Loss of Lives in Pacific Coast Storm Captures Attention

OTAY FLOOD SLEEPS 60 TO DEATH

Eight Drown Off San Francisco Coast When Vessel Aberdeen Is Wrecked.

ARIZONA RIVERS RISING RAPIDLY Montana Shivers In Worst Storm of 20 Years; Tem- perature 54 Below.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 28.—The general storm that has raged over the Pacific coast since early Thursday has claimed a toll of not less than 60 lives and caused property damage amounting to millions of dollars, according to reports thus far received.

It was feared that further loss of life might be reported when lines of communication with parts of the state now isolated are cleared.

The greatest loss of life occurred in the Otay valley, south of San Diego, when the lower Otay dam broke Thursday afternoon. Not less than 50 persons, according to figures reported by the coroner, lost their lives.

A ship wrecked; eight drown. The storm tossed waters of the Pacific claimed eight lives Friday, when the garbage carrier Aberdeen of Oakland, Calif., was wrecked off the San Francisco beach. No bodies have been recovered.

Flood water and high winds did much damage in various parts of the state. The oil districts in particular have suffered severely, hundreds of derricks being toppled over.

Snow is general. Snow fell generally throughout the northern part of the state. Telephone and telegraph communication throughout the state which was generally paralyzed by the storm, was gradually being restored.

The storm struck the northwestern states heavily, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana reporting cold and snow. Montana last night was shivering in what was termed the worst storm in 20 years, with the thermometer ranging from 20 to 24 degrees below zero. Railway traffic was at a standstill on account of the drifts and snow slides.

Arizona rivers rising. Flood conditions prevailing in Arizona, reports from Yuma being to the effect that the rivers above that point were swelling and that fears were entertained of a repetition of the flood of last week. Reports from Phoenix indicate that the Gila river was rising rapidly. Flood waters in the Colorado and Gila are expected to meet at the confluence at Yuma tomorrow morning.

Riverside Short of Water. Riverside, Calif., today faced a shortage of drinking water as a result of the washing out of the flood waters of the Santa Ana river, 400 feet of the water main, carrying the city's supply.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 28.—Relief parties in automobiles and a procession of motor trucks left here today for the stricken Otay valley, 15 miles to the south, where the bursting of the lower Otay dam late Thursday loosened 10,000,000 gallons of water upon the little streak of arable land between ridges and hills and drowned probably 60 persons, some of whom may have been borne out to sea.

The motor trucks carried provisions for the survivors in the Otay valley, and pontoons for fording swollen streams where bridges are out. The pace of the relief expedition, it was thought, would depend upon the slow vehicles. All communication with the valley and the little town of Otay at its northern extremity was cut off.

25 Ranch Houses Swept Away. Persons familiar with the country estimated that the greatest loss of life and damage to property occurred close to the dam.

Sweeping down the valley, the great flood water carried people, livestock and valuable farm property to destruction. Scores of residents were missing. Houses on 25 ranches were swept away.

The first news of the disaster reached here late Friday. There was no communication with the district since the disaster occurred, as all wires were down and roads impassable. Rescuers were unable to reach the scene of the disaster Friday night, as all bridges were washed out and swollen streams rendered treacherous. It was impossible to launch boats.

Several bodies have been seen floating in the flood waters, according to reports received here.

OTAY FLOOD SLEEPS 60 TO DEATH

Colorado and Gila Rivers, Swollen Anew, Threaten the Yuma Valley.

Yuma, Ariz., Jan. 28.—The Colorado and Gila rivers, swollen by recent rains, continued to rise last night and today in anticipation of floods of greater magnitude than those of a week ago, inhabitants of the low-lying river districts are fleeing to higher ground, taking with them all livestock and movable property.

The Colorado rose two feet last night at Yuma and at Gila Bend, 130 miles northeast of here. The Gila was reported two feet higher than at any previous time.

The Southern Pacific railroad today began the construction of a spur on the government levee that gave way last week, preparatory to further repairs. The direction of United States reclamation officials, large forces of men are engaged in further repairs to the Yuma irrigation system in the delta, preventing the 16,000 acre tract from again being inundated.

Residents of the Imperial valley district likewise are making every effort to strengthen their levees to withstand what is expected to be the worst flood in the history of the section.

A further rise of the Colorado river late today caused residents of this city to hasten efforts to remove property from the lower districts. The first National Bank began moving its effects. Every available team in the city was used in moving goods from stores.

Les in the vicinity were facing a food famine.

Given Way Under Pressure. Unable longer to withstand the terrific weight of the water, the dam gave way, releasing a flood of water. The upper part of the dam, which provides San Diego with its water and formed the bulkhead for one of the largest reservoirs in the state.

The dam was started in 1877 and completed in 1882. It was a structure of the rock-filled type with steel core, and the reservoir had an actual capacity of 11,500,000 gallons. The elevation of the top of the dam was 476 feet and the outlet had an elevation of 460 feet. The top of the dam was 121 feet above the bed of the river.

The dam was when filled, covered an area of 1000 acres. The area of the adjacent watershed was about 80 square miles.

According to a report made in 1914, the dam was valued at $115,720 and the reservoir at $1,145,454.

Population Threatened Several Thousand. The population of the entire Otay valley probably totals several thousand. The upper part of the valley, which is a quarter of a mile wide, while the lower valley broadens out where it reaches down to the Mexican border.

The Otay valley is south of San Diego, near the Mexican border.

Engineers to Study Wrecked Dam. It was reported that the Colorado river officials joined the rescue parties which hastened today to the site of the lower Otay dam, 15 miles southeast of here.

An investigation of engineering methods will be made, it was stated, and will be of particular interest in this case because the lower dam was of unusual construction. The dam, 130 feet high, was of loose rock type, with concrete sidewalks. In the center was a masonry structure. In fact, was included a core of vertical steel, the object being to make a watertight dam without building a solid, concrete one.

Colorado Avalanches Are Blocking Railroad Lines. Durango, Colo., Jan. 28.—With the exception of a branch line to Farmington, N. M., all railroad lines in southern Colorado were blocked today by snow slides. Numerous avalanches also caused almost complete suspension of mining operations. Ranchmen on snow shoes were endeavoring to carry feed to snowed-in livestock. Property damage from slides has been considerable but there was no known loss of life early today.

Third Rainstorm is Sweeping Down Coast. Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 28.—A third rainstorm within two weeks was sweeping down the Pacific coast today, threatening further damage and suffering to residents of flooded districts in southern California. A steady rain began falling here today.

FLOOD RANGER BELEIVED PAST ASSASSIN

Arizona Valleys Thought to Have Escaped Second Serious Flood.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 28.—There is little chance of further damage from the present high water, though Phoenix still is cut off from the outside world and no trains are running. Water flowing over the spillway at Roosevelt dam was 11.8 feet at 2 o'clock this morning, a slight drop since midnight. The Verde is falling. The Salt river at Phoenix is expected to continue to rise this afternoon and then begin dropping.

Four Bridges Washed Out. Four bridges are washed out on the auto park line near Phoenix. Temporary repairs are being made so that railroad communication with Los Angeles and Ash Fork may be established tonight. Cave Creek bridge through the Arizona canal and flooded hundreds of acres of farm lands northwest of Phoenix. Little damage was done.

Messages from Roosevelt dam said four inches of rain had fallen and that the gates of the dam had been opened to relieve pressure from the reservoir's vast accumulations.

Backeye, Arlington, Welton and other towns along the Gila river below its junction with the Salt river were the points toward which the flood warnings of the weather bureau here were especially directed.

Verdict Against Dallas Co. Ends Texas Brewery Suits. Sulphur Springs, Tex., Jan. 28.—An agreed judgment late Friday against the Dallas Brewery company approved by Judge William Pierson, ended the last of the seven anti-trust suits of the state of Texas against as many brewing companies.

This action was taken after Judge Pierson had approved the compromise judgment filed last Monday by which the six other defendant companies agreed to pay the $275,000 in penalties, forfeit their charters, accept an injunction restraining them from future violations of the anti-trust and political contribution laws and bound themselves to pay the court costs and a percentage of the costs of the attorney-general's investigations.

The Dallas brewery had been ordered to pay for a jury trial but this was withdrawn and the agreed judgment approved, whereby the allegations from nature of the suits were dropped.

EL PASO'S NAMED TO HELP THE NAVY LEAGUE'S CAMPAIGN. Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—E. V. Berrien and Robert H. Fletcher, of El Paso, have been appointed to the membership committee of the Navy League of the United States to help represent that organization in this district in all parts of the country in behalf of adequate preparedness against invasion and disaster.

The Navy league holds that this country's best defense lies in the 3000 or more miles of water which separate it from the nearest of its powerful neighbors. Should war ever be forced upon this country, the Navy league holds, its battles ought not to be fought by armies on American soil, but by trained fighting men in ships, on the ocean, where destruction of life and property will be kept to a minimum and the savage business of killing kept as far as possible from America's home and shores.

SILENCER MAY HAVE BEEN USED. Two Are Unaware of Being Wounded Until They Fall in the Street.

LEAHY, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Detectives and police today searched for a mad gunman who Friday night shot four persons, injuring two so severely that their recovery is doubtful.

Three of the victims were shot through the back and one through the side with a revolver, which was either equipped with a silencing device or fired through the pocket of a heavy ulster the man wore.

Of the four persons shot, two heard muffled reports and the other two were not aware they had been injured until they fell in the street from weakness.

President Says Test of Preparedness Lies With Citizens, Not Congress. Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 28.—President Wilson, opening here today his six day program of speaking in the middle west on national preparedness, told a throng which packed Memorial hall that the test of national preparedness lay not with congress but with the men of the country and their answer to the call for voluntary action.

"And for one," the president said, "I believe both the young men and their employers will do their duty."

President Wilson's special train left Pittsburgh for Cleveland at 3:15 this afternoon.

"Draw Your Blinds" Is The Slogan in Alpine; Two Murders the Cause. Alpine, Texas, Jan. 28.—The citizens of Alpine are deeply disturbed by the murders of S. D. Beach and Fred Measday, each of whom was shot in the back through a lighted window, Beach while sitting at home playing dominoes, and Measday while churning in his milkhouse. The murders occurred within 12 days of each other. "Draw your blinds" has become the town slogan.

Although Howard Seay is under arrest in connection with the murder of Beach, many people are inclined to believe that both murders were committed by a supernatural who is still at large. The Alpine Mercantile company has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Fred Measday, and Jim F. Wilson is soliciting subscriptions toward a fund to employ detectives to solve the mystery. All the prominent citizens of the town have responded liberally.

COURT HASTENS MRS. MOHR CASE

Omits Usual Recess in Order to Expedite the Taking of Testimony.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 28.—In order to expedite the trial of Elizabeth F. Mohr, Cecil Brown and Henry Spellman for the murder of Dr. Franklin Mohr, the court omitted the usual Saturday recess and held a forenoon session today. Mrs. Mohr, whose cross examination was concluded Friday, came under re-direct examination today.

After having repeatedly asserted that she never intended to divorce her husband, that there was no sincere intention of Emily Burgess who was admitted in cross examination Friday that she had discussed with her attorneys last summer the question of divorcing Mohr, she has an absolute divorce on the basis of his turning over to her his Newport villa, known as the Montpelier, and $10,000 in cash.

Letters Show Jealousy. Letters were introduced, written by Mrs. Mohr to George W. Rooks, brother-in-law of Emily Burgess who was wounded in the fight when Dr. Mohr was killed, aroused much interest.

One indication Mrs. Mohr, at the time she wrote it, was angry with the girl, whom she accused of breaking up her home.

"If I got hold of her Saturday," this letter said, "I'd have killed her."

Recounts Love for Mohr. Mrs. Mohr testified she was a former declaration that she had nothing but undying love for her husband. She did not deny that she wanted Miss Burgess to know of her feelings.

"I have heard broken," she declared, "I wanted Miss Burgess to know how disappointed I was in her. But the doctor never would have married her."

BANK ROBBERS ARE CAUGHT AND $15,000 RECOVERED. Chicago, Ill., Jan. 28.—Five alleged robbers of the Western Park National bank have been arrested and all of the $15,000 stolen recovered.

Information that criminals had been imported at the instance of "certain politicians and policemen" to perpetrate a series of crimes for the purpose of discrediting the city administration, putting Nicholas Hunt, now chief of the detective bureau, under a cloud, and thus indirectly getting revenge on Macley Howe, state's attorney, for his unswerving prosecution of justice graft cases, was given the police in an alleged confession of Eddie Mack.

Mack, who is said to have come here from New York and to have been the leader of the gang, implicated four others, Harry Brandt, alias Goldberg; Charles Kramer, alias Burns, alias Byrnes, alias Big Polly, owner of a Westside saloon, and Alex Kraus, alias Harry Ferris, and Alex Brodie.

ASK GERMANS TO GO BACK HOME

Newspapers Appealing to Those in America to Return to Fatherland.

Berlin, Germany, Jan. 28.—Many newspapers in different parts of Germany, especially the organs of the Conservatives and Pan-Germans, are urging a general agitation for the return of the Germans now living in the United States and Canada to the fatherland.

The papers argue that the Germans in the United States, after the attack upon them by president Wilson, ex-president Roosevelt and the press of America, have to face bitter persecution in many ways to come and will never be treated as the equal of the Anglo-Americans, or even the Italians, Slavs, Jews and other elements of the great republic.

"The Grenzboten," a Pan-German and anti-Semitic weekly, says: "The papers of the great republic have learned during the 18 months of the war that the position they had gained for themselves in the economic and political life of the United States is ruined forever. Although they always proved themselves loyal and patriotic citizens of their adopted country, and hundreds and thousands of them fought under the flag of the union during the civil war they are now treated as outcasts, slandered and hounded like criminals. Even the friends of the republic in the United States, the pro-English element, does not hesitate to brand them as vile traitors and conspirators without a particle of proof."

"The hope that the American anti-mobility against the Germans will subside in the country, although they are as far as it is directed from London and Wall street, will keep up its campaign of defamation. The hatred against everything German will not only not diminish, but grow. Nationalistic politicians are already beginning to use it as a basis for their proposals to propose laws which practically would rob all citizens born on German soil of their rights."

The numerically small Anglo-Saxon element in America is to drive the Germans and other foreigners out of the country, especially to the level of the negroes in the south.

Other foreigners across the Atlantic face a dark future. Through no fault of their own, their position has become unbearable. They are today men without a country, although they are loyal to the Stars and Stripes and faithfully kept their oath. Their only hope lies in their return to Germany after the war. It is our duty to assist them to leave the country, which hates them for their drift and efficiency. Legislation should be made easy for them. We need them at home and will welcome them with open arms."

Lieutenant, Seven Yards From Trenches, Directs Fire, Destroys Them. Paris, France, Jan. 28.—The French in a section of the Alsace front decided to be rid of an annoying group of German machine guns by knocking the front line of the enemy to pieces. The opposing lines were so close that all the French front trenches were evacuated, except for one lieutenant, who was left behind with a telephone to direct the fire.

In a few minutes the lieutenant telephoned: "Shorten range 20 yards." The shortening was 20 yards more, then your shells will fall right in the German trenches.

"You are right," replied the battery officer. "You, of course, will now retire to the second line."

A few minutes later the French guns roared again. They continued to hit the trenches—and then the telephone rang again.

"The German trenches are destroyed," said the lieutenant. He was still in the front line trench. The nearest wrecked German trench, it was found by actual measurement, was seven yards from him.

GERMANY SPURS TURKS TO GREATER ACTIVITY. London, Eng., Jan. 28.—Germany is spurring the Turks to great industrial and agricultural activity; in fact, Germanizing Turkey, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail who has made a trip through the Balkans, owing to his direct completion. He says that he wore a fez and conversed freely in both German and French, he was able to pass unperceived.

In Asia Minor, he says, one meets everywhere German noncommissioned officers teaching the farmers, while German commercial men and army officers are to be met at every turn.

The correspondent says all Turkish and German sentiment favors an immediate advance on the Bagd canal.

KING NICHOLAS IS GONE, BUT SURRENDER IS VALID. Berlin, Germany, Jan. 28.—(Via wire- less to Sayville.)—The Lokai Anzeiger, commenting on the details of the surrender of Montenegro, states that the absence of king Nicholas at this time is of little weight since the constitution provides that the heir to the throne shall act in his absence, and in the absence of the heir the cabinet is in possession of governmental power.

The Montenegro delegates, Gen. Belic and Maj. Limpac, the newspaper says, signed the document on behalf of the king.
