

DEMOCRATS HAVE NOT MEETING; SPEAKERS HISSED AND CHEERED

Miss Winkler's Name Placed on Ticket for County School Superintendent; Executive Committee Accused of Being "Nine Bosses"; Vowell Leads Opposition; Wyatt Offers to Resign; Walker Defeated.

In a court room badly illuminated and in an atmosphere that approached the intensity of a county election in the bygone western days, the El Paso County and City Democratic club met in the 13th district court Tuesday evening, exercised its privilege of acting upon the recommendation of the executive committee and changed the slate somewhat from the way in which it read after the last general meeting of the club on Jan. 14.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain refined cocoon oil, which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Ascribed Long Life to Pickles. Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Eliza D. Lathrop, aged 102 years, died in this city Tuesday. In an interview conducted before that committee, (it was at this juncture that a number of the leading members of the club hissed Mr. Wyatt.)

"You can't make me quit by a few hisses. I was told in the committee meeting and I was told by a gentleman well known to you that if I felt as I did about the recommendation then I should resign. I offered my resignation to the committee and it still holds if they feel I ought to do it in. If I had more I wonder how much more I might have discovered that Miss Winkler stands respected and loved throughout the county."

Letters From Parsons. The speaker then opened his portfolio and took out a file of letters and telegrams that he and Mr. Ware and Miss Winkler had received from all parts of the country in relation to the action of the committee in selecting another for her place and of all the communications not one reflected upon the work and personality of the superintendent.

Opposition Loses Strength. Unabated interest was aroused by the initial opposition led by the Vowell, but that opposition lost in strength as the meeting progressed and the element of harmony began to steal upon the minds of the club members recommended by the executive committee were read.

When the nomination of district attorney was called and the name of W. T. Mosley was called and by the name of W. T. Mosley offered the name of P. H. Marcum.

Mr. Marcum stepped out and withdrew his nomination. He said he had been an aspirant for the district attorney post for a number of years, but that he felt Mr. Clark was older in judicial experience and that as a junior member of the profession of law he surrendered his ambitions to that of his senior friend. In concluding his remarks, Marcum presented the name of Leigh Clark, and the name was voted upon by acclamation.

Gardner for Judge. The next subject of slight disaffection was when Paul D. Thomas had his name read for county judge. It was not a strong opposition but one that hit the attention for a few moments. J. E. Purser was offered as a candidate for nomination by P. E. Gardner. Put to a test vote the voices for Purser were as much in excess of those for Gardner, that the vote was within a very few of being unanimous.

Goggin Praised Fryer. Judge J. M. Goggin, took it upon himself to present the name of W. H. Fryer for county attorney. Judge Goggin paid a tribute to Mr. Fryer's excellence as a man, his impartiality as a public servant. He said that Fryer had been one of the few to make a personal sacrifice for a cause, and now a worthy cause, four years ago when he ran for the post of county attorney and that out of that race, coupled with that of a few others, the germ of the present success of the club was and is to be found. The name was received with applause and by acclamation Fryer was designated as the club's choice.

Orndorff Cheered. Almost as much applause greeted the name of Seth R. Orndorff for sheriff. J. A. Morris rose to place in nomination the name of W. J. Trench. A test vote was taken and an overwhelming cascade of voices sounded for Orndorff.

W. D. Groat's nomination for county clerk was received with an outburst of applause that attested to his popularity with the members of the club; and the same honor was bestowed upon H. T. Richey as tax collector.

McKinney—McKinney. The district clerkship was a bone of contention. The executive committee had recommended the name of C. T. Carson. The will of the club after the name of C. M. McKinney had been presented was "McKinney—McKinney." H. M. Dudley spoke for Carson and his efficiency for the post; but the demand for McKinney was insistent. While the matter was being debated Carson arose and withdrew in favor of McKinney. McKinney's name was then placed in nomination and he was chosen by acclamation.

Pledge Support. Before the club adjourned the members pledged themselves to support the candidates and two resolutions were passed, one endorsing the candidacy of L. A. Polx as justice of the peace for the district at Yelton; and another program of president Wilson for military preparedness. The chosen candidates will meet with the executive committee

FIREFIGHTERS REPORTED IN ECUADOR RIOTING SONG RECITALS FOR BENEFIT OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY

Panama, Jan. 19.—That 50 people were killed and 150 wounded in a riot in Guayaquil, which attended the national election when Alfredo Baquerizo Moreno was elected president of Ecuador, is stated by arrivals here. Serious trouble throughout the country followed the election of Moreno.

Wilmot Goodman, baritone, assisted by Maurice Warner, violinist, and Lee Crociani, pianist, will give two song recitals at the Christian church, January 24 and 25, for the benefit of the El Paso Humane Society. This must give recitals in El Paso last year and created much highly favorable comment.

Eagles Are on Trial. Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 19.—The trial of four officers and practically the entire membership of the Cincinnati Order of Eagles, who are charged with conduct unbecoming Eagles, was begun here Tuesday night by a trial of the grand officers of the Eagles. The charges were preferred by the president of the Eagles following a decision of the local members during an annual reunion.

Bailey to Defend Slaughterer. Pueblo, Colo., Jan. 18.—Former United States senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, is expected to come to Pueblo this week to aid in the defense of W. R. Slaughter, former president of the district court here Friday. Mr. Bailey will be assisted in the defense by attorneys William H. Atwell, of Dallas, and attorney George C. Manley, of Denver.

Several interesting wide lights occurred during the night session. One was the accusation by Charles L. Vowell that the executive committee of one of the clubs had elected a member of the club as a family affair. "In making the ticket," said Vowell, "the members of the executive committee did not browse very far from home. On that ticket are 10 officeholders; one of the candidates is an executive committee member; another is the son of an executive committee member; another is partner to the mayor of El Paso; and two are members of the police department."

Will D. Mosley went on record as saying that the reason "Greet and Richey got places on the ticket was because they had friends on the executive committee, pulling for them. They know, too, that there is not a more unpopular man in El Paso with the labor people than is George Walker. They chose Wab because he is a lesser of two evils."

By his strong appeal to the club mayor Tom Lea was able to win many over to deciding on the ticket at once instead of postponing the matter for several days. He said that if he had wanted to play "ring" politics he could have looked off the heads of many men now in the city service who are making war on the executive committee, but that was not his idea of what a mayor should do.

"I believe that the men under me are entitled to their views and opinions and I want to see them have an opportunity to express those views and opinions," he said. "A. J. Hall is a member of the club and has been your secretary. Paul Thomas is not a policeman or in the police department, but a police judge. Capt. Greet is the only one that has been connected with the police department. I believe that you came here tonight for the purpose of selecting a ticket and I believe that you are eminently capable of doing it." The mayor's diagnosis of the situation was correct and the club members departed for their homes indulging in a love feast, as president W. B. Ware put it.

Mr. Ware adopted the principle of "he rules best who rules least" in presiding at the meeting and the respect with which his decisions were received indicated that he has the confidence of the club.

"I am feeling mighty happy this morning—mighty happy," said mayor Lea Wednesday morning. "Last night's meeting convinced me that the members of the County and City Democratic club have the good of the club at heart and that their object is the good of the club and community and not personal gain. There was a spirit of harmony prevailing under the surface at that meeting which was good to see and, in spite of all the differences the members pledged themselves to support the ticket and showed themselves to be real men."
