

AMBULANCE MEN IN GOOD SHAPE

Massachusetts Militiamen Drawing Government and State Pay.

Massachusetts ambulances company No. 1, one of the three organizations which remain in El Paso from Massachusetts, has entered its second period of border field training.

Since August 1 this company has been ordered to entrain for home three times by each time the order has been vacated. The last time that the company was ordered home, it was packed and ready to entrain, it is said, when the canceled order came. The reason given for the cancellation is that the government is short of sanitary troops on the border, and as this company is one of the most efficient units in the field, it was thought best to leave it here for the present.

Since the last instruction of this company to ambulances company No. 1, of the United States army, in the middle of August, the company has not featured in any important drills, except the 15 day hike from October 1 to 15.

The physical condition of the men is excellent, only one man in the whole outfit being sick. Pvt. Harry G. Young is in the base hospital with measles. When the company arrived here, it had only 25 men, but it has 51 men now. Three recruits from Massachusetts have added to the strength of the company.

Pvt. John J. Foley, of south Boston, was discharged because of dependent relatives, and Pvt. Fred Crawford, of Waltham, Mass., was discharged on account of physical disability.

The state pay which the commonwealth of Massachusetts allows each enlisted man while serving his country on the border, is being paid regularly. The men have received their $10 apiece from the state for the last three months, it is said.

Leut. Fred W. O'Brien, of Brockton, Mass., is on a leave of absence. Leut. David L. Williams has been discharged for physical disability.

TEXAS GUARD OFFICER RELEASED UNDER BOND. Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 5.—Mal. C. O. Elliott, Fourth Texas infantry, was released here Monday night under $2000 bond after having returned here from Marfa, Texas, to answer a charge of embezzlement of postoffice funds while superintendent of the money order department of the local postoffice.

Mal. Elliott received a three month federal judgment against him, three counts charging false entries and one embezzlement of $1225.75.

OHIO TROOPS TO PASS IN REVIEW

Gen. Bell Will Be the Reviewing Officer of the Eleventh Division.

A review of the entire 11th division will be staged on the Fort Bliss mesa, Friday. Officials at military headquarters could not state just how long the review would last, but it is known that it will last the larger part of the day.

Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso district of the northern department of the United States army, will review the troops. Gen. Bell is the ranking officer of the 11th division.

Wednesday, the First Ohio brigade, (known as the second infantry brigade of the 11th division) will be thrown against an imaginary enemy on the Fort Bliss mesa. The First Ohio brigade is commanded by Brig. Gen. William V. McManis.

Thursday two of the following brigades will be pitted against each other: The First Ohio brigade, the Second Ohio brigade and the Michigan brigade.

It is understood that the troops will simulate firing while carrying out the routine of attack.

Leut. Douglas P. Handyside left El Paso Monday for his home in Cleveland, after having his resignation approved by the war department. Leut. Handyside was a member of the First Ohio squadron of cavalry.

3d. Edwin A. Hamilton, medical corps of the Fourth Ohio infantry, has had his resignation approved and will leave for his home in Columbus in the next few days.

POTTER BECOMES FIRST PROVOST GUARD SERGEANT. Provost marshal Capt. Charles McElliot Monday afternoon announced the appointment of sergeant Raymond C. Potter, of company G, 24th infantry, to succeed Sgt. Fred I. Young, as first sergeant of the provost guard. Sgt. Young, according to Capt. McElliot, has been honored the office of first sergeant of company I, of the Seventh regular infantry. He has been first sergeant in El Paso, and is known as one of the most efficient non-commissioned officers who have ever held the position in El Paso. Sgt. Potter was a first sergeant of the guard in the absence of Sgt. Young.

The position left vacant by the appointment of Sgt. Potter will be taken by sergeant McMillan, of the 20th regular infantry.

The Bienville cathedral clock is said to be composed of 25,000 pieces.

GEN. LOGAN TO STAY WEEK MORE

Maj. Hunes Gets Month More of Leave; Officers Return to Camp.

A week's extension on the leave of absence granted to Brig. Gen. Albert J. Logan, commanding the Second Pennsylvania brigade, is in Pittsburg on business.

A month's extension of the leave of absence granted to Maj. E. Lowry Hunes, adjutant of the Second Pennsylvania brigade, and who has been appointed United States district attorney at Pittsburg, has been approved on account of federal proceedings that Maj. Hunes is now making in Pittsburg.

The following officers have returned to their commands from leaves of absence: Maj. M. H. Taggart, inspector of the Seventh division; Capt. E. P. Schomaker, 16th Pennsylvania infantry; Capt. Richard W. Watson, assistant quartermaster of the Seventh division; Lieut. Howard M. Bates, company G, Sixth Pennsylvania infantry; and First Lieut. Henry C. Russell, of the Third North Carolina infantry.

Cot. Asher Miner, 13th Pennsylvania infantry, of Saratoga, has been compelled to leave for his home on a 26-day leave of absence on account of nervous indigestion.

The following leaves of absence have been approved: Capt. H. L. Verlin, troop I, First Pennsylvania cavalry, 29 days; Capt. J. A. Wagner, M. C., 13th Pennsylvania infantry, 29 days; Second Lieut. R. H. Forman, supply company, 15th Pennsylvania infantry, 14 days; Lieut. W. Sollen James, battery A, Third Pennsylvania field artillery, seven days; Capt. Benjamin R. Williams, company I, 18th Pennsylvania infantry, ten days; Capt. George L. Szek, company I, 18th Pennsylvania infantry, 20 days; Maj. Gordon Smith, lieutenant First North Carolina brigade, 20 days; Capt. Albert Cox, company B, Third North Carolina infantry, 20 days; Lieut. Merrill R. Nafis, company F, 15th Pennsylvania infantry, 20 days; Capt. Walter E. Papp, company M, Third North Carolina infantry, 20 days; Lieut. William P. Walters, First Pennsylvania cavalry, 29 days; Capt. O. P. Harvey, Third Pennsylvania field artillery, 15 days; First Lieut. George H. Rheinhart, supply company, Third Pennsylvania field artillery, 29 days; Capt. William B. Ravert, Third North Carolina infantry, 15 days; First Lieut. J. I. Slegall, company E, Third North Carolina infantry, 20 days; Capt. Sylvester Seavel, company L, 15th Pennsylvania infantry, ten days.

Capt. Charles W. Lloyd, machine gun company, of the Second Pennsylvania cavalry, has been detailed to the quartermaster of the seventh division.

FIVE YEAR SUSPENDED SENTENCES IMPOSED. Relating how they had come to a realization of their act nine days after they had obtained money by means of forged checks totaling $100, John W. Wilson and Jesse Wiscott, soldiers in company C of the 2d United States infantry, appeared before Judge W. D. Howe in the 11th district court Tuesday morning.

Two counts of forgery were charged against the defendants, one charging the forging of a check whereby they obtained $100 of the company funds from the First National bank, while the second count charged them with having obtained $50 in cash by selling a $75 draft.

In their defense, Wilson advised that he had written the check and that Wiscott cashed it. He said that on the day in question both men had been drinking, but that they were not intoxicated. He said that after they obtained the money they went to Chihuahua dressed in citizen's clothes.

At the termination of the testimony, the court imposed suspended sentences of five years on each of the men.

INFLENZA EPIDEMIC AMONG MICHIGAN SOLDIERS. Fifty Michigan soldiers, who live in their own company quarters, are being treated by the surgeon general of Michigan infantry, because the camp hospital is overcrowded, an epidemic of influenza being responsible for this situation.

SOLDIER SEEKS DISCHARGE AND THEN ENDS LIFE. Columbus, N. M., Dec. 5.—Harold E. Ward, a private of the 17th U. S. infantry, was found dead in his tent Monday with a bullet embedded in his brain, while on his side lay an unfinished letter to his father, a merchant of Newark, N. J., in which influence he brought to secure his release from the army. Officers investigating his case pronounced it suicide.

Private Edward F. Foster, of company K, New Mexico infantry, whose home was at Clovis, died Monday as the result of being thrown from the front of a motor truck and run over three days ago.

Sale Of Cut Glass

Beginning Wednesday Morning At 9 o'Clock At A Mere Fraction Of Its Real Worth $1.95

A MOST remarkable Sale of Genuine Cut Glass. Remarkable in that there are only five different kinds of pieces included in the assortment. But we have learned from experience that these are the most wanted kinds, for in former sales these pieces sold out almost instantaneously, and many of our patrons were disappointed.

Not so this time, for we have concentrated our purchases on these wanted styles. The Glass is what is commercially known as "Half Lead Blanks," and the patterns are entirely new and original. The assortment includes Water Tumblers in sets of six, French Flower Baskets, Vases and Water Pitchers. Crystal clear glass, in an engraved cutting that has all the fire and brilliancy of the most expensive kinds. This sale, coming as it does just a few weeks before Christmas, and in as much as Cut Glass makes ideal gifts, the sale should prove doubly interesting. CONDITIONS OF SALE—None reserved, none delivered. No C. O. D.'s, approvals or phone orders accepted. All sales are positively final. Sale begins on the mezzanine floor, promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. View our Window Display and you will be amazed.

“The Most Charming Toy City And Dolldom I Ever Saw”

-Writes A Woman Visitor: —“the sweetest, daintiest, prettiest place in El Paso; the Christmas spirit is there as I never felt it anywhere; and the queer part of it all is that I brought some of it home with me.” Here Is The Letter-

“I should like to send a personal letter of congratulation to the man at The Popular Dry Goods Co., who has got together the most charming Toy City I ever saw. It is the sweetest, daintiest, prettiest place in El Paso, and its effect is marvelous. The next time I feel blue I shall go down there and get one of those enthusiastic little maids to take me around again, and I should be a chronic sufferer indeed, if my grouch didn't go. “I have no words to describe how wonderful it is to me, and must with apologies take recourse to the old term atmosphere, which, however, would never fail to occur to people visiting your toys, for the difference between yours and others in atmosphere is like changing climates entirely. “The cleanliness and order of the place is wonderful. But nothing of beauty, of arrangement or attraction has been sacrificed in accomplishing this result. At first I thought the counters looked thin, but I grew to like the arrangement wonderfully. Many of the toy novelties are too funny and lovely for words, and worth far more than their selling prices. I found myself thinking the jacks in the boxes would never bob up again; and the clown with the inquisitive long nose, peeping out of the window is convulsing. What a splendid use you have made of the Christmas greens and pine cones. “No French display, nor any other display can touch your place. You have the Christmas spirit there as I never felt it anywhere, and the queer part of it all is that I brought some of it home with me. It seems much more a pleasure ground than a market, in fact, the thought of buying comes later. Even the little maids do not suggest it, but so prettily and sweetly say, ‘May I show you around, Madam’ and the way they love the thing is a joy.”

TOY CITY is open every day from 8:30 to 6 and everybody, young and old, married and single, optimist and pessimist, Grouchy Grim and Sunny Jim are welcome. —(New Basement)
