AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Columbus, Ohio. "I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life." Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

every form of hypenated Americanism. Continuing, Col. Roosevelt said in part: "I do not speak of the hyphen when it is employed as a mere matter of convenience, although personally I like to avoid its use even in such manner. I speak of and condemn its use whenever it represents an effort to form political parties along racial lines or to bring pressure to bear on parties and politicians, not for American purposes, but in the interest of some group of voters of a certain national origin, or of the country from which they or their fathers came."

Americanism is not a matter of creed, birthplace or national descent, but of the soul and of the spirit. If the American has the right stuff in him, I care not a snap of my fingers whether he is Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant. I care not a snap of my fingers whether his ancestors came over in the Mayflower, or whether he was born, or if his parents were born, in Germany, Ireland, France, England, Russia, or Italy or any other country. "All I ask of the immigrant is that he shall be physically and intellectually fit for the work of the nation, and in good faith to become an American citizen."

A guest prize was presented to Miss Leighton, and the cut was won by Miss Gertrude Leighton. The high scores of the evening were made by Miss Grace Fleck and Fred Hardiker. Mrs. Wilkes's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robinson, Mrs. J. Rowland Gilchrist, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Karl Hatfield, Misses Marjorie McKay, Vera DeWitt, Mary Leighton, Miss Buckholz, Made Buckholz, Grace Fleck, Mary Lewis, Lucille Mahoney, Mild Connelly, Edith Mahoney, Madge Steef, Irene Robertson, Edna Robertson, and Gertrude Leighton. M. J. Robertson, Messrs. Everett Long, H. W. Crowder, Joe Bucky, Fred Hardiker, LeRoy Jarvis, C. P. Henry, F. S. Cundiff, William Chisum, Hoyt Smith, John Baldwin, L. Fleischer, and M. H. Barrow.

Represent Many Races. "We have different race strains. Our ancestors came from many different old world nationalities. It will spell ruin to this nation if these nationalities remain separated. From one another instead of being assimilated to the new and larger American life. "The children and children's children of all of us have to live here in this land together. Our children's children will intermarry with one another, your children's children, friends, and mine. They will be the citizens of some country. Even if they wished, they could not remain citizens of foreign countries. The attempt to keep them with a half citizenship, with a divided loyalty, split between devotion to the land in which they were born and in which their children are to dwell, is a land from which their fathers came, will merely mean that they fall to remain citizens of the old world land and yet do not get the benefit of being citizens of the new world land. "If any of our people born here go back to the land from which their fathers came, they find themselves inevitably looked upon as foreigners. The American of English descent who goes to England finds himself looked upon and treated as an outsider. His ways of thought are different from the ways of thought of the people of the land. "Ours the American Birthright. "The American birthright is the birthright of all of us, and it is a shame and a disgrace for any man to harbor it for so poor a mess of pottage as is implied in that kind of hyphenated citizenship which means that the individual tries to be a half-way citizen of two lands and forfeits the right to be a whole citizen of any land. "When our people were first brought to the stress of the Revolution, it was under the lead of men of many different races—English, Dutch, German, Irish, French, and they were all Americans and nothing else. Their loyalty to this country was wholehearted and undivided, and they sought to serve only the United States and not any of the countries from which their ancestors had come. "The same rule applies today. Throughout my life my closest personal and political friends have included men who were themselves born in, or whose ancestors were born in, Germany, Ireland or Scandinavia, just as they included men who were of old colonial American stock. "All Americans. "In my cabinet a descendant of one of Blucher's colonels sat side by side with a descendant of one of Napoleon's brothers. Another member of the cabinet had been born in Germany, and yet another member in Scotland. The parents of another member were born in Ireland. They were all of them Americans and nothing else. "The German-American Alliance, which is not a mere slush question which I am discussing, in the public press has branches of the German-American Alliance, so called, in different parts of the country, are attending to some things and conspicuous activities by threatening to vote against them, or by actually voting against them."

against them, when the German-American Alliance regards their action as unsatisfactory from the standpoint, not of the United States, but of Germany. "These branches of the Alliance openly treat the ground that they intend to share American politics in the interests, not of the United States, but of Germany. The German-American Alliance of Pennsylvania, for instance, as reported in the public press, states that it intends to show the leaders of the national conventions that they have to deal with a united German-American vote. Such a statement represents moral treason to the republic. It betrays the German-American Alliance in other parts of the country have used practically the same language. "Is Moral Treason. "It is moral treason to the United States for any of its citizens to act and to seek to make their governmental representatives act, not with reference to the interests of the United States, but of some foreign power. The German-American Alliance, in practice, is an anti-American alliance. Any such political organization, whether German-American, Irish-American or Scotch-American, is not a healthy element of the body politic. "I believe that the men thus acting not only do not represent but scandalously misrepresent the great majority of real Americans of German origin. I believe that the great mass of Americans of German origin are now, as they have always been, among the most patriotic and loyal citizens in the country. "Salvation Lies in United America. "The salvation of our people lies in having a nationalized and united America, ready for the tremendous tasks of both war and peace. I appeal to all our citizens as matters of honor that their forefathers came to keep this ever in mind, and to slum with scorn and contempt the sinister intrigues and sordid maneuvers who would seek to divide them along lines of creed, of birthplace, or of national origin. I ask them to remember that there is but one safe motto for all Americans, no matter whether they were born here or abroad, no matter from what land their ancestors came, and that is the simple and loyal motto, 'AMERICA FOR AMERICANS.'"
