

COLONIA DUBLAN RICH IN RELICS

Mummies Found, Always With Faces Toward the Setting Sun.

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Colonia Dublin, which has suddenly loomed large on the Mexican horizon, is the subject of today's war geography bulletin, issued by the National Geographic society from its Washington headquarters, which says: "The proposed new base camp for Gen. Pershing's punitive expeditionary force in Mexico is one of several prosperous Mormon settlements in the Casas Grandes valley, some 150 miles south of El Paso, on the Mexico North Western railroad. The colonists from Utah have made the land blossom to such an extent during their long sojourn in the numerous caves which dot the cliffs of the Casas Grandes river. Not only were these caves used as places of residence, but like the ancient Egyptians, the aborigines often set aside 'places for the dead.' Beneath the concrete floor of the latter scientific excavations revealed many mummies at a depth of a few feet. Among the peculiarities of these remains have been noted the fact that the bodies lie on their left sides, the knees drawn up and the faces turned toward the setting sun.

While no artificial means of embalming were employed, the bodies in some of these caves are in a remarkable state of preservation, thanks to the saltpetre in the dust. The hair of these people differed from that of most Indians, being slightly wavy and soft, resembling a peculiar characteristic of the Moqui tribe. "A much better grade of pottery is to be found in the ruins of the Casas Grandes valley; this is manufactured by any of the Mexican Indians of today. Much of the earthenware is elaborately decorated with representations of animals and human beings.

In the Haunt of the Grizzly. In the Sierra Madre, which look down upon Colonia Dublin from the west, is a region described as the greatest natural game preserve on the North American continent. Here the grizzly bear, the lion and the panther, the mountain lion and the jaguar, the most experienced hunter who starts out from Casas Grandes, accompanied by a mounted Mexican guide. This is the best season of the year for hunting bears, while mountain lions and jaguars can be stalked at all times. Mountain sheep, deer, antelope, pronghorns, wild turkey, timber wolves, red and silver foxes are to be found in great numbers in the hills.

During this, the dry season of the year, the American sentry will stand guard under skies so clear that at night the stars shine with a brilliancy sufficient to cast shadows. "Before the United States adopted the effective method of confining the Apache tribes to reservations, the cruel Apaches preyed constantly upon this region, their very name a plain Indian word signifying 'cutting'—the cutting of their warlike nature. Among themselves the Apaches are known as shik today (mo. of the woods).

A FEARLESS PHYSICIAN

Such a physician recently remarked: "The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over diseases of women is not because it is a diaphoretic, but because it is a palliative, but simply because it contains the very elements needed to tone up the feeble system and strengthen the depleted organism." Of course that is so, otherwise it would not succeed as it has.—Advertisement.

To Keep the Face Fresh, Clear, Youthful

More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than common, unperfumed soap. It absorbs the sordid or faded, warms out skin particles, cosmetics simply add artificialness to the complexion. That's the difference. By all means, acquire the mercurial was habit. It's a way to get as soon of the wax at the druggist's, get at night like cold cream and wash it off next morning. There's no detection here, the old skin coming off as gradually as new, soaps you're using anything. When in a week or two the skin is youthful, rosy, and clear, it's a sign of health. You want, or need, a make-up preparator after that. It must be apparent that this preparator must completely rid you of all skin blemishes, like freckles, pimples, blotches and blackheads. For obstinate wrinkles, a face bath made by dipping a sponge of absorbent in a half pint witch hazel, or rose water, and dabbing over it, also for results.—Advt.

MRS. DEEMER TO RESCUE HUSBAND

Arrives With Son From Los Angeles By Auto; Will Go to Big Bend.

Traveling by automobile, Mrs. Jesse Deemer arrived in El Paso at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning from Los Angeles, on her way to the Big Bend country to find and rescue the capture of her husband, the Boquillas merchant, who was robbed and kidnaped by Mexican bandits. Mrs. Deemer is accompanied by her son, Dickson Deemer, age 16, and left Los Angeles a week ago. They were compelled to stop over in El Paso to have some repairs made to the automobile in which they are traveling and plan to go on to the Big Bend country as soon as the repairs are made. Mrs. Deemer says she will go directly to the scene of her husband's capture and will employ scouts to trace the movements of the Mexican bandits from that point into Mexico. Mrs. Deemer does not think her husband has been put to death by the bandits and she says she feels confident that she will be able to find and rescue him.

NO VILLA BAND OF 2000 TROOPS

Gavira Denies Story of Villista Recruiting; Talks of American Bandits.

"You may say for me," said Gen. Gabriel Gavira in Juarez Tuesday, "that the story regarding the gathering of two thousand troops to the Villa standard in the state of Durango, is an absolute ruse, and in my opinion is the charter of interventionists. We have bandits in Mexico under arms, and our government is trying to wipe them out. In America you have bandits also, but they parade in palm beach suits. "Gen. Jacinto Trevino is moving north from Tuerzon," said the general, "with a large force of men to be used in establishing protection of your borders in order that there will not be further border raids. Gen. Trevino will be in command of the military forces of the entire state of Chihuahua. "Our forces have already occupied San Antonio, recently evacuated by the American troops, and we will extend our lines to Nampulqui. I understand that Gen. Pershing will fall back to Colonia Dublin as soon as sufficient Carranza troops arrive to occupy his position. "As to the number of troops that will occupy the state, I am unable to state, but it is the largest movement of troops ever made on Mexican soil."

Like Villa to 'The Old'. A new characterization was given Villa by Gen. Gavira, somewhat out of line with former ones such as "Napoleon of Mexico." The general called Villa El Cid Compendio. "The Cid of Mexico," who is able to keep fighting, at least in the newspapers, though he be dead and buried. The general then related how the Spanish in one of the last battles with the Moors of Spain three centuries ago strapped the dead body of the Cid on a horse, and rode to battle with the corpse leading them. G. H. TRAIN OFF TRACK; 3 HURT

No. 10 Strikes Broken Rail Near Ft. Hancock; Raiders' Story Disproved.

On account of a broken rail, five coaches of passenger train No. 10 on the G. H. & S. A. railroad left the tracks at 12:45 Tuesday morning at a point five miles east of Fort Hancock 54 miles east El Paso, slightly injuring three passengers, and shaking up scores of others. The fact that there were no serious injuries is attributed to the all steel equipment of the passenger cars which ploughed into the soft sand, at the side of the track and did not stop over. The derailment of the train led to a report that the spikes had been removed from a number of ties, but this was disproved Tuesday morning, when an official report was made stating that the accident was due to a broken rail. A train wrecking crew on board left El Paso upon receipt of news of the derailment and succeeded in clearing the tracks Tuesday morning so that there was no serious delay to other through trains. The injured persons, whose names were not known by the local offices of the railway, were not brought to El Paso, but continued their journey east.

WRECK WAS NOT THE WORK OF RAIDERS, OFFICIALS SAY

Houston, Texas, May 15.—Southern Pacific officials here say that an investigation shows that the wrecking of eastbound number 10 at Fort Hancock today was accidental and not the work of raiders. A telegram to the general offices said the three passengers, all negroes, were slightly injured.

CARRANZA APPROVES SCOTT AGREEMENT

(Continued from page 1.) not customary for posers in pursuit of one man to go patrolling the border and mountain artillery. The American officers finally succeeded in persuading the United States government had no intention other than its announced purpose.

Funeral Proposed for Motor Patrol. A new plan for patrolling the border has been recommended by Gen. Funston. He proposed a corps of 48 motorcycles, 30 tandem and 18 single machines. Secretary Baker said today he would probably approve the plan. Gen. Funston will make El Paso the base of operations for the motorcycle scouts. Use of motorcycles would enable patrols to cover territory more quickly and also enable officers to receive reports more expeditiously.

EDITOR 'LAFF' YOUNG PICKING UP 'WAR' DATA

Col. Lafayette Young, former United States senator from Iowa, is registered at the Hotel Paso del Norte, and will be here for a few days looking over the Mexican situation. This is the second "war" in which he would probably be known around Des Moines, Iowa, where he is editor of the Des Moines Capital, has been in. He was in the Spanish-American war and in the Russo-Balkan war, and his latest field was the present war zone of Europe. While in Europe, Col. Young was arrested by the Austrians and held as a spy, and that episode was said by the "most serious incident" in his patriotic intelligence that we know of. Col. Young was enthusiastic over El Paso and its future, saying that he expects El Paso in the next few years to reach the 250,000 mark, basing his prediction on the splendid geographical location of the city. Col. Young is accompanied by Carl M. Garver, a well known mining man of Des Moines. They will leave shortly for points along the border, and San Antonio.

NO ARRESTS YET MADE IN FT. BLISS FIRE PROBE

The board is composed of Lt. Col. W. A. Holbrook, president; Capt. A. P. Watts and Capt. Wm. Kelly. No arrests have been made according to statements of army officers today.

Funeral services for the late Maj. James A. Moore, 16th infantry, who died at Fort Bliss Sunday, will be held at the Peak undertaking chapel on Texas street, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the body will be shipped to West Point tonight for burial there. A detachment of the Seventh infantry, headed by the band of the 16th infantry, the dead major's regiment, will act as a guard of honor at the services and will escort the body to the union station. It is understood that Mrs. Moore is in Evanston, Ill., and probably will meet the body in Chicago and accompany it to the place of interment. Officers of the 16th infantry have ordered flowers sent from New York to West Point for the funeral.

This Eventful Week of White The Greatest Ever Held In El Paso For Low Prices, Quality & Variety

"THE POPULAR'S" White Events have been built up by uninterupted efforts during the last 13 years. Women have learned to depend on them, and to know certain established policies upon which they are based.

First is, above all things, QUALITY. We demand good taste, simplicity, neat finish and serviceable materials in the Undermuslins, Corsets, White Fabrics, Household and Table Linens we offer our customers. We avoid overelaboration and gingerbread garishness generally. Consequently much of the merchandise in these White Events is made to our especial order, to assure exactly the beautiful styles upon which we insist.

Next, the question of PRICE. In one year the cost of the muslins used in making underwear has advanced from 20 to 25 per cent, and there is no telling where it will stop. Corsets, White Fabrics and Linens have also advanced. In spite of this we have not raised the price by one cent on a single item, as compared with the May White Event of a year ago, or have we cheapened qualities. On the contrary, we have even LOWERED some of the prices! This is a great achievement, where every cent counts in the price of an article. By shopping around among other May White Events you will see exactly what we mean.

There are a good many new things in this Week of White that will delight women. To cite but two instances, there are many garments of the now extremely popular Washable Satin, and, in spite of the fact that the price of Crepe de Chine is climbing all the time, we are offering more Lingerie than ever of this favorite Silk at White Week prices.

CARRANZA FORCE NEAR 'BIG BEND'

Two Thousand Reported Converging on Territory Where Americans Are.

By EDWARD BEHR. Marathon Tex., May 15.—Two thousand Carranza troops were reported marching from three directions today toward the region south of the border where Col. Sibley's cavalry is searching for the bandits who held Jesse Deemer and Monroe Payne captive. The Mexican cavalry was said to be advancing in three columns. One of these was coming north from Sierra Mojada, having left Escalon on the Mexican Central railway almost a week ago. Another force, drawn from the Piedras Negras district, was reported paralleling the Rio Grande about 25 miles south of the stream. The third was marching from Cuatro Ciénegas and Monclova. This information was in circulation today in the Mexican quarter here. From what sources it came could not be learned. Army officers here had no advice regarding the movements of the Carranzistas and were inclined to doubt that they were in a position to threaten Col. Sibley's line of retirement from Mexico. There was no rift today in the curtain of silence, which has hung over the movements of the second punitive expedition since it crossed the river last week. Military officials were confident that some definite word from the column would reach here by evening over the army buzzer wire. It was pointed out that all must have gone well with the Americans, because, if a serious fight had occurred, couriers would have already brought the news to the field telegraph station near the river. The belief is growing that the expedition will be withdrawn in less than a week. The fate of Deemer and Payne is still unknown. Star has been any word of John Woodson and F. Balworth, who disappeared from the vicinity of Boquillas a day or two before the raid. It is not even known if they are being held by the Mexicans.
