; John Landerger, of Amarillo; Ed C. Lasater, of Palfurrias; and Ike T. Proctor, of San Antonio. The committee will meet at the same time the convention is in progress and it is expected that definite action will be taken. If the plan of a cooperative string of packing houses is carried out, it will be sure to get one of them as this is conceded by cattlemen to be the logical location for a great packing plant.

Anyone Can Execute Bonds. Carranza's telegram today to his embassy were followed.

"The government, under my direction has adopted every necessary measure to insure the prosecution of an energetic campaign for the capture of the party of Villista bandits and to continue the same to its complete accomplishment. I have asked Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commander of the Constitutional troops in the neighborhood of the assassinations, to obtain for me the names of the assassins so that a warrant may be issued placing them outside the pale of the law. When this is done any citizen or citizens of the republic will have the right to arrest the guilty parties without other warrant and to execute them without formality.

Similar decrees were issued and executed effectively in the cases of assaults and dynamiting of trains in another section of the republic within the year, notably when a passenger train was dynamited and its passengers assaulted near Apatzaco and again near Jalapa. These decrees are made effective because, in the opinion of the government, those who perpetrate such assassinations of human beings, be they victims native Mexicans or foreigners, must be considered in exactly the same category as those who dynamite the railway traffic. I sincerely deplore the unpardonable crime at Santa Ysabel."

Mayor Arrests Vagrant WHO TRIES TO ROB HOME

Mayor Tom Lea is a regular policeman. If you don't believe it he will show you his star.

Saturday night at 7:40 the mayor was called to his door at 1216 East Nevada street. A man told him a hard luck story and said he was from Ohio. The mayor answered that he was from Missouri himself and he would have to be shown.

"I did not believe him and I stepped in the door and told Mrs. Lea to call the 'hoodlum' warden. The man overheard me and ran. I went after him with my pistol and fired into the air. I hit the air all right and the man hid in a vacant lot. He was caught by a special officer, hit him on the hand and got away a second time. He was then caught and docketed at the police station as a vagrant. His name is Tom Moore."

The mayor says another man was at the rear door and escaped.

Region Hard to Safeguard. "He appeals to the secretary of state and to the public of the United States to consider the wide strip of the central railway, the greatest difficulty of guarding the entire distance, and the comparatively easy task of destroying a train or attacking a small place. He says that nobody can count more than such an atrocity or be more concerned about it, but that protection is relative and that even in the best regulated states outbreaks of disorders and lawlessness may cause destruction of property and loss of life.

Carranza Looks to Trevino. "He says he is expecting full reports from Gen. Trevino and that all efforts will be made to protect Americans and other foreigners who may be in the district. His belief is the massacre was made premeditatedly."

Assurances that "condign punishment" is being sought for the murderers already had been given by state department through Mr. Arredondo. Whether a formal note from Carranza is to follow has not been revealed.

Favors Aerial Mail Routes. New York, Jan. 17.—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, it is announced, has appealed to the Aero Club of America to establish a permanent establishment of aerial mail routes wherever possible throughout the United States. He wishes that step would bring into daily use large numbers of airplanes which would form a valuable reserve of trained aviators in case of war. At the next meeting of the governors of the Aero club will consider plans for establishing the first airplane mail routes.

It isn't always safe to judge newspapers, editors and women by their wrappers.—Prof. Slump.

ON his way to the Boo and Buggy penitentiary factory, Jacques Buggerly stopped in at the ladies' tailoring establishment of Simon Weeve, his old friend and schoolmate.

"My wife will come in for a new suit today," he told Simon Weeve. "At last I've persuaded her that her 1905 burlesk suit is no longer fit to be seen in public. You know how my wife is, Simon. Although we are rich today, she can't overcome the habits she contracted when we were poor and struggling. So I know she won't buy anything but the best. I'll give you $50 for the suit, and you'll give me a bill for the balance."

Late that afternoon Prunella Buggerly fluttered into her husband's office in a green chesecloth suit worth at least $250.

"What do you think, Jacques?" she cried. "I worked the stroke of economy! I made Mr. Weeve sell me a suit for $4 that he wanted $450 for, and half an hour later when Mrs. Twiggly saw it on me and learned the price, she offered me $11. And I went right into Levy & Deevy's and bought this for $1.98 when they wanted to Mrs. Twiggly's house and changed! What would you do without me, deary? But her husband had slipped into the waste paper basket."

ARIZONANS CARRY FIGHT FOR LIQUOR TO HIGH COURT

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 17.—Whether liquor can be introduced into Arizona for personal use is a question that is now squarely up to the supreme court. The court heard extensive arguments in the case of W. J. Sturgeon, of Yuma, and William Stansbury, of Cochise county, convicted in the lower courts of introducing liquor into the state in violation of the prohibition amendment. Attorney general Wiley Jones and his two assistants represented the state while an imposing array of counsel appeared for the appellants. Many direct questions were asked the attorneys by the justices.

NEWS NOTES from MONTICLAIM

A PIRATE ship of the good old days that would carry a desperate crew of not less than 50, and a transatlantic passenger vessel of the same period—Louis XV.—were required by director Cabane for his Fine Arts production of "The Pirate," which is to be Lillian Gish's first costume starring vehicle. Accordingly authentic models were secured and the vessels are being built. The pirate ship is a careful reproduction of an early French 14-gun corvette of 800 tons displacement. A gallant sea battle is indicated.

It features the brilliant and widely known as screen stars, will appear in "Waves of Society." Miss Terria is an English actress of striking beauty and peculiar dramatic ability. Adrian Jacobi is equally talented and the drama in which they are scheduled for appearance together is characterized as one of the most intensely realistic picture dramas ever produced. As the title indicates, "Waves of Society" is a sociological photodrama, including in its fascinating plot a study of the human powers who depend for their very existence on their ability to prey upon society.

WILLIAM FOX IS A FRIEND OF THE PRESS. William Fox is throwing all of the extensive resources of his Fox Film Corporation behind a movement destined to be of great financial value to the daily newspapers of America. It is somewhat of an oddity in these days of selfish personal exploitation and press agency to note that the Fox campaign is not linked to the slightest way with his own private interests, or shaped in any way to be personally beneficial. It is, in fact, done to bring a closer feeling of friendship between all daily newspapers and the film manufacturers as a whole.

Mr. Fox is now appealing to the thousands of American exhibitors to advertise their home town newspapers freely, generously and without pay. For weeks his bulletin, issued to exhibitors, has been emphasizing the methods by which the exhibitor can team with the daily newspapers.
